Dulles Hints Ike May Ask GIs' Use If Crisis In Middle East Acute

Marines Taken On Fatal March For 'Discipline'

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., April 10 (AP)—A Marine Corps court of inquiry heard testimony today from survivors of a forced night march into a treacherous tidal stream, ordered by a drill sergeant "to teach the platoon discipline."

Six of the 75 recruits who were led into the river near this "boot" training center by S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., drowned.

Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant who came here from Washington to make a personal investigation, said the forced march was "most unusual," and unique in his experience. He said McKeon had no authority for disciplinary action nor for scheduling such a march.

Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, the base commander, also said the march was unscheduled and called it "a most serious tragedy."

McKeon, 31, who will remain in custody until the inquiry is completed, issued a statement through his counsel stating that he led the men on the ill-fated march to teach them discipline.

Marine skin divers recovered the body of Thomas Curtis Hardeman, 20, of Vidalia, Ga., late today. The other five, whose bodies were recovered yesterday, were Donald Francis O'Shea, 18, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Francis Reilly, 18, of Clyde, N. Y.; Jerry Lamont Thomas, 17, of Alexandria, Va.; Leroy Thomoson, 18, of Brooklyn; and Norman Alfred Wood, 17, of Bay Shore, N. Y.

Gen. Pate ordered the court of inquiry to take testimony from all of the survivors. He said he felt that Marine regulations cover the situation thoroughly and that he believed the Corps could handle the investigation without a congressional inquiry.

Secretary Briefs Key Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles paved the way today for a possible request that Congress give President Eisenhower blank check authority to use American troops in the Middle East if war dangers become acute there.

The secretary, keeping in close touch with Eisenhower, met for 1½ hours with 14 key members of Congress at the State Department. Eight were Republicans and six were Democrats.

He reviewed with them the tense Middle East situation made even more serious by new Arab-Israeli bloodshed. It was reported that he skirted—but did not directly raise—the question of asking Congress for a Formosa-type resolution.

Ike Plans Major Address

The White House announced Eisenhower will make a major foreign policy address on April 21. It will be delivered in Washington before the American Society of Newspaper Editors and presumably will cover the Middle East crisis.

Focal point of Dulles' consultation with the congressional leaders was yesterday's White House statement that any aggressor in the Middle East will have to reckon with U. S. opposition.

The statement drew warm praise today from Britain and France, in strong contrast to the criticisms and goads toward action they have been beaming at Washington lately. But it did not halt bloodshed or bring the Arabs and Israelis into any friendlier attitude.

Helps Peace Mission Chances

Neither side commented immediately on it. It did, however, bolster the hand of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold who, together with U. N. Palestine truce chief E. L. M. Burns, launched his month-long on-the-spot survey of the Middle East tinderbox by making initial calls at Tel Aviv and Cairo.

The key members of Congress who met with Dulles came away telling reporters Dulles had not asked them for a resolution authorizing Eisenhower to act as he deemed fit in the Middle East dispute. Eisenhower got that kind of authority from Congress last year when war clouds gathered over Formosa. He still has it although the Chinese Communists never launched a feared invasion of the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, which the United States is sworn by treaty to protect.

Algeria Ambush Leaves 40 Dead

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 10 (AP)—Forty men died today in a rebel ambush of French troops in western Algeria, reports reaching here said.

One account listed 20 French soldiers killed and about 15 wounded. Another said 20 rebels were dead.

The ambush was sprung at Nedromah, near the Mediterranean in extreme western Algeria. It was the second reported today.

Earlier, French authorities said another battle touched off by the ambush of two truckloads of young French conscripts cost the lives of at least 140 men.

Delayed reports said the battle occurred last Thursday when rebels caught the conscripts 2½ miles from their post at Djuerf in east-central Algeria.

The fight raged for three hours before the French, aided by reinforcements, broke out of the ambush.

Twenty French soldiers were killed and 30 wounded. French authorities said the bodies of 60 rebel dead were found on the battlefield. They estimated another 60 were carried off by the retreating insurgents.

In Paris, the Cabinet will meet tomorrow to discuss calling up 70,000 to 80,000 reservists to reinforce the 200,000 or more French troops now in Algeria.

Little Girl Joins Her Twin In Death

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 10 (AP)—Two-year-old Kathleen Jo Van Lopik joined her twin sister Eileen in death today. The tiny, bright-eyed girls were victims of leukemia in what doctors called a million to one medical rarity.

Eileen Van Lopik died Feb. 26. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Van Lopik, had known since early November that she was suffering from the incurable blood disease.

Only two weeks before Eileen died the Van Lopiks learned that Kathleen also had leukemia.

Five Break Out Of York, Pa. Prison, Flee In Stolen Car

YORK, Pa., April 10 (AP)—Five prisoners overpowered an unarmed, 70-year-old guard and escaped today from the York County Prison in an automobile police said was stolen.

State Police said the men, ranging in ages from 20 to 51, were believed headed south in a sedan they said was stolen from a lot a few blocks from the downtown York prison.

Warden J. Clyde Sweeney said the men forced the guard to hand over the jail keys after they had threatened him with a knife, wielded by one of the prisoners. The guard, Simpson Mummant, was unharmed.

Sweeney said the five were believed headed toward Baltimore in the stolen red sedan.

State and city police set up roadblocks and an intensive search was under way between the York area and Baltimore.

The men left the prison by the front door shortly after noon and ran several blocks through an industrial section of the city to where the car was reported stolen.

Senators Probe Deals Of Wealthy Garment Maker

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Senators investigating a series of big uniform contracts for the armed forces today probed the mysterious financial transactions of Joseph (Joey) Abrams, a wealthy New York garment maker.

They received evidence that Abrams purchased almost six million dollars in negotiable bonds in recent years, a good many of them in the names of persons who swore they knew nothing about the deals.

Nathan Rosen, former head of a New York garment processing factory, testified he signed checks for $116,442.80 against money furnished by Abrams but that he didn't know at the time the checks were for bond purchases.

Blackmail Mentioned

Nathan Berger, a New York uniform maker, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee he got "the impression" that Abrams blackmailed Army employes after making gifts of bonds to them.

A third witness, John M. Cobb, now vice president of the Doherty Manufacturing Co., Lowell, Mass., testified he learned recently from government investigators that $308,000 worth of bonds were purchased in his name.

"I never purchased any bonds," he said.

Cobb told the senators Abrams gave him a job in 1951 as a sales representative for the Fabric Garments Co. He said that after his talk with FBI agents he felt Abrams "actually used me to cover up something."

Rosen also testified that, looking back on it now, he felt that Abrams used him as "a patsy."

Abrams Will Testify

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) said he intends to find out whether any of the bonds purchased by Abrams were used "as payoffs to government personnel" handling uniform contracts, or for income tax evasion.

Abrams is to testify later in the inquiry. He could not be reached for comment tonight.

Berger told the subcommittee that some manufacturers are bidding "less than a fair price" for government uniform contracts to "cut legitimate merchants out."

Still another witness, Abraham B. Sharpe, New York, refused to state whether he ever received any of the $24,000 in U.S. Treasury bonds the subcommittee contends were bought in his name in 1951.

Stevenson Boards Plane For Florida

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson left by plane today for Florida, and another round of campaigning, after casting his vote in the Illinois Democratic primary.

The former Illinois governor made a weekend effort to stem a write-in vote move for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Stevenson was the 81st person to vote this morning at his polling place in the Vernon Fire House at Half Day, a hamlet near his suburban country home northwest of Chicago.

Stevenson left before tallying of the Illinois vote began. He said last night in a final television appeal for support that "this one means a great deal to me." Earlier, he said he expected Kefauver who defeated him in the Minnesota primary, would get "a substantial" write-in vote, because of an active telephone campaign by the senator's backers downstate.

UN Secretary Opens Peace Mission Talks

Conferences Held By Hammarskjold In Tel Aviv, Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, April 10 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold settled to on-the-spot talks tonight in his effort to still the Arab-Israeli violence disturbing the peace of the Middle East.

Amid reports of fresh incidents, the U.N. secretary general flew first to Tel Aviv and then to Cairo on the special peace mission he undertook by unanimous order of the Security Council.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the Canadian chief of the U.N. Truce Commission, met Hammarskjold on his arrival in Tel Aviv from Beirut, Lebanon, and accompanied him here.

Secretary, Nasser To Meet

Hammarskjold talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and arranged to meet premier Gamal Abdel Nasser tomorrow. A spokesman said the secretary general's plans are flexible, but he expects to remain here until Monday and then return to Israel for consultations with Premier David Ben-Gurion's government.

It was emphasized that the official talks are opening with Egypt, leader of the Arab bloc, though Hammarskjold and Burns had luncheon in Tel Aviv with three Israeli Foreign Office officials.

A U.N. spokesman said the Israelis had joined the two "on a social basis" and Hammarskjold did not engage in official conversation with them.

Arab Cooperation Urged

The 9-nation Arab League Political Committee, meeting in Cairo, today urged all Arab states to cooperate with Hammarskjold. In a recommendation to be submitted to the League's Council tomorrow, the committee said Arabs should aid the U.N. chief to learn the truth about the Middle East.

Egypt and Israel were still exchanging charges and Arab lines appeared tightening. This was indicated in a vow by Jordan's King Hussein and Syrian President Skukri Kuwatly before the Damascus tomb of Sultan Saladin, 13th century conqueror of the crusaders, to devote "all our powers for the defense of the holy land."

Israelis Report 2 Raiders Slain

JERUSALEM, April 10 (AP)—Two more Arab commandos were reported killed in Israel today as Israeli troops continued a mop-up of suicide squads. A third was wounded and captured.

Egypt meanwhile accused the Israelis of two hostile acts, including a plane flight over the Egyptian-held Gaza strip and an invasion of the border area by an Israeli army patrol.

Israeli charges of the day centered on the roving commando bands, called fedayeen, raiding in southern Israel. Authorities said 10 more settlements were attacked Monday night—the third night of such strikes—and one Israeli and one raider were killed.

The two killed today were members of two separate bands run down by Israeli army patrols near the Jordan border. There was no indication of how large the bands were or what happened to the others.

Thousands Of Pickets Surround Macy's But Business Continues

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Pickets by the thousands ringed the fabulous Macy department store in mid-Manhattan today in a strike called by a union representing most of the store's 8,000 employes.

Business, however, went on more or less as usual. Nonunion and supervisory employes manned the counters—albeit a bit awkwardly in some cases.

While jeers and boos of the parading pickets discouraged some would-be customers from entering the portals of the world's largest department store, many others went right on in.

"Naturally," said a store spokesman, "business isn't going to be quite the same as on a normal Tuesday."

The giant Macy's is a 12-floor institution occupying what would be two ordinary city blocks. It sells everything from hardware to perfumes and many days takes in more than a million dollars.

The strike was called at 12:01 a.m. today by local 18 of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers Union. The union's contract with the store expired April 1 and a new agreement could not be reached.

Pickets began pouring into the Herald Square area around the store during the predawn hours, and by noon there were an estimated 2,500 to 4,000 of them.

There were occasional scuffles along the picket line, but hordes of police were on hand to keep things generally under control. Often the pickets shouted "Shop at Gimbels, Shop at Gimbels!"

Gimbels is Macy's big department store competitor, located a block away. The two stores have carried on a friendly feud for years.

Crooner Uninjured

Singer Nat King Cole Attacked At Concert

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 10 (AP) — Nat King Cole, famed Negro singer, was attacked by a group of white men tonight as he sang from the stage of Birmingham's Municipal Auditorium.

Cole was singing the second of two numbers in a concert billed for "all-white" customers. He was to give a second concert later for Negro patrons in segregated Birmingham.

Cole's manager, Bob Schwartz, said the Negro musician was not injured.

"A physician already has examined Cole and he is not injured. Thank God for that," said Schwartz.

Police Grab Attackers

About six white men rushed the singer-pianist, three of them mounting the high stage and plunging over the footlights, knocking Cole and the microphone to the floor.

About 10 policemen rushed from the wings of the auditorium, grabbing the attackers. Three or four were taken to police headquarters. Their names were not immediately known.

Shortly after the attack, Cole returned to the stage amidst the cheering of a crowd estimated at more than 3,500 persons.

"I just came here to entertain you," he said. "That was what I thought you wanted. I was born here. Those folks hurt my back. I cannot continue, because I have to go to a doctor."

Native Of Montgomery

Cole is a native of Montgomery. His all-Negro band played before a mixed audience of 7,000 persons at a charity performance in Mobile last night.

His manager later said he was not injured physically.

"The boy was stunned," said Schwartz. "You know on a stage like that, you can't see beyond the bright flood of the footlights. He was stunned. He didn't know what hit him. Momentarily blinded, he had no idea what hit him."

The second concert was postponed.

'Entirely Possible' Eisenhower Won't Run, Butler Says

ST. LOUIS, April 10 (AP)—Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, said today it is "entirely possible" President Eisenhower won't seek re-election in November.

"A lot could happen between now and August," Butler said in an interview here. "It is entirely possible he might not be a candidate." Butler was in St. Louis for a speaking engagement.

"It is automatically in the minds of the people what would happen if he should be stricken with another heart attack," Butler said. "It will be a matter of grave concern who is nominated as his running mate."

Ike To Approve Power Project

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters announced today he will sign tomorrow a bill authorizing construction of a 760-million-dollar system of power dams and irrigation works in the Upper Colorado River basin.

The President will put his name to the measure at 8:45 a.m. in his small office above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, noted that the Upper Colorado River project "is one of the things the President recommended and worked for."

Third Man Sought In Holdup Captured

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—A parole violator sought as the third man in a Flint, Mich., bank robbery was seized by FBI agents today cowering unarmed in a closet.

The man captured was William Radkay, 43. He was quoted as saying he would not be taken alive after escaping a police trap Saturday.

Radkay and two men identified as John Alkes, 30, and George Ballin, 45, both of Chicago, were wanted for the robbery of $62,204 at the Citizens Commercial and Savings Branch Bank in Flint Friday.

Alkes and Ballin were captured Saturday at Flint. The money has been recovered.

Canada Bars Robeson

TORONTO, April 10 (AP)—Baritone Paul Robeson has been denied permission to enter Canada for a concert tour, his booking agency said today.

The ban also applies to the singer's accompanist, pianist Alan Booth, it was reported.

GOP Substitute Farm Bill Faces Big Test Today

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Republican House leaders today sought to rally wavering GOP ranks behind a substitute farm bill which President Eisenhower will sign.

Following a two-hour strategy meeting of GOP House members, Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said a final decision still has to be reached on the form of a substitute for the Senate-House compromise coming to a showdown vote in the House tomorrow.

Neither Martin nor other leaders would predict the outcome of tomorrow's voting.

GOP Defeat Forecast

But Rep. Hope of Kansas, ranking Republican on the House Agriculture Committee, told newsmen that unless there was a big and unexpected shift in the Democratic vote the Republican move to make basic changes in the farm bill would be beaten.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) said after the conference that the GOP substitute "will be beaten" and the compromise measure "will be passed."

"I am hopeful sanity will prevail," was all that Martin would say about the substitute's chances.

Flexible Supports Sought

Although Martin reported the GOP strategy had not been worked out in detail, the GOP proposal to be submitted to the House tomorrow is understood to call for a return to the flexible price support program in effect for the 1955 crop. Under this, prices of major crops and dairy products are supported by the government at from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

The Senate-House conference bill, pronounced unacceptable by the administration, calls for reinstatement of rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity. The bill must still be acted upon by Senate and House.

Kefauver, Not On Democratic Ballot, Picks Up Write-Ins

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson polled more votes than President Eisenhower tonight as returns accumulated from the Illinois presidential preference primary.

Democrat Stevenson had a big advantage in his party's stronghold, Cook County (Chicago), while the President set the pace in normally Republican downstate.

Eisenhower carried Illinois with almost 55 per cent of the total vote when he and Stevenson were matched in the 1952 presidential election.

Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and backed by his party's state organization, was listed alone on the Democratic ballot. But Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who did not campaign in Illinois, picked up write-in votes.

201 Write-Ins For Kefauver

Returns from 2,955 of the state, 9,511 precincts gave Stevenson 306,788. Kefauver received 1,237 write-in votes in 821 precincts.

Apparently in many polling places the Kefauver write-ins were not being counted early but they will be added up in the official canvass.

On the GOP ballot Eisenhower was opposed by Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Lar Daly, a perennial office seeker. Knowland is supporting Eisenhower but could not remove his name from the ballot after the President announced his decision to seek a second term.

Returns from 2,250 precincts gave Eisenhower 99,582, Knowland 5,610 and Daly 2,894.

Gov. Stratton In Front

Gov. William G. Stratton, the state's No. 1 Republican, moved well out ahead of four challengers in his bid for nomination for a second term. He was opposed by State Treasurer Warren Wright, Lar Daly, Anthony Polley of Chicago and Sidney Ward of Benton.

Returns from 945 precincts gave Stratton 29,701, Wright 8,399, Daly 2,733, Polley 1,811 and Ward 1,529.

Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer, backed by the Democratic organization, held a lead over Morris B. Sachs, Chicago's city treasurer, in the contest for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from 1,652 precincts gave Paschen 123,543 and Sachs 73,224.

North Korean Reds, ROKs Exchange Fire

SEOUL, South Korea, Wednesday, April 11 (AP)—The South Korean government announced today "more than five" Communist troops crossed the truce line in Korea's demilitarized zone early yesterday and exchanged fire with a South Korea outpost.

No casualties were reported.

In Tokyo, a spokesman said the U. S. Far East Command had received the same report. He said a joint observer team, which includes elements from both the Communist and Allied sides, is investigating the incident.

Retail Sales Climb

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Commerce Department today estimated retail sales advanced during March to $15,800,000,000.

Week-Long Alert In July To Test Nation's Defenses

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—A week-long war drill in July will test America's readiness to meet a swift and far-ranging nuclear assault on scores of cities, air bases and atomic installations.

The Office of Defense Mobilization announced today an "Operation Alert 1956" will be held July 20-26 on almost a continental scale.

Canada will participate in the simulated emergency, which will see President Eisenhower and key government personnel evacuating Washington for secret relocation sites.

The combination civil defense and government evacuation test will be similar to last year's exercise in which Eisenhower and federal officials directed government affairs from hideaways outside the capital.

A total of 76 areas in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone will be "targets" for 125 nuclear bombs. In addition, Canada is expected to assume attacks on its key cities, though it hasn't yet disclosed the extent of its participation.

The maneuvers will assume that each target is hit by from one to six bombs having destructive power equal to from 20,000 to five million tons of TNT.

ODM said the alert will come at 10 a.m. EST July 20 and that the "attack" will last five hours. The continental United States will get advance warnings ranging from 1 hour 40 minutes to 3 hours 50 minutes. The mock raids will come without warning in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Today's Chuckle

"What," roared the husband to his wife, "Me buy a new car? Do you think automobiles grow on trees?"

"Of course not, silly," replied the wife. "Everybody knows they come from plants."

Abrams Will Testify

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) said he intends to find out whether any of the bonds purchased by Abrams were used "as payoffs to government personnel" handling uniform contracts, or for income tax evasion.

Abrams is to testify later in the inquiry. He could not be reached for comment tonight.

Berger told the subcommittee that some manufacturers are bidding "less than a fair price" for government uniform contracts to "cut legitimate merchants out."

Still another witness, Abraham B. Sharpe, New York, refused to state whether he ever received any of the $24,000 in U.S. Treasury bonds the subcommittee contends were bought in his name in 1951.

Stevenson Boards Plane For Florida

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson left by plane today for Florida, and another round of campaigning, after casting his vote in the Illinois Democratic primary.

The former Illinois governor made a weekend effort to stem a write-in vote move for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Stevenson was the 81st person to vote this morning at his polling place in the Vernon Fire House at Half Day, a hamlet near his suburban country home northwest of Chicago.

Stevenson left before tallying of the Illinois vote began. He said last night in a final television appeal for support that "this one means a great deal to me." Earlier, he said he expected Kefauver who defeated him in the Minnesota primary, would get "a substantial" write-in vote, because of an active telephone campaign by the senator's backers downstate.

UN Secretary Opens Peace Mission Talks

Conferences Held By Hammarskjold In Tel Aviv, Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, April 10 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold settled to on-the-spot talks tonight in his effort to still the Arab-Israeli violence disturbing the peace of the Middle East.

Amid reports of fresh incidents, the U.N. secretary general flew first to Tel Aviv and then to Cairo on the special peace mission he undertook by unanimous order of the Security Council.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the Canadian chief of the U.N. Truce Commission, met Hammarskjold on his arrival in Tel Aviv from Beirut, Lebanon, and accompanied him here.

Secretary, Nasser To Meet

Hammarskjold talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and arranged to meet premier Gamal Abdel Nasser tomorrow. A spokesman said the secretary general's plans are flexible, but he expects to remain here until Monday and then return to Israel for consultations with Premier David Ben-Gurion's government.

It was emphasized that the official talks are opening with Egypt, leader of the Arab bloc, though Hammarskjold and Burns had luncheon in Tel Aviv with three Israeli Foreign Office officials.

A U.N. spokesman said the Israelis had joined the two "on a social basis" and Hammarskjold did not engage in official conversation with them.

Arab Cooperation Urged

The 9-nation Arab League Political Committee, meeting in Cairo, today urged all Arab states to cooperate with Hammarskjold. In a recommendation to be submitted to the League's Council tomorrow, the committee said Arabs should aid the U.N. chief to learn the truth about the Middle East.

Egypt and Israel were still exchanging charges and Arab lines appeared tightening. This was indicated in a vow by Jordan's King Hussein and Syrian President Shukri Kuwatly before the Damascus tomb of Sultan Saladin, 13th century conqueror of the crusaders, to devote "all our powers for the defense of the holy land."

Israelis Report 2 Raiders Slain

JERUSALEM, April 10 (AP)—Two more Arab commandos were reported killed in Israel today as Israeli troops continued a mop-up of suicide squads. A third was wounded and captured.

Egypt meanwhile accused the Israelis of two hostile acts, including a plane flight over the Egyptian-held Gaza strip and an invasion of the border area by an Israeli army patrol.

Israeli charges of the day centered on the roving commando bands, called fedayeen, raiding in southern Israel. Authorities said 10 more settlements were attacked Monday night—the third night of such strikes—and one Israeli and one raider were killed.

The two killed today were members of two separate bands run down by Israeli army patrols near the Jordan border. There was no indication of how large the bands were or what happened to the others.

Thousands Of Pickets Surround Macy's But Business Continues

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Pickets by the thousands ringed the fabulous Macy department store in mid-Manhattan today in a strike called by a union representing most of the store's 8,000 employes.

Business, however, went on more or less as usual. Nonunion and supervisory employes manned the counters—albeit a bit awkwardly in some cases.

While jeers and boos of the parading pickets discouraged some would-be customers from entering the portals of the world's largest department store, many others went right on in.

"Naturally," said a store spokesman, "business isn't going to be quite the same as on a normal Tuesday."

The giant Macy's is a 12-floor institution occupying what would be two ordinary city blocks. It sells everything from hardware to perfumes and many days takes in more than a million dollars.

The strike was called at 12:01 a.m. today by local 18 of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers Union. The union's contract with the store expired April 1 and a new agreement could not be reached.

Pickets began pouring into the Herald Square area around the store during the predawn hours, and by noon there were an estimated 2,500 to 4,000 of them.

There were occasional scuffles along the picket line, but hordes of police were on hand to keep things generally under control. Often the pickets shouted "Shop at Gimbels, Shop at Gimbels!"

Gimbels is Macy's big department store competitor, located a block away. The two stores have carried on a friendly feud for years.

Crooner Uninjured

Singer Nat King Cole Attacked At Concert

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 10 (AP) — Nat King Cole, famed Negro singer, was attacked by a group of white men tonight as he sang from the stage of Birmingham's Municipal Auditorium.

Cole was singing the second of two numbers in a concert billed for "all-white" customers. He was to give a second concert later for Negro patrons in segregated Birmingham.

Cole's manager, Bob Schwartz, said the Negro musician was not injured.

"A physician already has examined Cole and he is not injured. Thank God for that," said Schwartz.

Police Grab Attackers

About six white men rushed the singer-pianist, three of them mounting the high stage and plunging over the footlights, knocking Cole and the microphone to the floor.

About 10 policemen rushed from the wings of the auditorium, grabbing the attackers. Three or four were taken to police headquarters. Their names were not immediately known.

Shortly after the attack, Cole returned to the stage amidst the cheering of a crowd estimated at more than 3,500 persons.

"I just came here to entertain you," he said. "That was what I thought you wanted. I was born here. Those folks hurt my back. I cannot continue, because I have to go to a doctor."

Native Of Montgomery

Cole is a native of Montgomery. His all-Negro band played before a mixed audience of 7,000 persons at a charity performance in Mobile last night.

His manager later said he was not injured physically.

"The boy was stunned," said Schwartz. "You know on a stage like that, you can't see beyond the bright flood of the footlights. He was stunned. He didn't know what hit him. Momentarily blinded, he had no idea what hit him."

The second concert was postponed.

'Entirely Possible' Eisenhower Won't Run, Butler Says

ST. LOUIS, April 10 (AP)—Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, said today it is "entirely possible" President Eisenhower won't seek re-election in November.

"A lot could happen between now and August," Butler said in an interview here. "It is entirely possible he might not be a candidate." Butler was in St. Louis for a speaking engagement.

"It is automatically in the minds of the people what would happen if he should be stricken with another heart attack," Butler said. "It will be a matter of grave concern who is nominated as his running mate."

Ike To Approve Power Project

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters announced today he will sign tomorrow a bill authorizing construction of a 760-million-dollar system of power dams and irrigation works in the Upper Colorado River basin.

The President will put his name to the measure at 8:45 a.m. in his small office above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Third Man Sought In Holdup Captured

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—A parole violator sought as the third man in a Flint, Mich., bank robbery was seized by FBI agents today cowering unarmed in a closet.

The man captured was William Radkay, 43. He was quoted as saying he would not be taken alive after escaping a police trap Saturday.

Radkay and two men identified as John Alkes, 30, and George Ballin, 45, both of Chicago, were wanted for the robbery of $62,204 at the Citizens Commercial and Savings Branch Bank in Flint Friday.

Alkes and Ballin were captured Saturday at Flint. The money has been recovered.

Canada Bars Robeson

TORONTO, April 10 (AP)—Baritone Paul Robeson has been denied permission to enter Canada for a concert tour, his booking agency said today.

The ban also applies to the singer's accompanist, pianist Alan Booth, it was reported.

GOP Substitute Farm Bill Faces Big Test Today

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Republican House leaders today sought to rally wavering GOP ranks behind a substitute farm bill which President Eisenhower will sign.

Following a two-hour strategy meeting of GOP House members, Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said a final decision still has to be reached on the form of a substitute for the Senate-House compromise coming to a showdown vote in the House tomorrow.

Neither Martin nor other leaders would predict the outcome of tomorrow's voting.

GOP Defeat Forecast

But Rep. Hope of Kansas, ranking Republican on the House Agriculture Committee, told newsmen that unless there was a big and unexpected shift in the Democratic vote the Republican move to make basic changes in the farm bill would be beaten.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) said after the conference that the GOP substitute "will be beaten" and the compromise measure "will be passed."

"I am hopeful sanity will prevail," was all that Martin would say about the substitute's chances.

Flexible Supports Sought

Although Martin reported the GOP strategy had not been worked out in detail, the GOP proposal to be submitted to the House tomorrow is understood to call for a return to the flexible price support program in effect for the 1955 crop. Under this, prices of major crops and dairy products are supported by the government at from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

The Senate-House conference bill, pronounced unacceptable by the administration, calls for reinstatement of rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity. The bill must still be acted upon by Senate and House.

Eisenhower Trails Man He Beat In 1952

Kefauver, Not On Democratic Ballot, Picks Up Write-Ins

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson polled more votes than President Eisenhower tonight as returns accumulated from the Illinois presidential preference primary.

Democrat Stevenson had a big advantage in his party's stronghold, Cook County (Chicago), while the President set the pace in normally Republican downstate.

Eisenhower carried Illinois with almost 55 per cent of the total vote when he and Stevenson were matched in the 1952 presidential election.

Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and backed by his party's state organization, was listed alone on the Democratic ballot. But Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who did not campaign in Illinois, picked up write-in votes.

201 Write-Ins For Kefauver

Returns from 2,955 of the state, 9,511 precincts gave Stevenson 306,788. Kefauver received 1,237 write-in votes in 821 precincts.

Apparently in many polling places the Kefauver write-ins were not being counted early but they will be added up in the official canvass.

On the GOP ballot Eisenhower was opposed by Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Lar Daly, a perennial office seeker. Knowland is supporting Eisenhower but could not remove his name from the ballot after the President announced his decision to seek a second term.

Returns from 2,250 precincts gave Eisenhower 99,582, Knowland 5,610 and Daly 2,894.

Gov. Stratton In Front

Gov. William G. Stratton, the state's No. 1 Republican, moved well out ahead of four challengers in his bid for nomination for a second term. He was opposed by State Treasurer Warren Wright, Lar Daly, Anthony Polley of Chicago and Sidney Ward of Benton.

Returns from 945 precincts gave Stratton 29,701, Wright 8,399, Daly 2,733, Polley 1,811 and Ward 1,529.

Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer, backed by the Democratic organization, held a lead over Morris B. Sachs, Chicago's city treasurer, in the contest for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from 1,652 precincts gave Paschen 123,543 and Sachs 73,224.

North Korean Reds, ROKs Exchange Fire

SEOUL, South Korea, Wednesday, April 11 (AP)—The South Korean government announced today "more than five" Communist troops crossed the truce line in Korea's demilitarized zone early yesterday and exchanged fire with a South Korea outpost.

No casualties were reported.

In Tokyo, a spokesman said the U. S. Far East Command had received the same report. He said a joint observer team, which includes elements from both the Communist and Allied sides, is investigating the incident.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Commerce Department today estimated retail sales advanced during March to $15,800,000,000.

Week-Long Alert In July To Test Nation's Defenses

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—A week-long war drill in July will test America's readiness to meet a swift and far-ranging nuclear assault on scores of cities, air bases and atomic installations.

The Office of Defense Mobilization announced today an "Operation Alert 1956" will be held July 20-26 on almost a continental scale.

Canada will participate in the simulated emergency, which will see President Eisenhower and key government personnel evacuating Washington for secret relocation sites.

The combination civil defense and government evacuation test will be similar to last year's exercise in which Eisenhower and federal officials directed government affairs from hideaways outside the capital.

A total of 76 areas in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone will be "targets" for 125 nuclear bombs. In addition, Canada is expected to assume attacks on its key cities, though it hasn't yet disclosed the extent of its participation.

The maneuvers will assume that each target is hit by from one to six bombs having destructive power equal to from 20,000 to five million tons of TNT.

ODM said the alert will come at 10 a.m. EST July 20 and that the "attack" will last five hours. The continental United States will get advance warnings ranging from 1 hour 40 minutes to 3 hours 50 minutes. The mock raids will come without warning in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Johnson Is Willing To Become Texas' Favorite Son Candidate

Senator Appeals For Party Unity

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson said tonight he is willing to become Texas' favorite son presidential candidate but "I will have no part of any move that can create tensions and turmoil" in the Democratic party.

In an appeal for party unity, Johnson told Texans in a radio-television broadcast he wants a 56-vote delegation chosen that will "abide by the decision of the majority" at the August Democratic convention and support that convention's nominee.

In saying that he was willing to become a favorite son candidate and to head that delegation, Johnson said he had "made it clear to the leaders of other states that I am seeking none of their delegates."

"I am a Texan seeking to serve the people of Texas," he said. "I will have no part of any move that can create tensions and turmoil in our party."

This was an obvious notice to colleagues that Johnson would not at this time go along with any effort to rally the South around him in its protest against the Supreme Court's decision against school segregation.

This issue holds the threat of a convention split if advocates of desegregation win the adoption of a platform calling for forceful enforcement of the court's opinion and nominate a candidate who supports such action.

Johnson, who has said that the issue is one with which the states must deal, said he wants the Democratic party to be "strong and unified because it is the only instrument through which we can act effectively for our nation."

The Texas senator, who is the Senate's majority leader, appeared to leave the door open for Gov. Allan Shivers to try to win a place on the delegation if Shivers wants it.

Shivers backed President Eisenhower in 1952 and has indicated he will not support any of the present major contenders for the Democratic nomination this year. Johnson supported Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, as did House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex). Eisenhower carried Texas.

Rayburn has made it plain he does not want Shivers on the Texas delegation. Shivers, who has recommended that Texas Democrats vote on a proposal affirming opposition to integration and other federal acts he says "encroach" on state's rights, is leading a statewide fight against Rayburn for control of the Texas delegation.

Two factions of the party, one led openly by Shivers and the other by Rayburn, are ringing doorbells in every one of the state's 4,000-plus precincts in an effort to win control of the May 22 state convention.

TELLS OF BOND SALES — Gregory Harrington, New York bond trader, tells the Senate investigations subcommittee he sold almost six million dollars worth of bonds to Joey Abrams, a New York garment maker, during a two-year period ending in 1953. Ike Golfs, Plans Foreign Policy Speech April 21

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower golfed today, arranged to make major foreign policy address April 21, and got a fresh report on the powder keg situation in the Middle East. He also urged Congress to act speedily on a six - point program designed to strengthen "our power for peace" through attraction of more Americans to military careers.

The President flew to Augusta from Washington yesterday for a week of golf mixed with work.

Before going out on the course Eisenhower handled a round of official business which included a telephone conference with Secretary of State Dulles in Washington on U. S. and U. N. efforts to put an end to Israeli-Arab strife.

Meanwhile, the President's vacation headquarters announced he will make a major foreign policy address in Washington April 21, concluding the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The President also sent to Congress a letter to him from Secretary of Defense Wilson saying:

"The loss of trained personnel continues to be the most extravagantly expensive and disruptive obstacle to the strengthening of our armed forces today."

Eisenhower and Wilson prodded Congress to complete action on legislation designed to:

1. Provide a better system of service personnel survivor benefits.

2. Assure medical care for all dependents of military personnel.

3. Increase to about 50 per cent the number of Army and Air Force officers with regular - officer status.

4. Provide career incentives for medical and dental officers and nurses.

Air Force Plans Nuclear Reactor

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Air Force today disclosed plans to build its own nuclear reactor facility—another step in a speed-up of efforts to develop a nuclear-powered warplane.

The announcement that an Air Force reactor will be set up at the Wright Air Development Center, Dayton, Ohio, was the third in 24 hours to herald new moves to give wings to atomic power.

Two contracts for development of an airframe to carry an atomic engine were announced yesterday.

The Dayton reactor, to cost 7½ million dollars, will be used to test materials, parts and systems designed for use in A-powered planes. Construction will start in June with completion expected by January, 1958.

Atomic engine and airframe projects now being carried out by private firms will be tied closely to the Dayton operations.

The Air Force reactor will feature a specially-designed steel dome planned to give maximum safety in the remote event that any part of the test system fails.

Estes Says He'll Go To Conclave "Front-Runner"

JERSEY CITY, N.J., April 10 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver Democratic presidential hopeful, predicted today "I will go to the convention as front-runner and I will get the nomination."

Kefauver, winding up a day-long run through Hudson County which is a fortress of the Democratic opposition to his slate of convention delegates, also said:

"I think we are going to make a good showing in New Jersey. I think I am running strong all over the state . . . I am going to do surprisingly well in New Jersey" in next Tuesday's primary.

He got 154,000 votes in the 1952 N.J. balloting.

Kefauver again said he was behind Adlai Stevenson in support at this time but added that New Jersey "will be a help on the way up." The Democratic convention is in August at Chicago.

Kefauver predicted that he would make a "very creditable showing" in Hudson County.

He said he had found enthusiasm for his candidacy even though the potent John V. Kenny following is supporting the state organization's 36 - vote delegate slate over that of Kefauver.

Kefauver spent last night in Jersey City and started out early today, breakfasting with supporters, shaking hands on street corners, riding through the streets in an open car and making talks.

At one point, he called on a leader of the opposition and won a friendly reception—but no support.

Not Communist, Reporter Says

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — William Goldman, a New York Daily Mirror employe for about 14 years, swore today he is not a Communist now but he refused to tell Senate investigators whether he was on Jan. 1, 1953.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee identified Goldman as a reporter for the Mirror. At the public hearing he was not asked the nature of his job.

In New York, the Mirror said Goldman had submitted his resignation to Editor Glenn Neville.

The Senate group called Goldman at hearings which it described as a continuation of its study of the workings of the Communist party.

Another witness, Cecil Lubell of Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y., refused to say whether he is a Communist. Lubell testified he is "a men's wear consultant" and has worked for a number of trade publications in that field.

More Foreign Aid Urged By Truman

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today said the United States should "move forward with fresh vigor and enthusiasm" in granting foreign aid.

Truman sent a message to a workshop on foreign aid saying that "helping people to help themselves is in the best tradition of Americanism."

The one-day workshop is sponsored by the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development.

LEONARDO, N. J., April 10 (AP)—The Navy encountered spring and poetry today.

Bruce Nicholas, a radarman assigned to the ammunition ship Great Sitkin, tied up here, was due back April 13 from a 10-day leave.

"Well, here at home it's spring,

"I've met a thing that changed my mind.
"Now I'm in love as ne'er before,
"So, please sir, grant me 20 more."

The skipper, Capt. N. D. Gage, Newport, N. H., couldn't give him 20 but granted another 10. He replied to Nicholas:

"Comprehend your yen.
"Can give you but 10,
"On the 23rd to end."

Precautions Taken On Cyprus By British

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 10 (AP)—British authorities clamped rigid military control on Nicosia's busy International Airport today as a safeguard against rebel sabotage.

Royal Air Force men took full charge of airport operations and a strict security ring was thrown around the field. X-ray equipment was installed to scan luggage, mail and even passengers' clothing for time bombs.

"From now on, no passenger, no item of baggage, no item of mail will pass through without undergoing very secure scrutiny," a spokesman said.

Except for a few immigration officials, all Cypriot employes were barred from an area around the terminal buildings. Airmen took over refueling, porter services marshalling of planes and fire duties.

Top-Bracket Russian Police Official Purged

MOSCOW, April 10 (AP)—A Soviet newspaper disclosed today that Lavrenti F. Tsanov, long considered one of the top men in Russia's security police, has been purged in White Russia.

(The latest reference to Tsanov reaching the West listed him as a lieutenant general in the security police).

An article by White Russian Justice Minister Ivan Vetrov called Tsanov an "enemy of the Soviet state who engaged in nefarious subversive work."

Doctor Who Ran Abortion Mill Released On Parole

RICHMOND, Va., April 10 (AP)—Dr. G. Thomas Strother, convicted last year of running a large scale abortion mill in Virginia's Fauquier County, has been freed on parole after serving one year of a 15-year sentence.

State parole officials said the 54-year-old Brunswick, Md., physician became eligible for parole when Gov. Thomas B. Stanley reduced his 15-year sentence.

The governor's office had made no disclosure of the commutation.

P. C. Shields, executive secretary of the State Parole Board, said the three-man board had voted unanimously to parole Strother, who was convicted in Fauquier Circuit Court Jan. 31, 1955. Shields said Strother left the State Penitentiary about 10 days ago.

"He had compiled a splendid record as a worker in the prison hospital," said Shields. "He worked long hours, performing mostly nursing duties."

Shields said one of the conditions of Strother's release was that he would not return to the practice of medicine. He said the parolee had returned to northern Virginia to join his brother in a farming operation.

Shields said Strother's petition for parole received "considerable support" from his friends in Virginia and Maryland.

Shortly after Strother's admittance to the penitentiary last year, W. Frank Smyth Jr., prison superintendent, commended his quick adjustment to penal life.

Strother pleaded guilty to the abortion charges during a brief trial in the Fauquier Court in November, 1954. The charges were brought after police raided a two-story, eight-room farmhouse near the village of Paris June 25, 1954.

Officiers told of finding five women who had undergone operations and three others who were awaiting their turns. A physician who accompanied the raiders reported Dr. Strother's "operating room" and procedure were sanitary and the odds were against a faulty operation.

Police estimated the mill netted a weekly take of some $12,000 through its plush pick-up and delivery service of patients in and around the Washington area.

Wrecked Planes Found; 7 Dead

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 10 (AP)—Rescue workers today found seven persons dead in the wreckage of two airplanes which vanished with eight passengers in central Alaska yesterday.

The eighth person, an Anchorage businessman, was pinned inside the broken remains of one aircraft. His condition was not immediately determined.

All six persons aboard a Cordove Airlines plane were killed when the twin-engined ship crashed at the 3,000 foot level in rugged mountain country 75 miles southwest of here on the Kenai Peninsula, airline officials reported here.

Haakon Christensen, the pilot of the second plane was killed when the twin-engined amphibious Grumman crashed five miles short of its destination at Cordova, 150 miles southeast of Anchorage. His companion was Wells Ervin of Anchorage.

The search plane which spotted the wreckage of the airliner was waved in that direction by a man on the Seward Highway who was at first thought to have been a survivor.

Brownell Emphasizes Civil Suit Procedure In Civil Rights Cases

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell said today he wants to emphasize the civil suit procedure in civil rights cases because criminal proceedings in the past have stirred up "dissension and ill will."

"In a civil proceeding," Brownell said in testimony for the House Judiciary Committee, "the facts can be determined, the rights of the parties adjudicated and future violations of the law prevented by order of the court without having to subject state officials to the indignity, hazards and personal expense of a criminal prosecution in the courts of the United States."

Brownell went before the committee one day after formal submission of administration requests that Congress create a federal civil rights commission and broaden the federal power to handle alleged violations of civil rights, such as preventing southern Negroes from voting.

His testimony was behind closed doors but the Justice Department released copies of his prepared comments.

After the hearing, Chairman Celler (D-NY) said Brownell's proposals don't go far enough, that "it's like using a bean shooter when you should use a gun."

On the other hand, Rep. Keating of New York, the top Republican on the committee, said that if the committee tries to cover too much ground this year "we won't get to first base."

Celler favors criminal penalties for specified civil rights violations in such fields as transportation and employment. He has a bill to include these.

The committee will meet next Tuesday in an attempt to bring out a bill, Celler said.

The Brownell proposals have won the backing of a number of Northern Republicans, but several Northern as well as Southern Democrats in Congress criticized them on the grounds they amounted to playing politics.

A nearly solid lineup of Southern senators against the Brownell proposals made Senate passage of the requested legislation highly unlikely, even if the house should pass it.

In saying that he was willing to become a favorite son candidate and to head that delegation, Johnson said he had "made it clear to the leaders of other states that I am seeking none of their delegates."

"I am a Texan seeking to serve the people of Texas," he said. "I will have no part of any move that can create tensions and turmoil in our party."

This was an obvious notice to colleagues that Johnson would not at this time go along with any effort to rally the South around him in its protest against the Supreme Court's decision against school segregation.

This issue holds the threat of a convention split if advocates of desegregation win the adoption of a platform calling for forceful enforcement of the court's opinion and nominate a candidate who supports such action.

Johnson, who has said that the issue is one with which the states must deal, said he wants the Democratic party to be "strong and unified because it is the only instrument through which we can act effectively for our nation."

The Texas senator, who is the Senate's majority leader, appeared to leave the door open for Gov. Allan Shivers to try to win a place on the delegation if Shivers wants it.

Shivers backed President Eisenhower in 1952 and has indicated he will not support any of the present major contenders for the Democratic nomination this year. Johnson supported Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, as did House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex). Eisenhower carried Texas.

Rayburn has made it plain he does not want Shivers on the Texas delegation. Shivers, who has recommended that Texas Democrats vote on a proposal affirming opposition to integration and other federal acts he says "encroach" on state's rights, is leading a statewide fight against Rayburn for control of the Texas delegation.

Two factions of the party, one led openly by Shivers and the other by Rayburn, are ringing doorbells in every one of the state's 4,000-plus precincts in an effort to win control of the May 22 state convention.

TELLS OF BOND SALES — Gregory Harrington, New York bond trader, tells the Senate investigations subcommittee he sold almost six million dollars worth of bonds to Joey Abrams, a New York garment maker, during a two-year period ending in 1953. The subcommittee, looking into armed services clothing contracts, seeks to find out whether bonds "were used as payoffs to government personnel" or for income tax avoidance. (AP Photofax)

Ike Golfs, Plans Foreign Policy Speech April 21

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10 (AP)— President Eisenhower golfed today, arranged to make major foreign policy address April 21, and got a fresh report on the powder keg situation in the Middle East. He also urged Congress to act speedily on a six - point program designed to strengthen "our power for peace" through attraction of more Americans to military careers.

The President flew to Augusta from Washington yesterday for a week of golf mixed with work.

Before going out on the course Eisenhower handled a round of official business which included a telephone conference with Secretary of State Dulles in Washington on U. S. and U. N. efforts to put an end to Israeli-Arab strife.

Meanwhile, the President's vacation headquarters announced he will make a major foreign policy address in Washington April 21, concluding the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The President also sent to Congress a letter to him from Secretary of Defense Wilson saying:

"The loss of trained personnel continues to be the most extravagantly expensive and disruptive obstacle to the strengthening of our armed forces today."

Eisenhower and Wilson prodded Congress to complete action on legislation designed to:

1. Provide a better system of service personnel survivor benefits.

2. Assure medical care for all dependents of military personnel.

3. Increase to about 50 per cent the number of Army and Air Force officers with regular - officer status.

4. Provide career incentives for medical and dental officers and nurses.

Air Force Plans Nuclear Reactor

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Air Force today disclosed plans to build its own nuclear reactor facility—another step in a speed-up of efforts to develop a nuclear-powered warplane.

The announcement that an Air Force reactor will be set up at the Wright Air Development Center, Dayton, Ohio, was the third in 24 hours to herald new moves to give wings to atomic power.

Two contracts for development of an airframe to carry an atomic engine were announced yesterday.

The Dayton reactor, to cost 7½ million dollars, will be used to test materials, parts and systems designed for use in A-powered planes. Construction will start in June with completion expected by January, 1958.

Atomic engine and airframe projects now being carried out by private firms will be tied closely to the Dayton operations.

The Air Force reactor will feature a specially-designed steel dome planned to give maximum safety in the remote event that any part of the test system fails.

Estes Says He'll Go To Conclave "Front-Runner"

JERSEY CITY, N.J., April 10 (AP) —Sen. Estes Kefauver Democratic presidential hopeful, predicted today "I will go to the convention as front-runner and I will get the nomination."

Kefauver, winding up a day-long run through Hudson County which is a fortress of the Democratic opposition to his slate of convention delegates, also said:

"I think we are going to make a good showing in New Jersey. I think I am running strong all over the state . . . I am going to do surprisingly well in New Jersey" in next Tuesday's primary.

He got 154,600 votes in the 1952 N.J. balloting.

Kefauver again said he was behind Adlai Stevenson in support at this time but added that New Jersey "will be a help on the way up." The Democratic convention is in August at Chicago.

Kefauver predicted that he would make a "very creditable showing" in Hudson County.

He said he had found enthusiasm for his candidacy even though the potent John V. Kenny following is supporting the state organization's 36 - vote delegate slate over that of Kefauver.

Kefauver spent last night in Jersey City and started out early today, breakfasting with supporters, shaking hands on street corners, riding through the streets in an open car and making talks.

At one point, he called on a leader of the opposition and won a friendly reception—but no support.

Poetic Plea Wins Gob More Leave

LEONARDO, N. J., April 10 (AP)— The Navy encountered spring and poetry today.

Bruce Nicholas, a radarman assigned to the ammunition ship Great Sitkin, tied up here, was due back April 13 from a 10-day leave.

But today he sent this telegram from State College, Pa., to the skipper:

"I like my ship and all the men,
"So when I left I took but 10.

"Well, here at home it's spring, I find.

"I've met a thing that changed my mind.

"Now I'm in love as ne'er before,

"So, please sir, grant me 20 more."

The skipper, Capt. N. D. Gage, Newport, N. H., couldn't give him 20 but granted another 10. He replied to Nicholas:

"Comprehend your yen.
"Can give you but 10,
"On the 23rd to end."

Precautions Taken On Cyprus By British

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 10 (AP)— British authorities clamped rigid military control on Nicosia's busy International Airport today as a safeguard against rebel sabotage.

Royal Air Force men took full charge of airport operations and a strict security ring was thrown around the field. X-ray equipment was installed to scan luggage, mail and even passengers' clothing for time bombs.

"From now on, no passenger, no item of baggage, no item of mail will pass through without undergoing very secure scrutiny," a spokesman said.

Except for a few immigration officials, all Cypriot employes were barred from an area around the terminal buildings. Airmen took over refueling, porter services marshalling of planes and fire duties.

More Foreign Aid Urged By Truman

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today said the United States should "move forward with fresh vigor and enthusiasm" in granting foreign aid.

Truman sent a message to a workshop on foreign aid saying that "helping people to help themselves is in the best tradition of Americanism."

The one-day workshop is sponsored by the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development.

Top-Bracket Russian Police Official Purged

MOSCOW, April 10 (AP)—A Soviet newspaper disclosed today that Lavrenti F. Tsanov, long considered one of the top men in Russia's security police, has been purged in White Russia.

(The latest reference to Tsanov reaching the West listed him as a lieutenant general in the security police).

A copy of the newspaper Soviet White Russia reaching Moscow today did not state specifically what Tsanov was charged with or the punishment given him.

An article by White Russian Justice Minister Ivan Vetrov called Tsanov an "enemy of the Soviet state who engaged in nefarious subversive work."

Nigerians Join Pickets

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Picket lines around the big Macy department store got unexpected reinforcements today. Two Nigerians in native dress showed up to join the marchers.

They identified themselves as Chief O. A. Beyioku and N. A. Cole. They said they represented Nigerian unions and had come here to study working conditions and other labor matters.

Soviet Expedition

MOSCOW, April 10 (AP)—The Soviet Union said today it is sending an expedition to explore an area of the Atlantic Ocean near Greenland next summer.

Not Communist, Reporter Says

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — William Goldman, a New York Daily Mirror employe for about 14 years, swore today he is not a Communist now but he refused to tell Senate investigators whether he was on Jan. 1, 1953.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee identified Goldman as a reporter for the Mirror. At the public hearing he was not asked the nature of his job.

In New York, the Mirror said Goldman had submitted his resignation to Editor Glenn Neville.

The Senate group called Goldman at hearings which it described as a continuation of its study of the workings of the Communist party.

Another witness, Cecil Lubell of Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y., refused to say whether he is a Communist. Lubell testified he is "a men's wear consultant" and has worked for a number of trade publications in that field.

Doctor Who Ran Abortion Mill Released On Parole

RICHMOND, Va., April 10 (AP)— Dr. G. Thomas Strother, convicted last year of running a large scale abortion mill in Virginia's Fauquier County, has been freed on parole after serving one year of a 15-year sentence.

State parole officials said the 54-year-old Brunswick, Md., physician became eligible for parole when Gov. Thomas B. Stanley reduced his 15-year sentence.

The governor's office had made no disclosure of the commutation.

P. C. Shields, executive secretary of the State Parole Board, said the three-man board had voted unanimously to parole Strother, who was convicted in Fauquier Circuit Court Jan. 31, 1955. Shields said Strother left the State Penitentiary about 10 days ago.

"He had compiled a splendid record as a worker in the prison hospital," said Shields. "He worked long hours, performing mostly nursing duties."

Shields said one of the conditions of Strother's release was that he would not return to the practice of medicine. He said the parolee had returned to northern Virginia to join his brother in a farming operation.

Shields said Strother's petition for parole received "considerable support" from his friends in Virginia and Maryland.

Shortly after Strother's admittance to the penitentiary last year, W. Frank Smyth Jr., prison superintendent, commended his quick adjustment to penal life.

Strother pleaded guilty to the abortion charges during a brief trial in the Fauquier Court in November, 1954. The charges were brought after police raided a two-story, eight-room farmhouse near the village of Paris June 25, 1954.

Officiers told of finding five women who had undergone operations and three others who were awaiting their turns. A physician who accompanied the raiders reported Dr. Strother's "operating room" and procedure were sanitary and the odds were against a faulty operation.

Police estimated the mill netted a weekly take of some $12,000 through its plush pick-up and delivery service of patients in and around the Washington area.

Brownell Emphasizes Civil Suit Procedure In Civil Rights Cases

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell said today he wants to emphasize the civil suit procedure in civil rights cases because criminal proceedings in the past have stirred up "dissension and ill will."

"In a civil proceeding," Brownell said in testimony for the House Judiciary Committee, "the facts can be determined, the rights of the parties adjudicated and future violations of the law prevented by order of the court without having to subject state officials to the indignity, hazards and personal expense of a criminal prosecution in the courts of the United States."

Brownell went before the committee one day after formal submission of administration requests that Congress create a federal civil rights commission and broaden the federal power to handle alleged violations of civil rights, such as preventing southern Negroes from voting.

His testimony was behind closed doors but the Justice Department released copies of his prepared comments.

After the hearing, Chairman Celler (D-NY) said Brownell's proposals don't go far enough, that "it's like using a bean shooter when you should use a gun."

On the other hand, Rep. Keating of New York, the top Republican on the committee, said that if the committee tries to cover too much ground this year "we won't get to first base."

Celler favors criminal penalties for specified civil rights violations in such fields as transportation and employment. He has a bill to include these.

The committee will meet next Tuesday in an attempt to bring out a bill, Celler said.

The Brownell proposals have won the backing of a number of Northern Republicans, but several Northern as well as Southern Democrats in Congress criticized them on the grounds they amounted to playing politics.

A nearly solid lineup of Southern senators against the Brownell proposals made Senate passage of the requested legislation highly unlikely, even if the house should pass it.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Ten Baltimore bus drivers forfeited $50 collateral each today on charges they have unlawfully conducted sightseeing trips within Washington.

Officials of the three bus companies involved—Baltimore & Annapolis Railroad Co., Harford Motor Coach Co. and the Baltimore Motor Coach Co.—said their offices did not know the operation was illegal but would forfeit the $500 total "for their mistake."

Legislators Give Themselves A's On Report Cards

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Ah, how wonderful it is to be a politician! For this lucky fellow prepares his own examination papers, and then obligingly grades his own report card.

In the final showdown, of course, the voters decide whether he should be kept in office, promoted or possibly flunked out altogether. But in the meantime, look at the fun he has.

Today's "Congressional Record" has a report card, prepared and graded by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), on the Senate's work the past three months. As majority leader, Johnson calls the signals for the Democratic Senate.

Johnson didn't express Johnson's judgment on Johnson's performance quite this concisely, but the meaning was plain: Straight A for us Democrats.

Across the aisle from Johnson sits Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif), who as minority leader calls the signals for the Republicans.

Knowland and Johnson often exchange pleasantries on how well they work together.

But during the Easter recess Knowland drew up an examination paper not for three months but for three years, or, by a lucky coincidence, from the date Dwight D. Eisenhower moved into the White House.

Knowland's test covered the budget, taxes and what he called a good business system for the government. His verdict: Straight A's for us Republicans.

Johnson probably prepared his report as an answer to some GOP criticism that the Senate has been dogging it of late.

Anyway, he dug up figures on what the Senate was doing for a similar period of the 83rd and 80th Congresses, when the Republicans were in the saddle.

The Democrats can't claim all the credit, but there's no doubt on this score: It has been a very talkative Senate.

In the past three months, Johnson found, this Senate has talked 355 hours, the Senate of the 83rd Congress got by with 304 hours in a comparable period, and the 80th needed only 227 hours, a cat's-got-your tongue performance by senatorial standards.

Johnson listed 127 measures passed by the Senate since Jan. 1, and as usual it's interesting to see what our legislators have been up to. For a nation's life is like an indivual's: A few big decisions, and hundreds of minor ones.

So the Senate passed such large controversial items as a gas bill (later vetoed), a farm bill (still to be argued over as to final form), and scores of measures that were splendidly noncontroversial.

50 YEARS AFTER SAN FRANCISCO DISASTER—It was nearing dawn on April 18, 1906, when San Franciscans were rocked into the realization of approaching disaster. The earthquake that shook a city from its sleep was soon to become a holocaust that completely razed 490 city blocks; partly demolished 32 others; brought death to some 460 persons; injured 1,500 and left 250,000 homeless. Fifty years later, San Francisco is making preparations for an Anniversary observance of the disaster. Photo at top shows a flame-swept section of Market Street and, at bottom, is the same rebuilt area as it looks today.

Fred Allen's Estate Valued At Over Million

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Fred Allen, the humorist, left an estate valued at more than one million dollars, a family source said today as his will was filed for probate. He died March. 17.

Allen, whose real name was John F. Sullivan, bequeathed half the estate to his widow, Mary Portland Sullivan, known to radio listeners as Portland Hoffa.

He also specified that she receive the interest from the remaining half, which he set up as a trust fund for three young nieces by marriage, who ultimately will get the principal.

He directed, however, that the executors dip into this trust fund for his widow's benefit should she need further funds at any time.

Additionally, he left his jewelry, manuscripts and theatrical possessions to the widow.

T. E. Stakem Jr. Nominated To Maritime Group

A native of Allegany County has been nominated by President Eisenhower as a member of the Federal Maritime Board.

He is Thomas E. Stakem Jr., 49, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Stakem Sr., of Midland. The President has sent Stakem's name to the Senate for the post.

Stakem, who resides in Arlington, Va., embarked on his government career 30 years ago as a $900-a-year clerk in the Patent Office. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's Parochial School in Midland and of LaSalle High School.

His new post carries sub-cabinet rank and pays $15,000 per year.

Stakem's varied career has included nine years as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He entered the FBI in 1934, after receiving a law degree from Georgetown University, and left it in 1943 to become director of investigations for the War Shipping Administration.

In 1947 he became chief investigator for the Maritime Commission. In that post he conducted an inquiry into illegal sale of American ships to foreign buyers, leading to cash recovery amounting to $10 million. In 1950 the Commission was abolished, and the Maritime Board and Maritime Administration were established.

Stakem, a Democrat, will succeed to the vacancy caused by the naming of G. Joseph Minetti as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Minetti's nomination also is before the Senate. Stakem's appointment runs until 1958.

The Congressman from Stakem's home district, Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R.-Va.), praised the President's choice and said he had given Stakem endorsement prior to the nomination. This, he said, is a "clear indication of the interest of the Eisenhower Administration in the career government employe."

Actually, Stakem's career in government totals 23 years. He took time out to study for his law degree, meanwhile working as night auditor at the Willard Hotel.

Stakem, elated, said the appointment "gives a man a chance for additional service."

Stakem's father was a magistrate in Midland, served as Juvenile Court magistrate and also as register of wills. Patrick Stakem, manager of the Algonquin Hotel here is a brother, and another brother, John, is with the Department of the Army in Washington. He also has two sisters, Mrs. Don Mellor, Piedmont, and Mrs. Veronica Bell, Westernport, both of whom teach in the public schools in Piedmont.

Stakem is married to the former Miss Jeannette Livingstone, of Midland, and they have two children, Joan, 19, a college student, and Brian, 15, who attends high school. Mrs. Stakem is a registered nurse, having graduated from Sibley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Washington.

Baking Company Will Place New Equipment In Use

The Community Baking Company has invited the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to witness the inauguration of their new bulk flour handling equipment on Wednesday, April 25 at 1:30 p. m.

Signed by John Kreiling, bakery president, the letter of invitation stated the new system is the first one in this area and is revolutionary in design.

The new equipment will make it possible for a carload of flour to be placed on a B&O Railroad siding across the street from the Henderson Avenue bakery and be unloaded through an overhead pipe into the bakery storage facilities.

Man Receives Five-Year Term For Robbery

Harry Stewart Jr., 25, this city, was given a term not to exceed five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males after he was found guilty by Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court on charges of robbery, assault with intent to rob and assault upon a cab driver.

His father, Harry Stewart Sr., 60, of Murley's Branch Road, was found guilty on the two assault counts in the criminal information but not guilty of robbery. Judge Henderson imposed upon him a two-year sentence in the Maryland House of Correction, which was suspended during good behavior and as long as he refrains from excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

Harry William Davis, 30, of Jane Frazier Village, the cab driver, reported he was assaulted March 20 and robbed of his wrist watch at the foot of Martin Mountain as he was driving the father and son toward Flintstone from Cumberland.

Both father and son have been lodged in the County Jail since March 23. The father, in receiving a suspended sentence, was placed under supervision of the State Department of Parole and Probation.

The son was found not guilty on a second criminal information which charged him with larceny March 18 of the automobile of Glen Page.

The Stewarts petitioned for an immediate trial and waived their right to indictment by the grand jury.

Bond Sale Resolution Passed By Board

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has passed a resolution calling for the sale of two bond issues totaling $500,000.

The bonds issues are $350,000 in school construction bonds and $150,000 in Memorial Hospital School of Nursing addition bonds. The City of Cumberland is matching the nurses' home addition bond issue.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, read the lengthy resolution which was prepared by the law firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockbridge. The law firm is also preparing the legal opinion required when bond issues are sold.

Local Fireman Is Hurt As Flames Damage Bike Shop

A city fireman was injured and an elderly man had to be carried from a second-story apartment yesterday when fire broke out in a three-story building on the Queen City Pavement.

Guy Reed, who has been an invalid for some time, was carried from his second-floor apartment shortly after the blaze started, and the building began to fill with fumes and smoke. Officer Frank A. Shober of the City Police Department and Joseph Hemmis carried the elderly man to safety.

Fireman John Spiker, 33, of 44 Maple Street, was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital after sustaining lacerations of the right wrist. Hospital attaches said Spiker was injured while he was breaking glass in the front of the building.

East Side firemen received the first call at 10:13 a. m. when the fire started in the Vet's Bicycle Sales and Service Shop at the corner of Harrison Street and the Queen City Pavement.

En route, the East Side firemen spotted the smoke as they were passing Central YMCA and radioed to headquarters for additional help.

Engine Company No. 1 and the truck company from Central responded, arriving on the scene shortly after East Side. West Side firemen filled in at Central.

Firemen said the fire started from gasoline vapors in the Vet's Bicycle Shop. The blazes were confined to the first floor, but the second and third floors of the brick dwelling were filled with smoke. Firemen found it necessary to ventilate the top two stories.

Hundreds of bicycles, power lawn mowers, bike parts and bike tires were housed in the shop. Electric horns on the bikes shorted out and firemen said with the horns blasting away it sounded like a "mad house."

East Side firemen remained on the scene until 12:03 p. m.

The building is owned by Spurgeon C. Deaner, a conductor for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Man Draws Suspended Sentence On Appeal

A local man, charged with violation of parole and sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction in Trial Magistrates Court here, appealed his case and was handed a one year suspended sentence in the same institution by Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The trial of James Sisk, of 21 Potomac Street, was held on Saturday. He was found guilty and sentenced Monday.

Sisk was paroled by Judge Henderson on the condition he keep the peace, be of good behavior, stay away from his estranged wife and child and pay $40 semi-monthly through Juvenile Court toward their support.

T. E. Stakem Jr. Nominated To Maritime Group

A native of Allegany County has been nominated by President Eisenhower as a member of the Federal Maritime Board.

He is Thomas E. Stakem Jr., 49, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Stakem Sr., of Midland. The President has sent Stakem's name to the Senate for the post.

Stakem, who resides in Arlington, Va., embarked on his government career 30 years ago as a $900-a-year clerk in the Patent Office. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's Parochial School in Midland and of LaSalle High School.

His new post carries sub-cabinet rank and pays $15,000 per year.

Stakem's varied career has included nine years as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He entered the FBI in 1934, after receiving a law degree from Georgetown University, and left it in 1943 to become director of investigations for the War Shipping Administration.

In 1947 he became chief investigator for the Maritime Commission. In that post he conducted an inquiry into illegal sale of American ships to foreign buyers, leading to cash recovery amounting to $10 million. In 1950 the Commission was abolished, and the Maritime Board and Maritime Administration were established.

Stakem, a Democrat, will succeed to the vacancy caused by the naming of G. Joseph Minetti as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Minetti's nomination also is before the Senate. Stakem's appointment runs until 1958.

The Congressman from Stakem's home district, Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R.-Va.), praised the President's choice and said he had given Stakem endorsement prior to the nomination. This, he said, is a "clear indication of the interest of the Eisenhower Administration in the career government employe."

Actually, Stakem's career in government totals 23 years. He took time out to study for his law degree, meanwhile working as night auditor at the Willard Hotel.

Stakem, elated, said the appointment "gives a man a chance for additional service."

Stakem's father was a magistrate in Midland, served as Juvenile Court magistrate and also as register of wills. Patrick Stakem, manager of the Algonquin Hotel here is a brother, and another brother, John, is with the Department of the Army in Washington. He also has two sisters, Mrs. Don Mellor, Piedmont, and Mrs. Veronica Bell, Westernport, both of whom teach in the public schools in Piedmont.

Stakem is married to the former Miss Jeannette Livingstone, of Midland, and they have two children. Joan, 19, a college student, and Brian, 15, who attends high school. Mrs. Stakem is a registered nurse, having graduated from Sibley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Washington.

Baking Company Will Place New Equipment In Use

The Community Baking Company has invited the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to witness the inauguration of their new bulk flour handling equipment on Wednesday, April 25 at 1:30 p. m.

Signed by John Kreiling, bakery president, the letter of invitation stated the new system is the first one in this area and is revolutionary in design.

The new equipment will make it possible for a carload of flour to be placed on a B&O Railroad siding across the street from the Henderson Avenue bakery and be unloaded through an overhead pipe into the bakery storage facilities.

Man Receives Five-Year Term For Robbery

Harry Stewart Jr., 25, this city, was given a term not to exceed five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males after he was found guilty by Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court on charges of robbery, assault with intent to rob and assault upon a cab driver.

His father, Harry Stewart Sr., 60, of Murley's Branch Road, was found guilty on the two assault counts in the criminal information but not guilty of robbery. Judge Henderson imposed upon him a two-year sentence in the Maryland House of Correction, which was suspended during good behavior and as long as he refrains from excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

Harry William Davis, 30, of Jane Frazier Village, the cab driver, reported he was assaulted March 20 and robbed of his wrist watch at the foot of Martin Mountain as he was driving the father and son toward Flintstone from Cumberland.

Both father and son have been lodged in the County Jail since March 23. The father, in receiving a suspended sentence, was placed under supervision of the State Department of Parole and Probation.

The son was found not guilty on a second criminal information which charged him with larceny March 18 of the automobile of Glen Page.

The Stewarts petitioned for an immediate trial and waived their right to indictment by the grand jury.

Bond Sale Resolution Passed By Board

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has passed a resolution calling for the sale of two bond issues totaling $500,000.

The bonds issues are $350,000 in school construction bonds and $150,000 in Memorial Hospital School of Nursing addition bonds. The City of Cumberland is matching the nurses' home addition bond issue.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, read the lengthy resolution which was prepared by the law firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockbridge. The law firm is also preparing the legal opinion required when bond issues are sold.

Local Fireman Is Hurt As Flames Damage Bike Shop

A city fireman was injured and an elderly man had to be carried from a second-story apartment yesterday when fire broke out in a three-story building on the Queen City Pavement.

Guy Reed, who has been an invalid for some time, was carried from his second-floor apartment shortly after the blaze started, and the building began to fill with fumes and smoke. Officer Frank A. Shober of the City Police Department and Joseph Hemmis carried the elderly man to safety.

Fireman John Spiker, 33, of 44 Maple Street, was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital after sustaining lacerations of the right wrist. Hospital attaches said Spiker was injured while he was breaking glass in the front of the building.

East Side firemen received the first call at 10:13 a. m. when the fire started in the Vet's Bicycle Sales and Service Shop at the corner of Harrison Street and the Queen City Pavement.

En route, the East Side firemen spotted the smoke as they were passing Central YMCA and radioed to headquarters for additional help.

Engine Company No. 1 and the truck company from Central responded, arriving on the scene shortly after East Side. West Side firemen filled in at Central.

Firemen said the fire started from gasoline vapors in the Vet's Bicycle Shop. The blazes were confined to the first floor, but the second and third floors of the brick dwelling were filled with smoke. Firemen found it necessary to ventilate the top two stories.

Hundreds of bicycles, power lawn mowers, bike parts and bike tires were housed in the shop. Electric horns on the bikes shorted out and firemen said with the horns blasting away it sounded like a "mad house."

East Side firemen remained on the scene until 12:03 p. m.

The building is owned by Spurgeon C. Deaner, a conductor for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Man Draws Suspended Sentence On Appeal

A local man, charged with violation of parole and sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction in Trial Magistrates Court here, appealed his case and was handed a one year suspended sentence in the same institution by Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The trial of James Sisk, of 21 Potomac Street, was held on Saturday. He was found guilty and sentenced Monday.

Sisk was paroled by Judge Henderson on the condition he keep the peace, be of good behavior, stay away from his estranged wife and child and pay $40 semi-monthly through Juvenile Court toward their support.

Health Department Car Program Approved Here

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to discuss the program under the Case Plan by which the state will provide new cars for the county department. The county would pay 3.3 cents per mile for the operating expenses.

At the end of each year the State Health Department would trade in the entire fleet of cars used by the various county health departments and furnish new ones to the units. Each new car would cost an average of $55 p " car, according to information received here.

Dr. Frantz told the commissioners that four cars of his department which have been in use for several years have up to 40,000 miles each in service. The commissioners last week advertised for a new car for the Health Department, but after being informed of the state program yesterday will likely not act on the bid.

The county board told Dr. Frantz to inform the State Health Department that it would participate in the program. The probability of the county obtaining four new cars soon after July 1, when the Case Plan goes into effect, was discussed. The county would sell the cars now in use if four new cars can be obtained under the plan.

Junk Dispute Airing Slated By Co. Board

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris has issued a memorandum in the appeal of James E. Smith from a decision of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners in refusing him a license to operate a used-car lot and junk yard near McCoole.

Smith's request for a permit was rejected some time ago and he then appealed to Circuit Court charging the board's action was arbitrary and capricious and that the board refused to specify the conditions upon which a permit to operate the business would be issued.

Counsel for Smith has informed the court, Judge Harris said, that the applicant is willing to abide by any reasonable conditions which the commissioners may impose for the operation of the business. Council for the board also informed the court that if the cause is remanded to the board for further proceedings they believe that reasonable and satisfactory conditions will be prescribed for operating the business.

Acting on this information, Judge Harris ordered the cause remanded to the county commissioners for further proceedings.

Two Road Complaints Received By Board

Two roads complaints were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Robert Walker appeared before the board to ask that repairs be made to Charles Street, which runs off Burke's Hill in the McCoole section. Both complaints were referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

Eiseenhower Cabinet Has Stayed Pretty Well Put

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Maybe Republicans stood outside for so long looking in that they're determined to hang on once they get a Cabinet post.

Or maybe President Eisenhower, as coach of the GOP team, knows the knack of keeping up squad morale. Whatever the reason, Eisenhower has had remarkably few changes in his official family.

Douglas McKay drops out this week as secretary of the interior, to try for the Oregon Senate seat now held by Wayne Morse, A Democrat. Of the original 10 Cabinet officers picked by Eisenhower, McKay is only the third to quit.

The late Martin P. Durkin, Eisenhower's first secretary of labor, was the first to go. But since Durkin was a Democrat, his resignation wasn't entirely unexpected. Oveta Culp Hobby, the only woman in Eisenhower's Cabinet, is the other who resigned. She was secretary of health, education and welfare.

The rest — Dulles, Humphrey, Wilson, Brownell, Summerfield, Benson and Weeks — have stayed put.

It's hard to tell whether this is a record because the number of Cabinet officers has varied with the years.

James Polk, for example, also had a placid regime, so far as Cabinet changes went. Of his six, four stayed the full four years.

The greatest changes naturally come when a vice president steps up to the head job. He inherits a cabinet that owes him no allegiance, and so he ususally replaces them with his own men.

Possibly the high in cabinet shakeups came under John A. Tyler.

William Harrison died a month after taking office. Tyler not only shucked off Harrison's cabinet, but also did an incredible amount of shuffling on his own.

Before he had served out his 3 years and 11 months, he had had four secretaries of state, three secretaries of war, four secretaries of the treasury, three attorneys general two postmasters general and five secretaries of navy.

The Navy must have had an extra rowboat in those days just to paddle their secretaries in and out of office. Between 1841 and 1846, eight different men had a try at being secretary.

Although Cabinet jobs have changed tremendously with the years, there is no indication this has made much difference in the survival rate.

George Washington managed to hang on to his official family pretty well, even though they were beset with troubles that seem strange to us today.

Atty. Gen. Brownell gets $25,000 a year and supervises 30,000 employes in the Department of Justice. Washington's attorney general, Edmund Randolph, had no Cabinet rating and was expected to work only part time.

Randolph complained that in order to live he had to scrounge around picking up private law cases, "perhaps in a petty mayor's or country court."

He stuck it out, though, for five years.

The actor was in San Francisco appearing in a stage play. His wife, actress K. T. Stevens, and the couple's two children and a housekeeper fled unharmed.

Eiseenhower Cabinet Has Stayed Pretty Well Put

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Maybe Republicans stood outside for so long looking in that they're determined to hang on once they get a Cabinet post.

Or maybe President Eisenhower, as coach of the GOP team, knows the knack of keeping up squad morale. Whatever the reason, Eisenhower has had remarkably few changes in his official family.

Douglas McKay drops out this week as secretary of the interior, to try for the Oregon Senate seat now held by Wayne Morse, A Democrat. Of the original 10 Cabinet officers picked by Eisenhower, McKay is only the third to quit.

The late Martin P. Durkin, Eisenhower's first secretary of labor, was the first to go. But since Durkin was a Democrat, his resignation wasn't entirely unexpected. Oveta Culp Hobby, the only woman in Eisenhower's Cabinet, is the other who resigned. She was secretary of health, education and welfare.

The rest — Dulles, Humphrey, Wilson, Brownell, Summerfield, Benson and Weeks — have stayed put.

It's hard to tell whether this is a record because the number of Cabinet officers has varied with the years.

James Polk, for example, also had a placid regime, so far as Cabinet changes went. Of his six, four stayed the full four years.

The greatest changes naturally come when a vice president steps up to the head job. He inherits a cabinet that owes him no allegiance, and so he ususally replaces them with his own men.

Possibly the high in cabinet shakeups came under John A. Tyler.

William Harrison died a month after taking office. Tyler not only shucked off Harrison's cabinet, but also did an incredible amount of shuffling on his own.

Before he had served out his 3 years and 11 months, he had had four secretaries of state, three secretaries of war, four secretaries of the treasury, three attorneys general two postmasters general and five secretaries of navy.

The Navy must have had an extra rowboat in those days just to paddle their secretaries in and out of office. Between 1841 and 1846, eight different men had a try at being secretary.

Although Cabinet jobs have changed tremendously with the years, there is no indication this has made much difference in the survival rate.

George Washington managed to hang on to his official family pretty well, even though they were beset with troubles that seem strange to us today.

Atty. Gen. Brownell gets $25,000 a year and supervises 30,000 employes in the Department of Justice. Washington's attorney general, Edmund Randolph, had no Cabinet rating and was expected to work only part time.

Randolph complained that in order to live he had to scrounge around picking up private law cases, "perhaps in a petty mayor's or country court."

He stuck it out, though, for five years.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 10—(INS)—People . . . places . . . and books. . .

If anybody needs further proof of Stalin's infamy, let him find a slim little dollar book put out a couple of years ago by Farrar, Straus and Young called "Stalin—A Self Portrait." It is a picture book and the captions are from the man's own speeches and works. Samples:

"I joined the revolutionary movement at the age of 15, when I became connected with certain illegal groups." "We pushed forward still more vigorously, brushing every obstacle from our path. It is true that in our course we were obliged to handle some of these comrades roughly. But you cannot help that. I must confess that I too took a hand in this business." "You may be sure that I will not spare anyone." "It cannot be said that the purge was not accompanied by grave mistakes. There were unfortunately more mistakes than might have been expected."

And:

"Weep not for the hair when the head is off." "Paper will put up with anything that is written on it." "In the U.S.S.R. there is no ground for existence of several parties. In the U.S.S.R. there is ground only for one party, the Communist Party." "Have we suppressed the reactionary clergy? Yes, we have."

"It is impossible to conquer an enemy without having learned to hate him with all the might of one's soul." "To choose the victim, to prepare the blow with care, to slake an implacable vengeance, and then to go to bed . . . there is nothing sweeter in the world."

You won't be finding a much warmer story than the same book company's newest, "Deliver Us From Evil," the story of a young Navy doctor who took part in moving 600,000 Vietnamese from the Communist-controlled section of that country to the free area. Adm. Arleigh Burke says, "A story of which the United States Navy is proud." It should be.

Lt. Thomas A. Dooley, M.D. got to Viet Nam via Notre Dame and St. Louis U. For some incredible number of sick and travel-sore refugees he was an indispensable friend and comforter. He tells the story of these people without breast-beating, and thus makes us see more clearly this incredible tragedy that took place on the other side of the world while most of us were concerned with other things.

On his way home after achieving miracles that made him a public hero over there, Dooley was sweating out a plane at Hickam Field, Honolulu, when he heard a yell of "Chao ong bac sy my!" — Vietnamese for "hi, American doctor." A Covey of Vietnamese air force cadets, en route to Texas, had spotted him and all but embraced him to the floor.

He had no trouble remembering them:

"Each of them had a big scar where an ear should have been. I remembered that in the Roman Catholic provinces of Bao Lac, near the frontier of China, the Communist Viet Minh often would tear an ear partially off with a pair of pliers and leave the ear dangling. That was one of the penalties for the crime of listening to evil words. The evil words were 'Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed by Thy name. . . give us this day our daily bread. . . and deliver us from evil. . .' I had amputated the stumps of those ears. Would a boy hear again from that ear? Never. Only from the other ear would he ever hear words, evil or holy."

In "Captain of the Queens," the autobiography of Captain Harry Grattidge, former commodore of the Cunard Line, which E. P. Dutton has just published, the author achieves the miracle of writing 300 pages without a single reference to the man under whom he once served — the great Capt. Charles Ford. Ford, of "The Elizabeth," transported more American servicemen across the Atlantic than any master in history, and before and after World War II was the line's best-known representative on this side of the ocean. Capt. Grattidge's colossal oversight of his old friend smacks of pressures we're unable to comprehend.

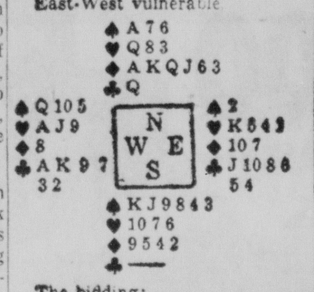
RIGHT SUIT; WRONG CARD

WHEN a shift of leads is obviously called for because of the previous course of play or because dummy has a menacing solid suit, make sure that you choose the right card of the indicated shift-suit. Don't be superficial, as West was in the following case.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable



The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Dble.	4 ♣	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

North didn't have a great deal of strength in the major suits, but his takeout double was nevertheless substantially better than any overcall in diamonds.

West opened the club king and, to his dismay, South ruffed. A low spade was led to the ace and a spade returned. East showing out, declarer saw he could not avoid losing to the queen, so he went up with the king and played a third round.

West, in with the trump queen, had no problem of what suit to lead. Obviously, a club continuation was out of the question, since declarer would ruff and rattle off the solid diamond suit. On the theory (as he explained later) that the one chance to defeat four spades was to find East with both the king and ten of hearts, West cashed the heart ace and then led the jack through dummy's queen. East had the king, all right, but not the ten, and so the defenders could take only two heart tricks.

West's thought about the heart suit was only half correct. Unless East had the heart king, all was lost, of course, but he didn't need the ten. West himself had a combination that was fully the equivalent of A-J-10. Since West realized that there was no hope unless East held the heart king, he also should have realized that his proper play was not the ace of hearts, but the jack. This play would be declarer's undoing. If he covered with dummy's queen, East would win and return a heart through the ten to West's tenace; and if declarer did not cover the jack, the defenders would win three heart tricks by straight leads.

Huge Newsprint Plant To Be Built In Arkansas

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—International Paper Co., world's largest paper manufacturer, will build a 57-million dollar newsprint and paperboard mill near Pine Bluff, Ark., John H. Hinman, chairman, said today.

The plant will open another source of domestic supply for newsprint to U.S. newspapers, which use more than six million tons a year. Up to now, about 80 per cent of this newsprint has been supplied by Canada.

Hinman said construction will begin immediately. The mill will have an annual capacity of 130,000 tons of newsprint and 165,000 tons of bleached Kraft board.

Jessups Inmate Denied Habeas Corpus

Chief Judge George Henderson has filed an opinion in Allegany County Circuit Court denying a writ of habeas corpus to Robert D. Haymire, an inmate at the Maryland House of Correction at Jessups.

Judge Henderson wrote that Haymire had been paroled from the Maryland Reformatory for Males after having served nine months of an 18-month sentence. Prior to the expiration of his parole he was convicted of forgery.

On July 25, 1954, Haymire was sentenced to three years in the House of Correction. After serving about three months of that sentence he was given a hearing before the Department of Parole and Probation. His parole from the previous sentence was revoked and he was ordered to complete the nine months remaining on that sentence before beginning the three-year term. Judge Henderson said the department acted properly under Section 101 of Article 41 of the Code of Maryland which specifies that such sentences must be consecutive in the absence of any other ruling from the court.

Haymire did not explain in his petition to Judge Henderson where he received the sentences.

Health Department Car Program Approved Here

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to discuss the program under the Case Plan by which the state will provide new cars for the county department. The county would pay 3.3 cents per mile for the operating expenses.

At the end of each year the State Health Department would trade in the entire fleet of cars used by the various county health departments and furnish new ones to the units. Each new car would cost an average of $55 p - car, according to information received here.

Dr. Frantz told the commissioners that four cars of his department which have been in use for several years have up to 40,000 miles each in service. The commissioners last week advertised for a new car for the Health Department, but after being informed of the state program yesterday will likely not act on the bid.

The county board told Dr. Frantz to inform the State Health Department that it would participate in the program. The probability of the county obtaining four new cars soon after July 1, when the Case Plan goes into effect, was discussed. The county would sell the cars now in use if four new cars can be obtained under the plan.

Junk Dispute Airing Slated By Co. Board

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris has issued a memorandum in the appeal of James E. Smith from a decision of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners in refusing him a license to operate a used-car lot and junk yard near McCoole.

Smith's request for a permit was rejected some time ago and he then appealed to Circuit Court charging the board's action was arbitrary and capricious and that the board refused to specify the conditions upon which a permit to operate the business would be issued.

Counsel for Smith has informed the court, Judge Harris said, that the applicant is willing to abide by any reasonable conditions which the commissioners may impose for the operation of the business. Council for the board also informed the court that if the cause is remanded to the board for further proceedings they believe that reasonable and satisfactory conditions will be prescribed for operating the business.

Acting on this information, Judge Harris ordered the cause remanded to the county commissioners for further proceedings.

Two Road Complaints Received By Board

Two roads complaints were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Mrs. Cecil Moore requested that holes in Potomac Hollow Road be filled. She said the road has been damaged by bulldozers and power shovels which have been moved on it recently.

Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Robert Walker appeared before the board to ask that repairs be made to Charles Street, which runs off Burke's Hill in the McCoole section. Both complaints were referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

Clements Widow Honored As State's Mother Of Year

ANNAPOLIS, April 10 (AP) — A beautiful woman of 68 years was honored today by her 12 children, most of her 38 grandchildren and numerous friends as Maryland's mother of the year.

Included among the well-wishers was Gov. McKeldin, who said, "Thank God, there are people who think not so much of making a living as making a life."

Mrs. Mary Agnes Guy merely smiled graciously, flanked by the six sons and six daughters who she said have been her whole life.

The Clements, Md., widow was chosen to represent the state in the selection of the national mother of the year in New York later.

The governor presented Mrs. Guy with a miniature State flag with a cross on the staff, a small cross carved from a fallen limb of the Wye oak, a plate on which was painted the State seal, a handkerchief with a picture of the State bird and flower on it, the official certificate naming her mother of the year, a special certificate from his office and a copy of his proclamation of Mother's Week.

The gathering of 90 persons at the luncheon was small in comparison with the annual Guy family picnic, which was attended by 168 last summer.

Kent Island Air Base Opposed

STEVENSVILLE, Md., April 10 (AP)—The Tidewater Chamber of Commerce has reversed its field due to citizen protests and now opposes construction of a Naval Academy airfield on Kent Island.

At a meeting last night, chamber directors voted unanimously to "dissolve and rescind all powers" of a committee named to promote location of the training base on the island.

Last Friday night, a mass meeting of about 400 refused to support the chamber in endorsement of the Kent Island airfield. A Citizens Volunteer committee headed by Dr. R. V. Truitt was organized as a result.

Dr. Truitt, retired head of the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, and former Gov. E. N. Carvel of Delaware have been active in opposition to the airport.

The Tidewater chamber had endorsed the airport by a vote of 18 to 6 at a meeting two weeks ago.

"The chamber," a statement released by Secretary Morris Jones said," will cooperate in every way possible with the Citizens Volunteer Committee."

Rep. Miller (R-Md) previously reported that he had received more than 600 letters opposing the airfield on Kent Island, one of several sites surveyed. Anne Arundel County residents also have opposing the airfield on Kent Island, one of several sites surveyed. Anne Arundel County residents also have opposed location of the airfield at Davidsonville, near the Naval Academy.

Cold, Wet Weather Holds Up Farmers

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 10 (AP)—Maryland farmers are somewhat behind in their work due to inclement weather, the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said today.

Cold, wet weather held up plowing and other agricultural jobs, a survey of conditions showed.

On the other hand, apple and peach trees came through the winter in good shape, as did fall seeded grains. Some damage was done to peach buds in Western Maryland the first week of April.

On the Eastern Shore, green pea planting is about finished but has been delayed by weather west of the bay.

Baltimore Tunnel Section To Be Sunk

BALTIMORE, April 10 (AP)—The first section of the Baltimore Harbor tunnel—a 19 ton steel tube—will be sunk into position at the Fairfield Terminal tomorrow morning.

Governor McKeldin will operate the equipment lowering the 300-foot long tube into a ditch dug in the bottom of Patapsco River.

The ceremony, many times postponed by weather and other factors, will be witnessed by State and city officials.

A dozen of the 21 tubes that will comprise the 1.7 mile long tunnel under the busy waterway between Fairfield and Canton are in the staging basin preliminary to lowering to the harbor bed.

Concrete reinforcing is poured around the steel tubes before they are lowered. As the sections go down, each will be bolted into place, connecting with one already laid. The joints are sealed by welding and concrete.

Approval Of Potomac Channel Survey Seen

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 10 (AP)—Col. Ray Adams, Army district engineer at Washington, has indicated his office will approve a survey of a proposed Potomac River channel from Chesapeake Bay to Washington.

He told a Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday the eight million dollar project would have to be proven economically justified before the $30,000 to $100,000 survey could be undertaken.

Officers Renominated

WESTMINSTER, Md., April 10 (AP)—Westminster's "town meeting" renominated Mayor Joseph L. Mathias and Councilmen Scott S. Bair and Jesse Royer without opposition for the May 14 municipal election.

President Of Seminary To Be Inaugurated Today

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Dr. Norman L. Trott, president of Westminster Theological Seminary which soon will move to the American University Campus here, will be formally inaugurated in ceremonies here tomorrow.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, bishop of the Methodist Church in the Washington area, will preside at the inauguration in Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Church.

A highlight will be the academic procession of 118 bishops, dignitaries of the church, the board of governors of the seminary, trustees of American U., faculty members and guests.

Hurst R. Anderson, president of American, will be among those in the procession which will be led by Douglas R. Chandler as marshal. The procession will start on the American University campus and proceed to the church. A luncheon will precede the ceremony and a reception will follow in Clendenen Hall.

Dr. Trott, who has headed the seminary at Westminster in Western Maryland since January, 1955, will direct its move to Washington.

Eiseenhower Cabinet Has Stayed Pretty Well Put

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Maybe Republicans stood outside for so long looking in that they're determined to hang on once they get a Cabinet post.

Or maybe President Eisenhower, as coach of the GOP team, knows the knack of keeping up squad morale. Whatever the reason, Eisenhower has had remarkably few changes in his official family.

Douglas McKay drops out this week as secretary of the interior, to try for the Oregon Senate seat now held by Wayne Morse, A Democrat. Of the original 10 Cabinet officers picked by Eisenhower, McKay is only the third to quit.

The late Martin P. Durkin, Eisenhower's first secretary of labor, was the first to go. But since Durkin was a Democrat, his resignation wasn't entirely unexpected. Oveta Culp Hobby, the only woman in Eisenhower's Cabinet, is the other who resigned. She was secretary of health, education and welfare.

The rest — Dulles, Humphrey, Wilson, Brownell, Summerfield, Benson and Weeks — have stayed put.

It's hard to tell whether this is a record because the number of Cabinet officers has varied with the years.

James Polk, for example, also had a placid regime, so far as Cabinet changes went. Of his six, four stayed the full four years.

The greatest changes naturally come when a vice president steps up to the head job. He inherits a cabinet that owes him no allegiance, and so he ususally replaces them with his own men.

Possibly the high in cabinet shakeups came under John A. Tyler.

William Harrison died a month after taking office. Tyler not only shucked off Harrison's cabinet, but also did an incredible amount of shuffling on his own.

Before he had served out his 3 years and 11 months, he had had four secretaries of state, three secretaries of war, four secretaries of the treasury, three attorneys general two postmasters general and five secretaries of navy.

The Navy must have had an extra rowboat in those days just to paddle their secretaries in and out of office. Between 1841 and 1846, eight different men had a try at being secretary.

Although Cabinet jobs have changed tremendously with the years, there is no indication this has made much difference in the survival rate.

George Washington managed to hang on to his official family pretty well, even though they were beset with troubles that seem strange to us today.

Atty. Gen. Brownell gets $25,000 a year and supervises 30,000 employes in the Department of Justice. Washington's attorney general, Edmund Randolph, had no Cabinet rating and was expected to work only part time.

Randolph complained that in order to live he had to scrounge around picking up private law cases, "perhaps in a petty mayor's or country court."

He stuck it out, though, for five years.

Improvement In GI Morals Reported

BERLIN, April 10 (AP) — An improvement in the moral standards of American soldiers in Germany was reported today by Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Ryan, chief of U. S. Army chaplains.

Gen. Ryan, on a three-week tour of bases in France and Germany, told newsmen: "Conditions have improved since my last visit. The moral tone is higher."

His last visit was in November 1954. At that time, he reported morals were considered inferior in two West German cities where U. S. troops were concentrated. He didn't name the cities.

Earlier today, Gen. Ryan paid a courtesy call on Bishop Otto Dibelius, titular head of Germany's Evangelical Church.

$250,000 Suit Filed As Result Of Crash

BALTIMORE, April 10 (AP)—Mrs. Mary M. Reid of Washington sued today for $250,000 damages in an automobile accident which she claimed caused permanent injury to her son and daughter.

The Federal Court suit names John A. Ring of Waldorf and T. Edgie Russell of Frederick as defendants. Ring was driving the other car in the accident last September at the intersection of Routes 301 and 227 near Waldorf.

Russell operates a road contracting firm. Mrs. Reid's suit claims his workmen left piles of dirt on the highway which caused the accident.

TV's Ellery Queen Has Real Mystery

WEST LOS ANGELES, April 10 (AP)—Here's a mystery for television's Ellery Queen to solve: What started the fire that caused an estimated $25,000 damage at his Brentwood home this week?

The blaze broke out in a closet at the home of Hugh Marlowe, who plays Queen, and spread to several other rooms before firemen controlled it.

The actor was in San Francisco appearing in a stage play. His wife, actress K. T. Stevens, and the couple's two children and a housekeeper fled unharmed.

One of the main ceremonies will be June 6 at Arromanches, where British troops landed. Sir Winston would attend as honorary president.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 10—(INS)—People . . . places . . . and books. . .

If anybody needs further proof of Stalin's infamy, let him find a slim little dollar book put out a couple of years ago by Farrar, Straus and Young called "Stalin—A Self Portrait." It is a picture book and the captions are from the man's own speeches and works. Samples:

"I joined the revolutionary movement at the age of 15, when I became connected with certain illegal groups." "We pushed forward still more vigorously, brushing every obstacle from our path. It is true that in our course we were obliged to handle some of these comrades roughly. But you cannot help that. I must confess that I too took a hand in this business." "You may be sure that I will not spare anyone." "It cannot be said that the purge was not accompanied by grave mistakes. There were unfortunately more mistakes than might have been expected."

And:

"Weep not for the hair when the head is off." "Paper will put up with anything that is written on it." "In the U.S.S.R. there is no ground for existence of several parties. In the U.S.S.R. there is ground only for one party, the Communist Party." "Have we suppressed the reactionary clergy? Yes, we have."

"It is impossible to conquer an enemy without having learned to hate him with all the might of one's soul." "To choose the victim, to prepare the blow with care, to slake an implacable vengeance, and then to go to bed . . . there is nothing sweeter in the world."

You won't be finding a much warmer story than the same book company's newest, "Deliver Us From Evil," the story of a young Navy doctor who took part in moving 600,000 Vietnamese from the Communist-controlled section of that country to the free area. Adm. Arleigh Burke says, "A story of which the United States Navy is proud." It should be.

Lt. Thomas A. Dooley, M.D. got to Viet Nam via Notre Dame and St. Louis U. For some incredible number of sick and travel-sore refugees he was an indispensable friend and comforter. He tells the story of these people without breast-beating, and thus makes us see more clearly this incredible tragedy that took place on the other side of the world while most of us were concerned with other things.

On his way home after achieving miracles that made him a public hero over there, Dooley was sweating out a plane at Hickam Field, Honolulu, when he heard a yell of "Chao ong bac sy my!" — Vietnamese for "hi, American doctor." A Covey of Vietnamese air force cadets, en route to Texas, had spotted him and all but embraced him to the floor.

He had no trouble remembering them:

"Each of them had a big scar where an ear should have been. I remembered that in the Roman Catholic provinces of Bao Lac, near the frontier of China, the Communist Viet Minh often would tear an ear partially off with a pair of pliers and leave the ear dangling. That was one of the penalties for the crime of listening to evil words. The evil words were 'Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed by Thy name. . . give us this day our daily bread. . . and deliver us from evil. . .' I had amputated the stumps of those ears. Would a boy hear again from that ear? Never. Only from the other ear would he ever hear words, evil or holy."

In "Captain of the Queens," the autobiography of Captain Harry Grattidge, former commodore of the Cunard Line, which E. P. Dutton has just published, the author achieves the miracle of writing 300 pages without a single reference to the man under whom he once served — the great Capt. Charles Ford. Ford, of "The Elizabeth," transported more American servicemen across the Atlantic than any master in history, and before and after World War II was the line's best-known representative on this side of the ocean. Capt. Grattidge's colossal oversight of his old friend smacks of pressures we're unable to comprehend.

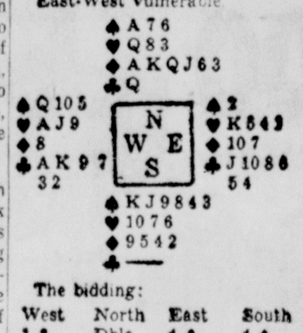
RIGHT SUIT; WRONG CARD

WHEN a shift of leads is obviously called for because of the previous course of play or because dummy has a menacing solid suit, make sure that you choose the right card of the indicated shift-suit. Don't be superficial, as West was in the following case.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable



The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Dble.	4 ♣	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

North didn't have a great deal of strength in the major suits, but his takeout double was nevertheless substantially better than any overcall in diamonds.

West opened the club king and, to his dismay, South ruffed. A low spade was led to the ace and a spade returned. East showing out, declarer saw he could not avoid losing to the queen, so he went up with the king and played a third round.

West, in with the trump queen, had no problem of what suit to lead. Obviously, a club continuation was out of the question, since declarer would ruff and rattle off the solid diamond suit. On the theory (as he explained later) that the one chance to defeat four spades was to find East with both the king and ten of hearts, West cashed the heart ace and then led the jack through dummy's queen. East had the king, all right, but not the ten, and so the defenders could take only two heart tricks.

West's thought about the heart suit was only half correct. Unless East had the heart king, all was lost, of course, but he didn't need the ten. West himself had a combination that was fully the equivalent of A-J-10. Since West realized that there was no hope unless East held the heart king, he also should have realized that his proper play was not the ace of hearts, but the jack. This play would be declarer's undoing. If he covered with dummy's queen, East would win and return a heart through the ten to West's tenace; and if declarer did not cover the jack, the defenders would win three heart tricks by straight leads.

Jessups Inmate Denied Habeas Corpus

Chief Judge George Henderson has filed an opinion in Allegany County Circuit Court denying a writ of habeas corpus to Robert D. Haymire, an inmate at the Maryland House of Correction at Jessups.

Judge Henderson wrote that Haymire had been paroled from the Maryland Reformatory for Males after having served nine months of an 18-month sentence. Prior to the expiration of his parole he was convicted of forgery.

On July 25, 1954, Haymire was sentenced to three years in the House of Correction. After serving about three months of that sentence he was given a hearing before the Department of Parole and Probation. His parole from the previous sentence was revoked and he was ordered to complete the nine months remaining on that sentence before beginning the three-year term. Judge Henderson said the department acted properly under Section 101 of Article 41 of the Code of Maryland which specifies that such sentences must be consecutive in the absence of any other ruling from the court.

Haymire did not explain in his petition to Judge Henderson where he received the sentences.

Huge Newsprint Plant To Be Built In Arkansas

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—International Paper Co., world's largest paper manufacturer, will build a 57-million dollar newsprint and paperboard mill near Pine Bluff, Ark., John H. Hinman, chairman, said today.

The plant will open another source of domestic supply for newsprint to U.S. newspapers, which use more than six million tons a year. Up to now, about 80 per cent of this newsprint has been supplied by Canada.

Hinman said construction will begin immediately. The mill will have an annual capacity of 130,000 tons of newsprint and 165,000 tons of bleached Kraft board.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non-slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Clements Widow Honored As State's Mother Of Year

ANNAPOLIS, April 10 (AP) — A beautiful woman of 68 years was honored today by her 12 children, most of her 38 grandchildren and numerous friends as Maryland's mother of the year.

Included among the well-wishers was Gov. McKeldin, who said, "Thank God, there are people who think not so much of making a living as making a life."

Mrs. Mary Agnes Guy merely smiled graciously, flanked by the six sons and six daughters who she said have been her whole life.

The Clements, Md., widow was chosen to represent the state in the selection of the national mother of the year in New York later.

The governor presented Mrs. Guy with a miniature State flag with a cross on the staff, a small cross carved from a fallen limb of the Wye oak, a plate on which was painted the State seal, a handkerchief with a picture of the State bird and flower on it, the official certificate naming her mother of the year, a special certificate from his office and a copy of his proclamation of Mother's Week.

The gathering of 90 persons at the luncheon was small in comparison with the annual Guy family picnic, which was attended by 168 last summer.

Kent Island Air Base Opposed

STEVENSVILLE, Md., April 10 (AP)—The Tidewater Chamber of Commerce has reversed its field due to citizen protests and now opposes construction of a Naval Academy airfield on Kent Island.

At a meeting last night, chamber directors voted unanimously to "dissolve and rescind all powers" of a committee named to promote location of the training base on the island.

Last Friday night, a mass meeting of about 400 refused to support the chamber in endorsement of the Kent Island airfield. A Citizens Volunteer committee headed by Dr. R. V. Truitt was organized as a result.

Dr. Truitt, retired head of the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, and former Gov. E. N. Carvel of Delaware have been active in opposition to the airport.

The Tidewater chamber had endorsed the airport by a vote of 18 to 6 at a meeting two weeks ago.

"The chamber," a statement released by Secretary Morris Jones said," will cooperate in every way possible with the Citizens Volunteer Committee."

Rep. Miller (R-Md) previously reported that he had received more than 600 letters opposing the airfield on Kent Island, one of several sites surveyed. Anne Arundel County residents also have opposing the airfield on Kent Island, one of several sites surveyed. Anne Arundel County residents also have opposed location of the airfield at Davidsonville, near the Naval Academy.

Approval Of Potomac Channel Survey Seen

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 10 (AP)—Col. Ray Adams, Army district engineer at Washington, has indicated his office will approve a survey of a proposed Potomac River channel from Chesapeake Bay to Washington.

He told a Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday the eight million dollar project would have to be proven economically justified before the $30,000 to $100,000 survey could be undertaken.

Officers Renominated

Cold, Wet Weather Holds Up Farmers

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 10 (AP)—Maryland farmers are somewhat behind in their work due to inclement weather, the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said today.

Cold, wet weather held up plowing and other agricultural jobs, a survey of conditions showed.

On the other hand, apple and peach trees came through the winter in good shape, as did fall seeded grains. Some damage was done to peach buds in Western Maryland the first week of April.

On the Eastern Shore, green pea planting is about finished but has been delayed by weather west of the bay.

Baltimore Tunnel Section To Be Sunk

BALTIMORE, April 10 (AP)—The first section of the Baltimore Harbor tunnel—a 19 ton steel tube—will be sunk into position at the Fairfield Terminal tomorrow morning.

Governor McKeldin will operate the equipment lowering the 300-foot long tube into a ditch dug in the bottom of Patapsco River.

The ceremony, many times postponed by weather and other factors, will be witnessed by State and city officials.

A dozen of the 21 tubes that will comprise the 1.7 mile long tunnel under the busy waterway between Fairfield and Canton are in the staging basin preliminary to lowering to the harbor bed.

Concrete reinforcing is poured around the steel tubes before they are lowered. As the sections go down, each will be bolted into place, connecting with one already laid. The joints are sealed by welding and concrete.

President Of Seminary To Be Inaugurated Today

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Dr. Norman L. Trott, president of Westminster Theological Seminary which soon will move to the American University Campus here, will be formally inaugurated in ceremonies here tomorrow.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, bishop of the Methodist Church in the Washington area, will preside at the inauguration in Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Church.

A highlight will be the academic procession of 118 bishops, dignitaries of the church, the board of governors of the seminary, trustees of American U., faculty members and guests.

Hurst R. Anderson, president of American, will be among those in the procession which will be led by Douglas R. Chandler as marshal. The procession will start on the American University campus and proceed to the church. A luncheon will precede the ceremony and a reception will follow in Clendenen Hall.

Dr. Trott, who has headed the seminary at Westminster in Western Maryland since January, 1955, will direct its move to Washington.

Nationwide Survey Discloses U.S. Is Riding High On Business Boom

Editor's Note—What's the state of the nation's business now? Up and down the length of Main St., U.S.A. most folks say it's good and should be for the rest of the year. There are some notable exceptions — farmers, auto dealers and textile industry do not expect to share in the enveloping prosperity. Here in the first of two articles are the findings of a nationwide survey.

(By The Associated Press)

How's business so far in 1956?

A nationwide survey shows that most folks are better off than they were at this time last year. Jobs are more plentiful, wages higher.

There are soft spots—in farming, automobiles and textiles. Home building is down a little. But by and large, the survey indicates, we're still riding high on the boom.

To get the picture at the Main St. level, the Associated Press interviewed bankers and brokers, merchants and manufacturers, farmers and factory workers, economists and consumers, in 28 major cities.

"Things look awfully good — a lot better than a lot of people expected a few months ago," observed Kurt J. Mahrdt, Indianapolis banker. Herbert Wilson, president and general manager of Kansas City's Emery Bird Thayer department store, opined that "business is good and it should get better" because this is an election year. Leonard Drake, economist for the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, declared: "People are more prosperous today than ever before."

The dominant viewpoint among businessmen queried—that business right now is marking time on a high plateau — shows up, too, in the latest official U. S. government barometers of business. These show most industries—auto manufacturing is the outstanding exception—well ahead of a year ago. Industrial production over-all, according to government statistics, is up 7½ per cent and total employment up 4 per cent. Some government economists say total output of goods and services in the first three months this year may have surpassed the record annual pace of $397,300,000,000 achieved in the final 1955 quarter. Figures released Monday by the Commerce Department showed a half-million gain in employ ent in March with 63,000,000 jobholders.

Leading businessmen in nine of the cities predicted business would definitely be better than last year; in seven cities the consensus was that it would be at least as good. Only six areas reported definite signs of decline and even here there was every indication that the decline would be slight.

In almost every area surveyed, there were one or more leaders who looked for a continuation of the status quo. Business, they felt, would show little change from today's lofty levels. Describing Texas prospects, Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, said: "No signs of a vigorous upswing but neither are there any signs of a collapse."

Figuring prominently in forecasts of good business was the current boom in industrial employment. In 26 of 28 areas checked, jobs were found to be more plentiful than a year ago. The only declines were in Detroit and Kansas City. Industrialists in Delaware and San Francisco complained of a shortage of skilled labor. Denver reported 98 per cent of its working force employed although newcomers are pouring in at the rate of 2,000 a month. Weakest spots in the employment picture were auto manufacturing, carpet weaving, hosiery and textiles. Steel was booming as never before. Employment in the Virginia coal mines was up 23 per cent from a year earlier.

Cutbacks in defense production contributed to growing unemployment in the Kansas City region, where even skilled workers were reported hunting for jobs. Businesses in Detroit suffered from auto cutbacks. Here the forecast is for a summer lull, followed by a riproaring boom in the final months of the year when the auto makers start pushing out their 1957 models.

Along the stores and shops of Main St., U.S.A., the general tone was one of hopeful optimism. Leading retailers in 22 cities said they expect to do more business this year than last, but it was evident that some were keeping their fingers crossed.

A potential barrier to any big increase this year, said merchants, is the consumer who has gone heavily into debt for a new house, a new car or a trip to Europe and now finds most of his earnings sopped up by monthly installment payments. "People are getting caught up with what they went into hock for last year," commented John Stewart, research director for the Detroit Board of Commerce.

To accommodate customers short of ready cash, many department stores are plugging a "revolving credit" plan—a kind of extended charge account system which offers monthly payment terms and low interest charges.

Helping Others Was Her Life

In a quiet, unassuming way, Mrs. Martha Witherup endeared herself to the people of this community and Allegany County. Her job largely was service to others and she worked at it in her kindly, friendly fashion.

Mrs. Witherup was the Red Cross personified. Anyone who knows about the Red Cross in Allegany County (And who doesn't?) knew of Mrs. Witherup, who first became affiliated with the organization in 1929 as chapter chairman. She was executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter since 1944.

Coming to Cumberland in 1921 with her husband, the late Lee W. Witherup, who was one of the original staff members of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company when it located here, Mrs. Witherup readily established herself as a part of this community.

While she devoted much of her efforts to the success of Red Cross fund campaigns, her real interest was in carrying out the objectives of the Red Cross with the personal touch so often lacking in this type of enterprise. People in trouble or sorrow were not mere statistics to her; they were individuals who needed her help.

Her life belonged to the people of the community who, in her passing, have suffered a serious loss.

"Maybe We Should Lock Him Up Again!"

Question By Small Town Reporter At White House Makes Headlines

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Getting a question answered at a White House press conference is becoming somewhat like getting recognized on the floor of the House of Representatives. You sometimes have to tip off the speaker in advance that you want to speak, and even so he will deliberately not recognize someone he figures is going to cause trouble.

So also at the White House.

Last week, the President showed signs of becoming extremely selective in answering questions. Lesser fry among the correspondents made repeated attempts to obtain recognition, but out of the 18 correspondents recognized, four were New York Times men, two from the New York Herald Tribune, two from the Chicago Daily News. Other correspondents recognized were: AP, UP, CBS, NBC, Gannett Newspapers, Washington Post, Newsweek, Cowles Publications, Reuters, and Sarah McClendon of the El Paso Times, Sherman Democrat, San Antonio Light, Austin America, and Longview News and Journal, all in Texas.

Out of the press conference transcript of 92 news column inches, one-fourth was devoted to questions from the New York Times, the same newspaper which graduated Press Secretary Jim Hagerty into government service.

Yet it was the question asked by a small town reporter, Miss McClendon, that got the big headlines next day. She was also the only small town reporter who managed to get an answer from the President and she had quite a hard time getting it.

Persistent Lady

From the start of the press conference Miss McClendon kept bobbing up. But the President did not choose to see her. Once when she addressed him: "Mr. President," he abruptly turned to N.Y. Times reporter James Reston who sat off in a corner and was not noticeably making an effort to obtain recognition.

The persistent Miss McClendon, who never gets discouraged at having her ears pinned back, persevered. And towards the end of the press conference she managed to get out this important question, which the President seemed almost intuitively to have been ducking:

"Would you order those Marines that were sent over to the Mediterranean and over in that area," she asked, "would you order them to war without asking the Congress first?"

The official transcript of the press conference as released to the public by James Hagerty bore a notation at this point: "Laughter." However, newsmen attending the conference remember no laughter, and some suspect the word was inserted as an attempt to belittle Miss McClendon. Certainly it was a most serious question, and the President's reply indicated that he considered it so.

"I get discouraged sometimes here," he said, obviously irritated.

No Laughing Matter

At this point there was definite laughter, though the conference did not so indicate. It quickly stopped, however, as newsmen saw how serious and irritated the President was.

"I have announced time and time again," he continued, "I will never be guilty of any kind of action that can be interpreted as war until Congress, which has the constitutional authority, says so.

"Now, I have said this so often that it seems almost ridiculous to ask me the question. I am—look, how can a war be conducted? You have got to have troops, you have got to have draft laws, you have got to have money. How could you conduct a war without Congress?

"Now their constitutional power is to declare war, and I am going to observe them."

Here the President went on to make a notable exception—namely, "local warlike acts" which is frequently the way wars get started.

"Now, there are times when troops, to defend themselves, may have to be, you might say, undertake local warlike acts; but that is not the declaration of war, and that is not going to war, and I am not going to order any troops into anything that can be interpreted as war until Congress directs it."

British Troops

Behind the importance of Miss McClendon's question was the fact that the British had just decided to use troops, if necessary, to prevent an Arab attack on Israel. Prime Minister Eden had privately queried President Eisenhower whether he would do the same.

Washington Pipeline

Harry Truman has confided to friends he is worried about the fact that two of the top Democratic candidates for President have been divorced. He feels that the example Princess Margaret of England gave the world in vetoing a divorcee, Group Captain Peter Townsend, will hurt any American candidate who has been divorced. So far no divorced man has ever been elected President of the United States . . . George Morris Fay, new counsel for the Senate gas-probe committee, is an A-1 choice, will do a good job if not hamstrung by his Senate bosses . . . A U.S. senator, Republican, has just been cited by the Justice Department, also Republican. . . . He's Senator Hruska of Nebraska, one of the owners of the Center Drive-In Theater of Omaha, sued by the Justice Department for fixing prices and threatening to boycott mtoion picture distributors who supply movies to low-price drive-ins.

Kremlin Capers

Those who closely watch the Communist line do not easily fall into the trap created by the sudden and seemingly unaccountable Russian flare-up against a man who has been comfortably dead for several years — Josef Stalin.

They cannot help being convinced that there is some deep-laid psychological reason for this performance of jumping-on-a-ghost. Nevertheless it is pertinent to remark that the ghost-whipping has had some remarkable and probably unforseen effects in the neutral nations and satellite countries as well as in the West. There are some optimistic observers who believe that this flare-up may go so far as to detonate a counter-revolutionary explosion, with the possibility of destroying the Kremlin's power.

There are rumors of considerable unrest in Italy, Hungary, China, Poland and other countries where communism has more or less of a foothold.

So far as the free nations are concerned, however, this flare-up is just something to watch, with not too much faith in the removal of the Communist menace.

Clear Understanding Of Treaty Powers Needed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower said the other day that he wouldn't "order" American troops into the Middle East or anywhere else without first getting authority from Congress, there was widespread approval. But that wasn't the significant news. It was rather that a President of the United States felt it necessary to give this reassurance to the American people.

Back of it, of course, is Mr. Eisenhower's conviction that American participation in the Korean War should have been specifically authorized by Congress or at least that ratification should have been obtained once intervention was begun.

No Clear-Cut Understanding

To this day there is no clear-cut understanding in Congress as to whether the United Nations' Security Council can "order" American boys into a war without action by the House and Senate.

Every treaty made by the Eisenhower administration governing regional problems has in it a stipulation that "constitutional processes" must be followed. The only one that doesn't contain such a qualification is the North Atlantic Treaty — signed under the Truman administration — which says that an attack on one member country is an attack on all. This is a specific instance in which a treaty has superseded the Constitution at least with a moral commitment that makes automatic a declaration of a state of war by Congress.

The argument made by the Truman administration in June 1950, when the North Korean Communists committed their aggression, was that the action had to be taken instantly and there wasn't time to do more than consult informally some leaders in Congress. That is a satisfactory explanation for the speed with which the first military step had to be taken but it doesn't explain why the Truman regime refused subsequently to lay the whole matter before the two houses of Congress and secure ratification of the state of war which existed. President Wilson in the spring of 1914 had to make a decision at 4 o'clock in the morning ordering American sailors to seize the Customs House in the port of Vera Cruz because there was a German shipment of arms en route there which could cause trouble for American interests. But in the next few days Mr. Wilson personally addressed Congress and obtained a resolution of ratification.

Not Adequately Explained

Just why the Truman administration didn't ask Congress for formal authority to continue to commit American armed forces to the prosecution of the war in Korea has never been explained except with the issuance of a pamphlet containing a long series of precedents — mostly minor police actions — in which the executive had not asked for congressional approval when our armed forces were used.

But there's a difference between a minor action in which Marines are landed at a port to protect American interests and a war involving armies of 1,000,000 on each side and in which the United States is compelled to bear the burden of the fighting.

It has been suggested that the Department of State, which at that time contained influential individuals who believed the Communists in China were "agrarian reformers," didn't want to antagonize the Communist regime in Peiping. It is further argued that a "state of war" if declared by Congress would have permitted our Navy to blockade the China Coast and the Air Force to bomb Chinese supply stations — and this, it was feared, would enlarge the war.

Later on, however, it was precisely the failure to apply this military strategy which caused the defeat of the United Nations forces in Korea. As a sequel the prestige as well as the influence and the power of the United Nations to settle disputes have been weakened. The enforcement sections of the United Nations Charter are meaningless today because the United Nations itself refused to ratify the existence of a state of war in Korea and hypocritically permitted its members to adopt the status, first, of non-belligerency, and later of "neutrality" even to the point of acquiescing when Soviet Russia supplied munitions and military equipment to the North Korean armies.

Constitution Ignored

Enough attention has not been drawn to the deliberate manner by which the Constitution was ignored in the Korean War. For the United Nations Charter is a treaty so far as the United States is concerned, and if a treaty can override the Constitution to the extent that some presidents of the United States feel they can order American boys into war without getting either in advance or afterwards the authorization of Congress then maybe the new Bricker Amendment is going to be necessary. Maybe, too, many members of the Senate who plan to vote against it will have to be prepared to answer to their constituencies next November whether they are ready and willing to order American boys into war by the fiat of the executive and without the specific authority of Congress as the Constitution provides.

Message From Eden

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Are President Eisenhower's subordinates so eager to protect him from worry and strain that matters of great international importance are concealed from him, or their significance obscured?

This question is prompted by the President's answers to certain questions at his most recent press conference. He was twice asked whether he and Prime Minister Anthony Eden had been in recent communication about the Middle Eastern crisis. He was specifically asked whether Eden had recently sent him an important message stressing the gravity of the crisis, and the urgent need for taking action to head off the danger.

Didn't Press Ike

The President seemed honestly puzzled by the questions. Prime Minister Eden and he quite often exchanged messages, he said, and they often contained references to the Middle East. But, he said, "I am certain it is no recent thing they must be talking about." He was sure, he said, that there had been no message from Eden since "some time before" he went to White Sulphur Springs on March 24.

He speculated that perhaps "They are talking about a recent message I haven't received yet." Overall, he left the strong impression that there had been no new, urgent, or important views expressed by Prime Minister Eden on the Middle Eastern crisis. Asked whether the British had been pressing the administration to take a firmer line in the Middle East, the President replied: "Well, if they have, they haven't impressed me."

These presidential responses are mysterious. The questions were largely prompted by a report, which first appeared a week ago in this space in a dispatch from London, that Eden had sent a grave message to the President stressing the growing danger in the Middle East, and the urgent need for basic joint policy decisions for dealing with the crisis. This report was confirmed and elaborated in subsequent dispatches in the British press and elsewhere.

Facts Indisputable

The facts, which are indisputable, are as follows. About two weeks ago a high official of the American embassy in London was summoned to hear the views of Prime Minister Eden. Gravely and even grimly, the prime minister held forth at length about the danger in the Middle East and the pressing need for joint decisions and action by the Anglo-American allies.

Eden indicated that he had called in the American official to make sure that the President knew his views of the situation. The American was naturally impressed by the responsibility involved in reporting a statement so grave as the prime minister's. He therefore asked Eden's permission to quote him verbatim on certain points, to assure absolute accuracy. Eden thereupon himself wrote out a message, clearly intended for the President, which included the warning that major decisions might be not just a matter of days, but even a matter of hours.

Such are the facts. In view of these facts, there seem to be only three ways of explaining the President's answers to his press conference questions.

One theoretical explanation is that the President, for diplomatic or other reasons, was being disingenuous. But this explanation can almost certainly be dismissed. The President is not a dissembler by nature, and his replies clearly suggested that he was honestly puzzled by the questions.

Another possible explanation is that the Eden message somehow got bogged down in the labyrinthine bureaucracy of the State Department. But it seems hard to believe that even the State Department could lose track of an extremely important message on a major international crisis from the British prime minister, in which the prime minister himself laid heavy emphasis on the hour-by-hour urgency of the crisis.

Likely But Disturbing

The only other conceivable explanation is that the message from Eden was not transmitted to the President at all, or transmitted in such a way that its significance was wholly obscured. This seems the most likely explanation. It is also the most disturbing.

Even before the President's heart attack, there was a strong tendency to go to great lengths to spare him unnecessary worry. Since the attack, the tendency has been greatly strengthened. This is natural enough and even laudable within limits. But the limits are surely passed when such a message as Eden's is either concealed from the President, or its meaning muffled. The President himself, who has privately complained on occasion of his subordinates' tendency to over-protect him, is certainly aware that a chief executive of the United States cannot function properly if he is wrapped in yards of cotton batting.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Marty

I do not go in for movies much, having long ago decided that I am familiar with adultery in its various phases and require no further instruction. But the wife insisted that I must see "Marty," because the characters in it reminded her of my relatives.

If ever a motion picture was a realistic portrayal of a phase of American life, this one is. Actually, most of the street scenes were taken where I lived during a part of my boyhood. So I felt perfectly at home and every character was known to me all my life.

This is a story about decent, honest-living, ambitious, hopeful Americans who do their day's work and who are alien to such a picture as preceded "Marty," which had an actress emoting sexually for so many feet of film that she, herself, got tired of it and decided to go home.

Well do I remember the "What shall we do tonight?" argument. In my day, there were fewer places to go to. Movies were a rarity. So we generally ended up in somebody's house and somebody played the piano and we sang all the old songs, most of which were then new, and maybe we sent out for some cold meats or frankfurters and we had ourselves a party. Was it so bad?

Or maybe we got into an argument, if there were any intellectuals around, on Ibsen, Shaw, Havelock Ellis, Kropotkin, Marx or even just plain guys like William Howard Taft, or Woodrow Wilson. Young intellectuals can always start an argument, but who needs to finish one? Some of our debates were 4,000 years old or longer, like if God is so good, why did he make rattlesnakes?

There used to be two or three dancing places in my time, like the one in "Marty." One was at a picnic ground at Classon Point, if I spell it right. The place has disappeared and now is all settled with small houses that crowd each other like we used to crowd on the dance floor. It was the days of the "Bunny Hug" and other forms of exhibitionism but no harm was done and when a fellow married a girl, they stayed married and produced a family which is more than can be said for the fancy elopments arranged nowadays by press agents.

"Marty" reminded me of that wonderful world which apparently has continued to exist in Paddy Chayefsky's day as it did in my youth. Chayefsky, I do not know but I honor him not only for his genius but for not changing his name to some idiotic alliteration like Chayshay, for it is the coward who runs away from the facts of his life and a name is a fact. Curiously that is what Marty is saying all through that picture: he is what he is. It would seem that Ernest Borgnine, who is now a famous man because of "Marty," in his private person, is also like that and I thrilled to the fact that when not knowing what to say, he thanked his mother for his career rather than somebody who came from Brooklyn, changed his name, became a great man in Hollywood and exacts his pound of flesh not in dollars but in adulation.

Any female can be taught to slither and to simulate passion, but only a sincere person can play such a part as Marty's mother because not only must she sympathize with the role, but she must understand it. When Marty's mother asks if his girl is Italian, she raises a question which can be heard in a thousand homes every day when a child is about to marry "out," as the expression is. And nowhere is it liked, not because of prejudice or hatred but because such differences can make for difficulties. "Who buys Italian meat these days? She buys a lamb chop wrapped in cellophane." That is exactly what can cause trouble because most of us are what we are brought up to be and even if you eat five times a week at the Colony, the Pavillon, Luchow's or any other fancy restaurant, at least twice a week you want to relax, overeating the way mother cooked it and getting indigestion thereby.

How It Happened

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Arthur "Bugs" Baer is the originator of some of America's most-often-repeated sayings. In the absence of his regular column—"Baering Down On the News"—because of his illness, The Cumberland News is presenting Baer's own explanations of how he came to coin some of the more famous of his sayings.

"She used to go with the landlord but now she goes with the lease."

Don't get the impression that this lady was a tramp just because the boys were marching.

She was a perfectly respectable doll who had come to the big city to model dishwater hands, hearing aids and filet mignons.

Her operatic career was a squeak in a mousetrap, and with the years the world was uphill both ways.

The paragraph is actually a biography in a line, but I always felt it was an uncorroborated criticism. I wish I hadn't said it.

However, it became a standard gag in vaudeville and a byline in subtitles.

I used it at a dinner the Saturday Night Boys gave to Captain Irving O'Hay, the hero of six wars and a Shubert unit.

That was around 1920 or even less. When I wrote all these lines about the ladies I was a bachelor.

No married man has the nerve to crack wise about the gals.

I never knew the girl who went, first with landlord, and then with the lease. I never was a landlord.

Gland Extract Is Used To Treat Lipodystrophy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The obese individual may find it difficult to cope with his excess blubber but his troubles are insignificant compared with the victim of lipodystrophy. In this condition, fat disappears from the upper part of the body and settles in the thighs, buttocks, and legs.

The cause of this strange disorder is not known. Early changes are so slight they may pass unnoticed. The face is affected first. As fat vanishes from the skin, the temples become hollowed and the cheekbones prominent. Loss of fat about the orbit gives the eyes a sunken appearance. Numerous wrinkles appear and friends may comment on how old Mrs. Jones is beginning to look.

Meanwhile, there is an accumulation of fat in the lower half of the body, particularly about the buttocks and outer aspects of the thighs. Changes in these areas are just as noticeable as the decrease of fat in the face, chest, abdomen, and arms.

The usual treatment is thyroid, ovarian, or pituitary extract because the condition resembles a glandular disturbance. Massage is favored by those who believe that fat can be redistributed through force and manipulation. Temporary improvement has followed plastic surgery in which fat is transplanted from buttocks to face.

Injections of specially prepared mixtures of human fat and mutton suet also have been tried. But such remedies are useless, as a rule. Flesh continues to settle at an estimated rate of one inch a year.

Adiposis dolorosa is another unusual disturbance in which fat is involved. Victims of this condition develop painful fatty nodules over various parts of the body. These lumps should not be confused with fatty tumors (lipomas) which are more common.

The nodules of adiposis dolorosa are sore and tender to the touch and in time, break down into abscesses. This creates multiple regions of inflammation. The disease tends to come and go. In some instances, years elapse between bouts. In others, painful nodules are few in number and are confined to one or two extremities. To my knowledge, there is no satisfactory treatment.

TOMORROW: Smoking is taboo in Buerger's disease.

SHE'S LETTING GO

Mrs. D. writes: My 34-year-old daughter has a nice office position but recently has grown careless about hygiene. Her neck, arms, and ears go unwashed for three days and when she does take a bath the mud has to be scraped from the tub. Is she too old to be helped?

REPLY

No. If her condition represents carelessness, a heart to heart talk with a friend may accomplish more than mother can. But if your daughter is depressed and has lost interest in her personal appearance a physician ought to be consulted.

WHITE DOTS

C. M. writes: What can be done for whiteheads?

REPLY

These white, millet sized lesions develop on the face especially around the eyes. They can be punctured with the end of a scalpel and the contents expressed gently.

REST MORE

S. W. writes: I've always indulged in many outside activities and now, in my late 30s, while I have the physical pep to continue a heavy schedule, I find I'm not as mentally alert as I should be. Do I lack something?

REPLY

You are discovering what most people nearing 40 realize is a natural phenomenon. This the beginning of that "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be" feeling. On the other hand you will be as sharp as you need to be if you concentrate on doing the things people your age are supposed to do rather than on trying to act like a 20-year-old.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

In the early days of the Supreme Court, one of its members was a bit too fond of the bottle, and even imbibed while he was sitting on the bench. The great Chief Justice John Marshall despaired of reforming him completely, but did get him to agree to drink only during such sessions as were held in rainy, rheumatism-encouraging weather. However, Marshall caught him in chambers taking a swig shortly thereafter on a warm spring day when there was not a single cloud in the sky.

But the offending justice was ready with a defense. "The Supreme Court," he announced grandly, "has jurisdiction, as I see it, over the entire United States And somewhere in this country at this very time it's raining to beat Hades. I have therefore kept my promise to you faithfully."

While Marshall pondered this reply, the triumphant jurist finished his wet weather "medicine."

Three Hurt In Series Of Mishaps

Three local and area persons were injured in separate accidents yesterday and all were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

A two-year-old child was reported to have been struck by a truck yesterday afternoon on Williams Street, although the driver apparently was unaware he hit the child.

Taken to the hospital was Kenneth Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, of 412 Louisiana Avenue. Attaches, who said the boy was in "good" condition, reported that he suffered brush burns of his left foot.

A four-year-old boy playing with a toy gun caught the ring finger of his right hand and badly injured his finger.

Edward McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKay, of 990 National Highway was admitted to the hospital for X-rays and observation.

In the third mishap, Mrs. Dorothy Hutcheson, 55, of 308 Bedford Street, slipped off the curb on Bedford Street, injuring her left elbow.

She was admitted for X-rays and observation.

Recreation Month To Be Marked Here

The Cumberland Recreation Department will join in the June observance of National Recreation Month, according to Robert E. Pence, director.

Mottos for the month, he said, will be "Live all your life" and "You're as young as you feel and you'll feel and look younger if you include healthful recreation in your daily schedule."

Recreation for citizens of all ages, Pence said, is one of the aims of the department, and progress was made last year in expanding the program.

Added, he said, were bridge, stamp and coin clubs, a Senior Citizens Club, a Youth Day observance and Saturday gymnasium sessions, open to all age groups.

The department, he said, will try to provide special programs for as many age groups as possible during June.

In addition to special events, the month will mark the opening of the city playgrounds, the major activity of the department.

The observance, Pence said, is intended to focus public attention on the importance of recreation for richer living, and the recreation resources available on the community, state and national level.

Real Estate To Remain Stable, Executive Says

A prediction that the real estate market will remain stable this year was voiced by Erle Stapleton, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards last night at a meeting of the Cumberland Real Estate Board at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Speaking at the meeting sponsored by the local realtors, the realty executive from the Washington, D. C., zone office pointed out that home building last year was a major factor contributing to good business conditions. The volume this year, predicted to reach 1,200,000, could increase with the demand for homes strong throughout the nation, Stapleton said.

Construction work throughout the country should exceed last year by seven per cent, he said, and this would break all previous records as well as assure a good business year.

At an earlier luncheon meeting, Stapleton also addressed the Cumberland Rotary Club, where he said a broad program of neighborhood conservation and improvement, based on strict enforcement of local health and safety requirements for housing, is proposed for Cumberland.

The full-scale program outlined by Stapleton would coordinate rehabilitation of neglected housing through voluntary action by property owners, demolition of housing found to be unfit for rehabilitation, improvement by local government of streets, sewers, sidewalks, playgrounds, schools, street lights as needed, the attraction for construction of new houses on sites long vacant, and the rezoning, if necessary, and closing of some streets to give neighborhoods a protected, safer and more livable quality.

Financing for home improvements or building is now available, he said, through rehabilitation mortgage insurance obtainable by money lenders on mortgages. This type of insurance may cover mortgage loans for terms as long as 30 years with down payments of 10 per cent and at an interest rate of 4½ per cent.

John F. Workmeister, president of the Cumberland Real Estate Board, introduced Stapleton to the local realtors.

Nationwide Survey Discloses U.S. Is Riding High On Business Boom

Editor's Note—What's the state of the nation's business now? Up and down the length of Main St., U.S.A. most folks say it's good and should be for the rest of the year. There are some notable exceptions — farmers, auto dealers and textile industry do not expect to share in the enveloping prosperity. Here in the first of two articles are the findings of a nationwide survey.

(By The Associated Press)

How's business so far in 1956?

A nationwide survey shows that most folks are better off than they were at this time last year. Jobs are more plentiful, wages higher.

There are soft spots—in farming, automobiles and textiles. Home building is down a little. But by and large, the survey indicates, we're still riding high on the boom.

To get the picture at the Main St. level, the Associated Press interviewed bankers and brokers, merchants and manufacturers, farmers and factory workers, economists and consumers, in 28 major cities.

"Things look awfully good — a lot better than a lot of people expected a few months ago," observed Kurt J. Mahrdt, Indianapolis banker. Herbert Wilson, president and general manager of Kansas City's Emery Bird Thayer department store, opined that "business is good and it should get better" because this is an election year. Leonard Drake, economist for the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, declared: "People are more prosperous today than ever before."

The dominant viewpoint among businessmen queried—that business right now is marking time on a high plateau — shows up, too, in the latest official U. S. government barometers of business. These show most industries—auto manufacturing is the outstanding exception—well ahead of a year ago. Industrial production over-all, according to government statistics, is up 7½ per cent and total employment up 4 per cent. Some government economists say total output of goods and services in the first three months this year may have surpassed the record annual pace of $397,300,000,000 achieved in the final 1955 quarter. Figures released Monday by the Commerce Department showed a half-million gain in employ ent in March with 63,000,000 jobholders.

Leading businessmen in nine of the cities predicted business would definitely be better than last year; in seven cities the consensus was that it would be at least as good. Only six areas reported definite signs of decline and even here there was every indication that the decline would be slight.

In almost every area surveyed, there were one or more leaders who looked for a continuation of the status quo. Business, they felt, would show little change from today's lofty levels. Describing Texas prospects, Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, said: "No signs of a vigorous upswing but neither are there any signs of a collapse."

Figuring prominently in forecasts of good business was the current boom in industrial employment. In 26 of 28 areas checked, jobs were found to be more plentiful than a year ago. The only declines were in Detroit and Kansas City. Industrialists in Delaware and San Francisco complained of a shortage of skilled labor. Denver reported 98 per cent of its working force employed although newcomers are pouring in at the rate of 2,000 a month. Weakest spots in the employment picture were auto manufacturing, carpet weaving, hosiery and textiles. Steel was booming as never before. Employment in the Virginia coal mines was up 23 per cent from a year earlier.

Cutbacks in defense production contributed to growing unemployment in the Kansas City region, where even skilled workers were reported hunting for jobs. Businesses in Detroit suffered from auto cutbacks. Here the forecast is for a summer lull, followed by a riproaring boom in the final months of the year when the auto makers start pushing out their 1957 models.

Along the stores and shops of Main St., U.S.A., the general tone was one of hopeful optimism. Leading retailers in 22 cities said they expect to do more business this year than last, but it was evident that some were keeping their fingers crossed.

A potential barrier to any big increase this year, said merchants, is the consumer who has gone heavily into debt for a new house, a new car or a trip to Europe and now finds most of his earnings sopped up by monthly installment payments. "People are getting caught up with what they went into hock for last year," commented John Stewart, research director for the Detroit Board of Commerce.

To accommodate customers short of ready cash, many department stores are plugging a "revolving credit" plan—a kind of extended charge account system which offers monthly payment terms and low interest charges.

Close Report Tag Sale Cost $1,678

J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, submitted a bill to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday for the expenses in the sale of auto license tags by his office in recent months.

The cost of the tag sale was $1,678.27 with $1,284 being the salaries of extra clerical help. Other items included $25.68 for Social Security, $37.50 for extra bond of tax collector required by state, $46.42 bond on extra employes, $11.25 for Workmen's Compensation, $8.75 for liability insurance on extra help, $64.50 for burglary and theft insurance, $110 for rental of equipment such as cash registers, $24.49 for office supplies, $15.78 for postage, $24 for unloading tags, $3.75 for night depository, $10 for typing expenses, and $12.15 for rubber stamps.

Close also reported receipts of $2,608.20 in the 15 cent fee charged each car owner purchasing tags at the tax collector's office. The county is realizing $929.97 on the sale of license tags.

When Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson questioned the expenses listed by Close an opinion by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, was read. In the opinion, Getty said that the costs of the car tag sale were to be borne by the county and taken from the receipts of such sales.

Close noted in his report that the $1,678.27 did not include any cost to the county for the services of the tax collector or his assistant.

Russian Gift To China

TOKYO, April 10 (AP) — Radio Peiping says a pair of rare black swans have been given to Peiping zoo by the Soviet Zoo in Moscow.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Posture Perfect

From the time you were a little girl, teachers and your parents have reminded you to stand up straight. Now that you are at the age when you're interested in a smooth appearance and are more figure conscious, you probably are appreciating their efforts for the first time. Of course, they know from experience that nature gave us our body structure, but you can improve it yourself, and some of the best figures are self-created.

When you look around among your school chums you can see that a straight lovely back is a beauty asset every smart girl wants. It will increase your graceabilities and poise, make your clothes fit better, and certainly give you more charm. My booklet, "Your Posture," was written just for you to help solve your posture problems. Send me 10c in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, c/o this newspaper, and the booklet is yours.

Have you ever realized that poor posture can actually be a hindrance to your health? Doctors tell us it can disrupt normal breathing, circulation, digestion, and placement of internal organs. A girl who is habitually hunching her shoulders, thus crowding her lungs, can deprive herself of bright eyes and glowing healthy skin.

And what an impression posture makes on the parents of your friends and all people you meet, for that matter. Carry yourself well and you show everyone how poised, alert, and nice you are to know. We know from long experience that correct posture along with graceful stance brings greater admiration to a Powers Girl than her one-in-a-thousand face.

Man, Woman Given Suspended Sentences

Mrs. Unity Parker, 44, of 23 South Centre Street and Francis D. Largent, 42, received suspended sentences in Juvenile Court Saturday for contributing to the delinquency of the woman's children.

Mrs. Parker also received a suspended 30-day sentence in Trial Magistrates Court on charges of assaulting Largent in her home several days ago. Police said she attacked the man with a knife and Largent required several stitches to close a wound in his head, police said.

Magistrate Morris Baron in Juvenile Court gave the man a year's sentence in the Maryland House of Correction and suspended it on the condition Largent leave Cumberland and the county. He also suspended Mrs. Parker's six-months sentence on the condition she be of good behavior, discontinue her association with Largent and provide for her children.

Helping Others Was Her Life

In a quiet, unassuming way, Mrs. Martha Witherup endeared herself to the people of this community and Allegany County. Her job largely was service to others and she worked at it in her kindly, friendly fashion.

Mrs. Witherup was the Red Cross personified. Anyone who knows about the Red Cross in Allegany County (And who doesn't?) knew of Mrs. Witherup, who first became affiliated with the organization in 1929 as chapter chairman. She was executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter since 1944.

Coming to Cumberland in 1921 with her husband, the late Lee W. Witherup, who was one of the original staff members of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company when it located here, Mrs. Witherup readily established herself as a part of this community.

While she devoted much of her efforts to the success of Red Cross fund campaigns, her real interest was in carrying out the objectives of the Red Cross with the personal touch so often lacking in this type of enterprise. People in trouble or sorrow were not mere statistics to her; they were individuals who needed her help.

Her life belonged to the people of the community who, in her passing, have suffered a serious loss.

"Maybe We Should Lock Him Up Again!"

Question By Small Town Reporter At White House Makes Headlines

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Getting a question answered at a White House press conference is becoming somewhat like getting recognized on the floor of the House of Representatives. You sometimes have to tip off the speaker in advance that you want to speak, and even so he will deliberately not recognize someone he figures is going to cause trouble.

So also at the White House.

Last week, the President showed signs of becoming extremely selective in answering questions. Lesser fry among the correspondents made repeated attempts to obtain recognition, but out of the 18 correspondents recognized, four were New York Times men, two from the New York Herald Tribune, two from the Chicago Daily News. Other correspondents recognized were: AP, UP, CBS, NBC, Gannett Newspapers, Washington Post, Newsweek, Cowles Publications, Reuters, and Sarah McClendon of the El Paso Times, Sherman Democrat, San Antonio Light, Austin America, and Longview News and Journal, all in Texas.

Out of the press conference transcript of 92 news column inches, one-fourth was devoted to questions from the New York Times, the same newspaper which graduated Press Secretary Jim Hagerty into government service.

Yet it was the question asked by a small town reporter, Miss McClendon, that got the big headlines next day. She was also the only small town reporter who managed to get an answer from the President and she had quite a hard time getting it.

Persistent Lady

From the start of the press conference Miss McClendon kept bobbing up. But the President did not choose to see her. Once when she addressed him: "Mr. President," he abruptly turned to N.Y. Times reporter James Reston who sat off in a corner and was not noticeably making an effort to obtain recognition.

The persistent Miss McClendon, who never gets discouraged at having her ears pinned back, persevered. And towards the end of the press conference she managed to get out this important question, which the President seemed almost intuitively to have been ducking:

"Would you order those Marines that were sent over to the Mediterranean and over in that area," she asked, "would you order them to war without asking the Congress first?"

The official transcript of the press conference as released to the public by James Hagerty bore a notation at this point: "Laughter." However, newsmen attending the conference remember no laughter, and some suspect the word was inserted as an attempt to belittle Miss McClendon. Certainly it was a most serious question, and the President's reply indicated that he considered it so.

"I get discouraged sometimes here," he said, obviously irritated.

No Laughing Matter

At this point there was definite laughter, though the conference did not so indicate. It quickly stopped, however, as newsmen saw how serious and irritated the President was.

"I have announced time and time again," he continued, "I will never be guilty of any kind of action that can be interpreted as war until Congress, which has the constitutional authority, says so.

"Now, I have said this so often that it seems almost ridiculous to ask me the question. I am—look, how can a war be conducted? You have got to have troops, you have got to have draft laws, you have got to have money. How could you conduct a war without Congress?

"Now their constitutional power is to declare war, and I am going to observe them."

Here the President went on to make a notable exception—namely, "local warlike acts" which is frequently the way wars get started.

"Now, there are times when troops, to defend themselves, may have to be, you might say, undertake local warlike acts; but that is not the declaration of war, and that is not going to war, and I am not going to order any troops into anything that can be interpreted as war until Congress directs it."

British Troops

Behind the importance of Miss McClendon's question was the fact that the British had just decided to use troops, if necessary, to prevent an Arab attack on Israel. Prime Minister Eden had privately queried President Eisenhower whether he would do the same.

Washington Pipeline

Harry Truman has confided to friends he is worried about the fact that two of the top Democratic candidates for President have been divorced. He feels that the example Princess Margaret of England gave the world in vetoing a divorcee, Group Captain Peter Townsend, will hurt any American candidate who has been divorced. So far no divorced man has ever been elected President of the United States . . . George Morris Fay, new counsel for the Senate gas-probe committee, is an A-1 choice, will do a good job if not hamstrung by his Senate bosses . . . .A U.S. senator, Republican, has just been cited by the Justice Department, also Republican. . . . He's Senator Hruska of Nebraska, one of the owners of the Center Drive-In Theater of Omaha, sued by the Justice Department for fixing prices and threatening to boycott mtoion picture distributors who supply movies to low-price drive-ins.

Kremlin Capers

Those who closely watch the Communist line do not easily fall into the trap created by the sudden and seemingly unaccountable Russian flare-up against a man who has been comfortably dead for several years — Josef Stalin.

They cannot help being convinced that there is some deep-laid psychological reason for this performance of jumping-on-a-ghost. Nevertheless it is pertinent to remark that the ghost-whipping has had some remarkable and probably unforseen effects in the neutral nations and satellite countries as well as in the West. There are some optimistic observers who believe that this flare-up may go so far as to detonate a counter-revolutionary explosion, with the possibility of destroying the Kremlin's power.

There are rumors of considerable unrest in Italy, Hungary, China, Poland and other countries where communism has more or less of a foothold.

So far as the free nations are concerned, however, this flare-up is just something to watch, with not too much faith in the removal of the Communist menace.

Clear Understanding Of Treaty Powers Needed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower said the other day that he wouldn't "order" American troops into the Middle East or anywhere else without first getting authority from Congress, there was widespread approval. But that wasn't the significant news. It was rather that a President of the United States felt it necessary to give this reassurance to the American people.

Back of it, of course, is Mr. Eisenhower's conviction that American participation in the Korean War should have been specifically authorized by Congress or at least that ratification should have been obtained once intervention was begun.

No Clear-Cut Understanding

To this day there is no clear-cut understanding in Congress as to whether the United Nations' Security Council can "order" American boys into a war without action by the House and Senate.

Every treaty made by the Eisenhower administration governing regional problems has in it a stipulation that "constitutional processes" must be followed. The only one that doesn't contain such a qualification is the North Atlantic Treaty — signed under the Truman administration — which says that an attack on one member country is an attack on all. This is a specific instance in which a treaty has superseded the Constitution at least with a moral commitment that makes automatic a declaration of a state of war by Congress.

The argument made by the Truman administration in June 1950, when the North Korean Communists committed their aggression, was that the action had to be taken instantly and there wasn't time to do more than consult informally some leaders in Congress. That is a satisfactory explanation for the speed with which the first military step had to be taken but it doesn't explain why the Truman regime refused subsequently to lay the whole matter before the two houses of Congress and secure ratification of the state of war which existed. President Wilson in the spring of 1914 had to make a decision at 4 o'clock in the morning ordering American sailors to seize the Customs House in the port of Vera Cruz because there was a German shipment of arms en route there which could cause trouble for American interests. But in the next few days Mr. Wilson personally addressed Congress and obtained a resolution of ratification.

Not Adequately Explained

Just why the Truman administration didn't ask Congress for formal authority to continue to commit American armed forces to the prosecution of the war in Korea has never been explained except with the issuance of a pamphlet containing a long series of precedents — mostly minor police actions — in which the executive had not asked for congressional approval when our armed forces were used.

But there's a difference between a minor action in which Marines are landed at a port to protect American interests and a war involving armies of 1,000,000 on each side and in which the United States is compelled to bear the burden of the fighting.

It has been suggested that the Department of State, which at that time contained influential individuals who believed the Communists in China were "agrarian reformers," didn't want to antagonize the Communist regime in Peiping. It is further argued that a "state of war" if declared by Congress would have permitted our Navy to blockade the China Coast and the Air Force to bomb Chinese supply stations — and this, it was feared, would enlarge the war.

Later on, however, it was precisely the failure to apply this military strategy which caused the defeat of the United Nations forces in Korea. As a sequel the prestige as well as the influence and the power of the United Nations to settle disputes have been weakened. The enforcement sections of the United Nations Charter are meaningless today because the United Nations itself refused to ratify the existence of a state of war in Korea and hypocritically permitted its members to adopt the status, first, of non-belligerency, and later of "neutrality" even to the point of acquiescing when Soviet Russia supplied munitions and military equipment to the North Korean armies.

Constitution Ignored

Enough attention has not been drawn to the deliberate manner by which the Constitution was ignored in the Korean War. For the United Nations Charter is a treaty so far as the United States is concerned, and if a treaty can override the Constitution to the extent that some presidents of the United States feel they can order American boys into war without getting either in advance or afterwards the authorization of Congress then maybe the new Bricker Amendment is going to be necessary. Maybe, too, many members of the Senate who plan to vote against it will have to be prepared to answer to their constituencies next November whether they are ready and willing to order American boys into war by the fiat of the executive and without the specific authority of Congress as the Constitution provides.

Message From Eden

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Are President Eisenhower's subordinates so eager to protect him from worry and strain that matters of great international importance are concealed from him, or their significance obscured?

This question is prompted by the President's answers to certain questions at his most recent press conference. He was twice asked whether he and Prime Minister Anthony Eden had been in recent communication about the Middle Eastern crisis. He was specifically asked whether Eden had recently sent him an important message stressing the gravity of the crisis, and the urgent need for taking action to head off the danger.

Didn't Press Ike

The President seemed honestly puzzled by the questions. Prime Minister Eden and he quite often exchanged messages, he said, and they often contained references to the Middle East. But, he said, "I am certain it is no recent thing they must be talking about." He was sure, he said, that there had been no message from Eden since "some time before" he went to White Sulphur Springs on March 24.

He speculated that perhaps "They are talking about a recent message I haven't received yet." Overall, he left the strong impression that there had been no new, urgent, or important views expressed by Prime Minister Eden on the Middle Eastern crisis. Asked whether the British had been pressing the administration to take a firmer line in the Middle East, the President replied: "Well, if they have, they haven't impressed me."

These presidential responses are mysterious. The questions were largely prompted by a report, which first appeared a week ago in this space in a dispatch from London, that Eden had sent a grave message to the President stressing the growing danger in the Middle East, and the urgent need for basic joint policy decisions for dealing with the crisis. This report was confirmed and elaborated in subsequent dispatches in the British press and elsewhere.

Facts Indisputable

The facts, which are indisputable, are as follows. About two weeks ago a high official of the American embassy in London was summoned to hear the views of Prime Minister Eden. Gravely and even grimly, the prime minister held forth at length about the danger in the Middle East and the pressing need for joint decisions and action by the Anglo-American allies.

Eden indicated that he had called in the American official to make sure that the President knew his views of the situation. The American was naturally impressed by the responsibility involved in reporting a statement so grave as the prime minister's. He therefore asked Eden's permission to quote him verbatim on certain points, to assure absolute accuracy. Eden thereupon himself wrote out a message, clearly intended for the President, which included the warning that major decisions might be not just a matter of days, but even a matter of hours.

Such are the facts. In view of these facts, there seem to be only three ways of explaining the President's answers to his press conference questions.

One theoretical explanation is that the President, for diplomatic or other reasons, was being disingenuous. But this explanation can almost certainly be dismissed. The President is not a dissembler by nature, and his replies clearly suggested that he was honestly puzzled by the questions.

Another possible explanation is that the Eden message somehow got bogged down in the labyrinthine bureaucracy of the State Department. But it seems hard to believe that even the State Department could lose track of an extremely important message on a major international crisis from the British prime minister, in which the prime minister himself laid heavy emphasis on the hour-by-hour urgency of the crisis.

Likely But Disturbing

The only other conceivable explanation is that the message from Eden was not transmitted to the President at all, or transmitted in such a way that its significance was wholly obscured. This seems the most likely explanation. It is also the most disturbing.

Even before the President's heart attack, there was a strong tendency to go to great lengths to spare him unnecessary worry. Since the attack, the tendency has been greatly strengthened. This is natural enough and even laudable within limits. But the limits are surely passed when such a message as Eden's is either concealed from the President, or its meaning muffled. The President himself, who has privately complained on occasion of his subordinates' tendency to over-protect him, is certainly aware that a chief executive of the United States cannot function properly if he is wrapped in yards of cotton batting.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Marty

I do not go in for movies much, having long ago decided that I am familiar with adultery in its various phases and require no further instruction. But the wife insisted that I must see "Marty," because the characters in it reminded her of my relatives.

If ever a motion picture was a realistic portrayal of a phase of American life, this one is. Actually, most of the street scenes were taken where I lived during a part of my boyhood. So I felt perfectly at home and every character was known to me all my life.

This is a story about decent, honest-living, ambitious, hopeful Americans who do their day's work and who are alien to such a picture as preceded "Marty," which had an actress emoting sexually for so many feet of film that she, herself, got tired of it and decided to go home.

Well do I remember the "What shall we do tonight?" argument. In my day, there were fewer places to go to. Movies were a rarity. So we generally ended up in somebody's house and somebody played the piano and we sang all the old songs, most of which were then new, and maybe we sent out for some cold meats or frankfurters and we had ourselves a party. Was it so bad?

Or maybe we got into an argument, if there were any intellectuals around, on Ibsen, Shaw, Havelock Ellis, Kropotkin, Marx or even just plain guys like William Howard Taft, or Woodrow Wilson. Young intellectuals can always start an argument, but who needs to finish one? Some of our debates were 4,000 years old or longer, like if God is so good, why did he make rattlesnakes?

There used to be two or three dancing places in my time, like the one in "Marty." One was at a picnic ground at Classon Point, if I spell it right. The place has disappeared and now is all settled with small houses that crowd each other like we used to crowd on the dance floor. It was the days of the "Bunny Hug" and other forms of exhibitionism but no harm was done and when a fellow married a girl, they stayed married and produced a family which is more than can be said for the fancy elopments arranged nowadays by press agents.

"Marty" reminded me of that wonderful world which apparently has continued to exist in Paddy Chayefsky's day as it did in my youth. Chayefsky, I do not know but I honor him not only for his genius but for not changing his name to some idiotic alliteration like Chayshay, for it is the coward who runs away from the facts of his life and a name is a fact. Curiously that is what Marty is saying all through that picture: he is what he is. It would seem that Ernest Borgnine, who is now a famous man because of "Marty," in his private person, is also like that and I thrilled to the fact that when not knowing what to say, he thanked his mother for his career rather than somebody who came from Brooklyn, changed his name, became a great man in Hollywood and exacts his pound of flesh not in dollars but in adulation.

Any female can be taught to slither and to simulate passion, but only a sincere person can play such a part as Marty's mother because not only must she sympathize with the role, but she must understand it. When Marty's mother asks if his girl is Italian, she raises a question which can be heard in a thousand homes every day when a child is about to marry "out," as the expression is. And nowhere is it liked, not because of prejudice or hatred but because such differences can make for difficulties. "Who buys Italian meat these days? She buys a lamb chop wrapped in cellophane." That is exactly what can cause trouble because most of us are what we are brought up to be and even if you eat five times a week at the Colony, the Pavillon, Luchow's or any other fancy restaurant, at least twice a week you want to relax, overeating the way mother cooked it and getting indigestion thereby.

How It Happened

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Arthur "Bugs" Baer is the originator of some of America's most-often-repeated sayings. In the absence of his regular column—"Baering Down On the News"—because of his illness, The Cumberland News is presenting Baer's own explanations of how he came to coin some of the more famous of his sayings.

"She used to go with the landlord but now she goes with the lease."

Don't get the impression that this lady was a tramp just because the boys were marching.

She was a perfectly respectable doll who had come to the big city to model dishwater hands, hearing aids and filet mignons.

Her operatic career was a squeak in a mousetrap, and with the years the world was uphill both ways.

The paragraph is actually a biography in a line, but I always felt it was an uncorroborated criticism. I wish I hadn't said it.

However, it became a standard gag in vaudeville and a byline in subtitles.

I used it at a dinner the Saturday Night Boys gave to Captain Irving O'Hay, the hero of six wars and a Shubert unit.

That was around 1920 or even less. When I wrote all these lines about the ladies I was a bachelor.

No married man has the nerve to crack wise about the gals.

I never knew the girl who went, first with landlord, and then with the lease. I never was a landlord.

Gland Extract Is Used To Treat Lipodystrophy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The obese individual may find it difficult to cope with his excess blubber but his troubles are insignificant compared with the victim of lipodystrophy. In this condition, fat disappears from the upper part of the body and settles in the thighs, buttocks, and legs.

The cause of this strange disorder is not known. Early changes are so slight they may pass unnoticed. The face is affected first. As fat vanishes from the skin, the temples become hollowed and the cheekbones prominent. Loss of fat about the orbit gives the eyes a sunken appearance. Numerous wrinkles appear and friends may comment on how old Mrs. Jones is beginning to look.

Meanwhile, there is an accumulation of fat in the lower half of the body, particularly about the buttocks and outer aspects of the thighs. Changes in these areas are just as noticeable as the decrease of fat in the face, chest, abdomen, and arms.

The usual treatment is thyroid, ovarian, or pituitary extract because the condition resembles a glandular disturbance. Massage is favored by those who believe that fat can be redistributed through force and manipulation. Temporary improvement has followed plastic surgery in which fat is transplanted from buttocks to face.

Injections of specially prepared mixtures of human fat and mutton suet also have been tried. But such remedies are useless, as a rule. Flesh continues to settle at an estimated rate of one inch a year.

Adiposis dolorosa is another unusual disturbance in which fat is involved. Victims of this condition develop painful fatty nodules over various parts of the body. These lumps should not be confused with fatty tumors (lipomas) which are more common.

The nodules of adiposis dolorosa are sore and tender to the touch and in time, break down into abscesses. This creates multiple regions of inflammation. The disease tends to come and go. In some instances, years elapse between bouts. In others, painful nodules are few in number and are confined to one or two extremities. To my knowledge, there is no satisfactory treatment.

SHE'S LETTING GO

Mrs. D. writes: My 34-year-old daughter has a nice office position but recently has grown careless about hygiene. Her neck, arms, and ears go unwashed for three days and when she does take a bath the mud has to be scraped from the tub. Is she too old to be helped?

REPLY

No. If her condition represents carelessness, a heart to heart talk with a friend may accomplish more than mother can. But if your daughter is depressed and has lost interest in her personal appearance a physician ought to be consulted.

WHITE DOTS

C. M. writes: What can be done for whiteheads?

REPLY

These white, millet sized lesions develop on the face especially around the eyes. They can be punctured with the end of a scalpel and the contents expressed gently.

REST MORE

S. W. writes: I've always indulged in many outside activities and now, in my late 30s, while I have the physical pep to continue a heavy schedule, I find I'm not as mentally alert as I should be. Do I lack something?

REPLY

You are discovering what most people nearing 40 realize is a natural phenomenon. This the beginning of that "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be" feeling. On the other hand you will be as sharp as you need to be if you concentrate on doing the things people your age are supposed to do rather than on trying to act like a 20-year-old.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

In the early days of the Supreme Court, one of its members was a bit too fond of the bottle, and even imbibed while he was sitting on the bench. The great Chief Justice John Marshall despaired of reforming him completely, but did get him to agree to drink only during such sessions as were held in rainy, rheumatism-encouraging weather. However, Marshall caught him in chambers taking a swig shortly thereafter on a warm spring day when there was not a single cloud in the sky.

But the offending justice was ready with a defense. "The Supreme Court," he announced grandly, "has jurisdiction, as I see it, over the entire United States And somewhere in this country at this very time it's raining to beat Hades. I have therefore kept my promise to you faithfully."

While Marshall pondered this reply, the triumphant jurist finished his wet weather "medicine."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 (INS) — That charmer Maurice Chevalier, who proved that he has all his old fire when he appeared at the Academy Awards, has just signed to play Audrey Hepburn's father in "Adriane."

Billy Wilder, the producer-director, who signed Chevalier, has set the last of August as the starting date. That's when Audrey, her co-star Gary Cooper, and Maurice will report for work in Paris. Chevalier also fulfills a nightclub engagement at Ciro's here in Hollywood late this month.

Very smart of Kirk Douglas to buy "Deliver Us From Evil," just five days ahead of the arrival of its author, Lt. Thomas Dooley, in Hollywood.

Tomorrow Kirk is giving a press luncheon for Dooley, a Navy doctor who has written an inspirational book of his work in aiding half a million refugees escaping from behind the Iron Curtain in Indo-China. The book is intended for Kirk's Bryna Company, and in it he plays the Dooley role.

The book is just on the stands, and a strong point of the story is the religious angle of how Dooley, a staunch Catholic, worked to preserve the Christian religion from the brain washing of the Commies.

"Take a look at Elvis Presley," said an RCA spokesman, "the 21-year-old singer has just signed with Hal Wallis, as well as for a night club engagement in Las Vegas. He's a sensation!"

Well, you can't very well read a newspaper or watch TV without seeing Presley, who is the Frank Sinatra-Johnnie Ray swoon king of today. Personally, when I saw him on a TV show out of San Diego, I wondered what there was about young Elvis to make teenagers act like maniacs. He seemed just like any other boy with a pleasing voice.

But, when mail starts pouring in mentioning Elvis so often, I guess I'll have to try and look at him from the viewpoint of these juvenile enthusiasts. And, boy, do they go crazy over him!

Birthday greetings, cake and all, were a part of Walter Winchell's farewell dinner at Chasen's. June (Mrs. Winchell) who has been in Phoenix, came in to celebrate with him.

Walter left after his Sunday broadcast for New York on a call from NBC about a TV show. He says he is greatly intrigued with 20th Century-Fox's idea for him to do a TV series based on "Deadline, U. S. A." There also was talk that Walter might narrate a crime series for MGM, but this he vetoed as not being his cup of tea.

The appearance of Frank Capra on the Columbia lot is nostalgic. It was while he was associated with the gem of the ocean that Frank won several Academy awards.

He will probably direct "The Great Sebastian," the Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontaine play which Harry Cohn recently bought. Then there's talk that Frank may do "Lady for a Day," the Damon Runyon story which was charming.

It will be good to have him back making pictures again. He's been out much too long.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The very pretty woman with Jimmy Roosevelt at Ciro's was Irene Owens. Wasn't she formerly his secretary?

Gary Grosby, currently on tour with Louis Armstrong in Australia, will go on with Satchmo to Singapore and New Zealand. Quite a trip.

Bondita and Jack Wrather hosted a bridal dinner for 24 for Sy Bartlett and his bride at the Racquet Club in Palm Springs. The Greg Pecks, the Kirk Douglases and the Willie Wylers were among those who toasted Sy and Patricia.

Dane Clark writes that Mrs. Clark has returned from Mayo Clinic full of good health. "And," says he, "she isn't the ex-Mrs. Dane Clark. We've been happily married for 23 years."

Colonel Dean Hess, technical advisor on his life story "Battle Hymn" at U-I, flew to Virginia to welcome the birth of his third son.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Blue Chips Forced Down In Steady Market Decline

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP) — Blue chip stocks were forced down severely today in a quiet but relentless decline in the stock market.

Losses mounted to around 5 points at the outside in significant areas, and falls of 1 to around 3 points were quite frequent.

The setback was the greatest of the past six months and erased an estimated three billion dollars from the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

This week there have been numerous excuses for selling. At the top of the list is the grave situation existing in the Middle East where an explosion could send stock market prices cascading down.

Another point is that federal and New York state income taxes must be paid this week, and there is some selling to raise cash for the tax collector's men.

Aircrafts did well throughout the day, especially Lockheed up ⅜ at 48⅝ and General Dynamics up ⅝ at 60⅞ as the Air Force awarded contracts to those two companies for development of an atomic warplane.

Chemicals were among the more depressed sections, but also sharply lower were the oils, rails, steels, coppers, aluminums, and electronics issues. One of the biggest losers was DuPont down 5 at 227. The company reported slightly disappointing first quarter sales results.

Late in the day the market seemed to be doing rather well above its lows when Bethlehem Steel stockholders were told at the annual meeting that "the time is not yet here" for a split. The stock fell 4¼ at 161½ after hitting a high of 165½.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $2.60 at $188.00, biggest fall since Oct. 10. The industrial component of the average stepped down $4.70, rails were off $2.00, and utilities lost 30 cents.

Three Hurt In Series Of Mishaps

Three local and area persons were injured in separate accidents yesterday and all were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

A two-year-old child was reported to have been struck by a truck yesterday afternoon on Williams Street, although the driver apparently was unaware he hit the child.

Taken to the hospital was Kenneth Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, of 412 Louisiana Avenue. Attaches, who said the boy was in "good" condition, reported that he suffered brush burns of his left foot.

A four-year-old boy playing with a toy gun caught the ring finger of his right hand and badly injured his finger.

Edward McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKay, of 990 National Highway was admitted to the hospital for X-rays and observation.

In the third mishap, Mrs. Dorothy Hutcheson, 55, of 308 Bedford Street, slipped off the curb on Bedford Street, injuring her left elbow.

She was admitted for X-rays and observation.

Recreation Month To Be Marked Here

The Cumberland Recreation Department will join in the June observance of National Recreation Month, according to Robert E. Pence, director.

Mottos for the month, he said, will be "Live all your life" and "You're as young as you feel and you'll feel and look younger if you include healthful recreation in your daily schedule."

Recreation for citizens of all ages, Pence said, is one of the aims of the department, and progress was made last year in expanding the program.

Added, he said, were bridge, stamp and coin clubs, a Senior Citizens Club, a Youth Day observance and Saturday gymnasium sessions, open to all age groups.

The department, he said, will try to provide special programs for as many age groups as possible during June.

In addition to special events, the month will mark the opening of the city playgrounds, the major activity of the department.

The observance, Pence said, is intended to focus public attention on the importance of recreation for richer living, and the recreation resources available on the community, state and national level.

Bigler's thesis for his graduate work at Ohio State University was "Conservation and Gardening."

Mrs. Harry Griggs, junior club chairman, announced that a Junior Garden Club has been organized for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 16 with Mrs. Guy Bradour, Bedford Road, as leader. All interested persons desiring to join the junior organization may contact Mrs. Griggs at PA 4-1286.

Mrs. Porter Collins, chairman for the flower arrangements, stated that another flower workshop will be held Thursday, April 19, at 9:30 a. m. in the Fiesta Room of Central YMCA. This workshop is open to all members of the garden club and the Women's Civic Club who are interested in arrangements for entry in the club's flower show to be held April 30 and May 1 at the Eagles home on North Mechanic Street.

Assisting Mrs. Collins with the workshop will be Mrs. Gilbert Miller, president of the garden club, and Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, sectary.

Forms To Be Placed For Bridge Footer

Excavation for the south abutment of the Market Street Bridge has been completed, according to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

He said J. W. Hughen, of the J. E. Greiner Company, Baltimore, consulting engineers, inspected and approved the excavation work Monday.

The contractor, the H. D. Case Company, is now getting ready to place forms and reinforcing steel for the footer which will form the base of the abutment.

Work on the abutment at North Mechanic Street was completed several weeks ago.

Real Estate To Remain Stable, Executive Says

A prediction that the real estate market will remain stable this year was voiced by Erle Stapleton, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards last night at a meeting of the Cumberland Real Estate Board at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Speaking at the meeting sponsored by the local realtors, the realty executive from the Washington, D. C., zone office pointed out that home building last year was a major factor contributing to good business conditions. The volume this year, predicted to reach 1,200,000, could increase with the demand for homes strong throughout the nation, Stapleton said.

Construction work throughout the country should exceed last year by seven per cent, he said, and this would break all previous records as well as assure a good business year.

At an earlier luncheon meeting, Stapleton also addressed the Cumberland Rotary Club, where he said a broad program of neighborhood conservation and improvement, based on strict enforcement of local health and safety requirements for housing, is proposed for Cumberland.

The full-scale program outlined by Stapleton would coordinate rehabilitation of neglected housing through voluntary action by property owners, demolition of housing found to be unfit for rehabilitation, improvement by local government of streets, sewers, sidewalks, playgrounds, schools, street lights as needed, the attraction for construction of new houses on sites long vacant, and the rezoning, if necessary, and closing of some streets to give neighborhoods a protected, safer and more livable quality.

Financing for home improvements or building is now available, he said, through rehabilitation mortgage insurance obtainable by money lenders on mortgages. This type of insurance may cover mortgage loans for terms as long as 30 years with down payments of 10 per cent and at an interest rate of 4½ per cent.

John F. Workmeister, president of the Cumberland Real Estate Board, introduced Stapleton to the local realtors.

WILL SPEAK HERE — Bob Hammond, of the Voice of China and Asia, will be in Cumberland next week to conduct a program at two local churches. The following evening, he will speak on Christianity versus Communism during a program at Calvary EUB Church.

College Glee Club Concert Slated Sunday

The program of Mount St. Mary's Glee Club of Emmitsburg, which will be held on Sunday afternoon and evening at Carroll Hall has been announced by Rev. David W. Shaum, director, who said the concert will be in two parts.

The afternoon performance will begin at 2:30 o'clock with the evening performance at 8:30 o'clock. The concert will be opened with "The Marching Song" followed by "Gaudeamus Igitur," "Salutation," and a college medley.

"Into the Night," will follow with Louis A. Houff, baritone, singing, "Shortnin' Bread." The "Quartet" from "Rigoletto" will be sung by W. Beal, soprano, J. Campbell, tenor, H. R. Duhn, mezzo-soprano, and R. Ensor, baritone.

Next on the program will be "Aura Lee," "The Halls Of Ivy," "I Whistle a Happy Tune," and "There Is Nothing Like a Dame."

Following intermission the remainder of the program will include "Let There Be Music," "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," and "One Night of Love," solo by William Beal, tenor.

These selections will be followed by "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," and "The Surrey With a Fringe on Top." Beal and Louis A. Houff, baritone, will then sing a duet, "Pore Jud."

The closing numbers will be "Aunt Rhody," and "Kansas City," a solo by Richard Ensor, tenor, "Vive L' Amour," "Great Day," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Close Report Tag Sale Cost $1,678

J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, submitted a bill to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday for the expenses in the sale of auto license tags by his office in recent months.

The cost of the tag sale was $1,678.27 with $1,284 being the salaries of extra clerical help. Other items included $25.68 for Social Security, $37.50 for extra bond of tax collector required by state, $46.42 bond on extra employes, $11.25 for Workmen's Compensation, $8.75 for liability insurance on extra help, $64.50 for burglary and theft insurance, $110 for rental of equipment such as cash registers, $24.49 for office supplies, $15.78 for postage, $24 for unloading tags, $3.75 for night depository, $10 for typing expenses, and $12.15 for rubber stamps.

Close also reported receipts of $2,608.20 in the 15 cent fee charged each car owner purchasing tags at the tax collector's office. The county is realizing $929.97 on the sale of license tags.

When Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson questioned the expenses listed by Close an opinion by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, was read. In the opinion, Getty said that the costs of the car tag sale were to be borne by the county and taken from the receipts of such sales.

Close noted in his report that the $1,678.27 did not include any cost to the county for the services of the tax collector or his assistant.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Posture Perfect

From the time you were a little girl, teachers and your parents have reminded you to stand up straight. Now that you are at the age when you're interested in a smooth appearance and are more figure conscious, you probably are appreciating their efforts for the first time. Of course, they know from experience that nature gave us our body structure, but you can improve it yourself, and some of the best figures are self-created.

When you look around among your school chums you can see that a straight lovely back is a beauty asset every smart girl wants. It will increase your graceabilities and poise, make your clothes fit better, and certainly give you more charm. My booklet, "Your Posture," was written just for you to help solve your posture problems. Send me 10c in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, c/o this newspaper, and the booklet is yours.

Have you ever realized that poor posture can actually be a hindrance to your health? Doctors tell us it can disrupt normal breathing, circulation, digestion, and placement of internal organs. A girl who is habitually hunching her shoulders, thus crowding her lungs, can deprive herself of bright eyes and glowing healthy skin.

And what an impression posture makes on the parents of your friends and all people you meet, for that matter. Carry yourself well and you show everyone how poised, alert, and nice you are to know. We know from long experience that correct posture along with graceful stance brings greater admiration to a Powers Girl than her one-in-a-thousand face.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 (INS) — That charmer Maurice Chevalier, who proved that he has all his old fire when he appeared at the Academy Awards, has just signed to play Audrey Hepburn's father in "Adriane."

Billy Wilder, the producer-director, who signed Chevalier, has set the last of August as the starting date. That's when Audrey, her co-star Gary Cooper, and Maurice will report for work in Paris. Chevalier also fulfills a nightclub engagement at Ciro's here in Hollywood late this month.

Very smart of Kirk Douglas to buy "Deliver Us From Evil," just five days ahead of the arrival of its author, Lt. Thomas Dooley, in Hollywood.

Tomorrow Kirk is giving a press luncheon for Dooley, a Navy doctor who has written an inspirational book of his work in aiding half a million refugees escaping from behind the Iron Curtain in Indo-China. The book is intended for Kirk's Bryna Company, and in it he plays the Dooley role.

The book is just on the stands, and a strong point of the story is the religious angle of how Dooley, a staunch Catholic, worked to preserve the Christian religion, from the brain washing of the Commies.

"Take a look at Elvis Presley," said an RCA spokesman, "the 21-year-old singer has just signed with Hal Wallis, as well as for a night club engagement in Las Vegas. He's a sensation!"

Well, you can't very well read a newspaper or watch TV without seeing Presley, who is the Frank Sinatra-Johnnie Ray swoon king of today. Personally, when I saw him on a TV show out of San Diego, I wondered what there was about young Elvis to make teen-agers act like maniacs. He seemed just like any other boy with a pleasing voice.

But, when mail starts pouring in mentioning Elvis so often, I guess I'll have to try and look at him from the viewpoint of these juvenile enthusiasts. And, boy, do they go crazy over him!

Birthday greetings, cake and all, were a part of Walter Winchell's farewell dinner at Chasen's. June (Mrs. Winchell) who has been in Phoenix, came in to celebrate with him.

Walter left after his Sunday broadcast for New York on a call from NBC about a TV show. He says he is greatly intrigued with 20th Century-Fox's idea for him to do a TV series based on "Deadline, U. S. A." There also was talk that Walter might narrate a crime series for MGM, but this he vetoed as not being his cup of tea.

The appearance of Frank Capra on the Columbia lot is nostalgic. It was while he was associated with the gem of the ocean that Frank won several Academy awards.

He will probably direct "The Great Sebastian," the Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontaine play which Harry Cohn recently bought. Then there's talk that Frank may do "Lady for a Day," the Damon Runyon story which was charming.

It will be good to have him back making pictures again. He's been out much too long.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The very pretty woman with Jimmy Roosevelt at Ciro's was Irene Owens. Wasn't she formerly his secretary?

Gary Grosby, currently on tour with Louis Armstrong in Australia, will go on with Satchmo to Singapore and New Zealand. Quite a trip.

Bondita and Jack Wrather hosted a bridal dinner for 24 for Sy Bartlett and his bride at the Racquet Club in Palm Springs. The Greg Pecks, the Kirk Douglases and the Willie Wylers were among those who toasted Sy and Patricia.

Dane Clark writes that Mrs. Clark has returned from Mayo Clinic full of good health. "And," says he, "she isn't the ex-Mrs. Dane Clark. We've been happily married for 23 years."

Colonel Dean Hess, technical advisor on his life story "Battle Hymn" at U-I, flew to Virginia to welcome the birth of his third son.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Blue Chips Forced Down In Steady Market Decline

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP) — Blue chip stocks were forced down severely today in a quiet but relentless decline in the stock market.

Losses mounted to around 5 points at the outside in significant areas, and falls of 1 to around 3 points were quite frequent.

The setback was the greatest of the past six months and erased an estimated three billion dollars from the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

This week there have been numerous excuses for selling. At the top of the list is the grave situation existing in the Middle East where an explosion could send stock market prices cascading down.

Another point is that federal and New York state income taxes must be paid this week, and there is some selling to raise cash for the tax collector's men.

Aircrafts did well throughout the day, especially Lockheed up ⅜ at 48⅝ and General Dynamics up ⅝ at 60⅞ as the Air Force awarded contracts to those two companies for development of an atomic warplane.

Chemicals were among the more depressed sections, but also sharply lower were the oils, rails, steels, coppers, aluminums, and electronics issues. One of the biggest losers was DuPont down 5 at 227. The company reported slightly disappointing first quarter sales results.

Late in the day the market seemed to be doing rather well above its lows when Bethlehem Steel stockholders were told at the annual meeting that "the time is not yet here" for a split. The stock fell 4¼ at 161½ after hitting a high of 165½.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $2.60 at $188.00, biggest fall since Oct. 10. The industrial component of the average stepped down $4.70, rails were off $2.00, and utilities lost 30 cents.

Hamilton, Pirates' Southpaw, Fans 18

PAW PAW, W. VA., April 10—Phil Hamilton, sophomore left-hander, yielded only two hits in a 6⅔ innings and struck out 18 as Coach Bob Wolford's Paw Paw High School Pirates turned back Fort Ashby High School here today by the score of 5-4.

A four-run rally in the third inning decided the contest. Chase was the losing pitcher.

Stair Rejects Pact Downs Gets Quiniela

12-Foot Lane Voting Two Past Champs Vie

By C. V. BURNS

GENE STAIR, hard-hitting outfielder from Ellerslie, has decided to stay out of organized baseball this year after being instructed by the Pittsburgh Pirates to go to Brunswick, Ga., for spring training with Class B, C and D teams.

Stair got as high as "A" ball with Lincoln, Neb., last season and he feels there is no sense in going down to leagues of lower classification.

His contract was made out for Waco, Texas, this season and Waco trains with A and B teams at Huntsville, Texas.

When the Buccos pulled a switch and told him to go to Brunswick, Stair decided to pass up playing in the minors this year.

QUINIELA, a popular form of betting in Mexico, Cuba, Florida and Arizona, will be an innovation at the 31-day spring meeting which opens April 21 at Wheeling Downs. It's pronounced quin-ella.

Wagering on the quiniela pool is confined to the last race of the day with the bettors selecting the numbers of two horses which he feels will finish first and second in the race.

In other words, regardless of whether the players' two horses run one-two or two-one, he will have a winning ticket.

The pool then will be distributed to holders of these tickets.

The daily double gets the fans to the track early and quiniela keeps them there until the last race.

A CLOTHING STORE in Memphis, Tenn., has offered $100,000 to the first baseball player who knocks a home run through a hole four inches in diameter 335 feet from home plate.

Which reminds us of the time a Clarksburg player hit a ball through a hole in the fence at old Mid City Park and his home run beat the Colts. However, there was no prize offered.

IF YOU FOLLOW horse racing you've certainly seen the name C. O. Dorsett in the entries.

C. O. Dorsett, a six-year-old son of Polynesian, is truly a "comeback horse."

Two years ago he was injured and it was expected he would be destroyed.

His owners at the time decided to operate. A bone was removed from his sesamoid and the gelding bounced back by winning five races in 1955.

Last week C. O. Dorsett scored his third win of the current season at New York.

MARYLAND high school coaches will vote on whether they want to adopt the 12-foot lane in basketball for the 1956-57 season or wait another year until the change becomes compulsory.

If the majority vote "yes" for next season the painters will have to go to work on the gym floors next fall.

A NEW RULE of the NCAA will prevent West Virginia University staff members from serving on All-State selection boards, coaching all-star teams, and like high school activities.

Another change in the NCAA regulations permits basketball practice to begin October 15 instead of Nov. 1 and abolishes spring practice in that sport.

WHEN Bill Dudley was appointed backfield coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers the other day he was asked:

"Do you want your quarterbacks to run a little bit?"

And Bill replied:

"If they don't run a little bit they're gonna get killed."

ONLY TWO PAST champions are among the four survivors battling it out in the playoffs for the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League title.

They are the Cumberland K. of C. and the Purple Heart Club.

This is the ninth season for the league which has grown to 20 teams and now operates in two divisions.

The past winners:

1948—Cumberland K. of C. 1949—Cumberland K. of C. 1950—Cumberland K. of C. 1951—Stadium Inn, Frostburg. 1952—Cumberland Amvets. 1953—Stadium Inn, Frostburg. 1954—Cumberland Amvets. 1955—Purple Heart Club.

TOURING in South America, Rocky Marciano, the world's heavyweight champion, gives two youngsters a big thrill as he poses with them after refereeing a bout in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Racing Solons Probe Laming Of One Throw

Feltner Believes Act "Intentional"

BOWIE, Md., April 10 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission today investigated the reported "intentional laming" of a thoroughbred stabled at nearby Laurel Race Course.

It was the second apparent tampering incident in a month of a horse entered in the current Bowie meeting and stabled at Laurel.

D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the commission, said the investigation had been in progress since Trainer Claude Feltner reported last Friday that One Throw, 7-year-old favorite for the seventh race that day was lame.

Rinehart said Feltner reported he believed the horse had been "intentionally lamed."

Struck On Forelegs

Snowden Carter, racing writer for the Baltimore Evening Sun, quoted Feltner that One Throw "was struck by a hard object on one of his forelegs sometime between the hours of midnight and 4 a.m. last Friday."

The laming occurred in Barn 17 at nearby Laurel Race Course where Henry H. Hecht's One Throw was quartered for the Bowie meet.

Feltner said he discovered when he arrived at his barn Friday morning that his watchdog, described as a "fierce pit bulldog" had been locked in a feed room, that One Throw's stall had been entered, and that a bandage and a protective boot had been removed from the horse's right foreleg.

The veteran trainer told the racing commission there was a swelling on the horse's right leg and it appeared he had been struck or bumped with a hard object.

The bandage, which had been fastened to the horse's leg by two safety pins, and the boot, fastened by a buckle, were found in the stall.

One Throw was scratched from the race, a $10,000-8,000 claiming feature after Feltner discovered the injury. The horse had been picked on top by most of the country's handicappers and was expected to be the short-priced favorite. One Throw won a $7,500-6,500 claiming race at Bowie last March 26.

Montreal Cops Hockey Trophy

Beats Detroit, 3-1, Wins Stanley Cup

MONTREAL, April 10 (AP)—The magnificent Montreal Canadians, with Jean Beliveau and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard leading a relentless attack and Jacques Plante a tower of strength in the nets, won the coveted Stanley Cup tonight with a hustling 3-1 victory over the defending champion Detroit Red Wings.

The flashy Frenchmen, who last won the cup symbolizing hockey supremacy in 1953, wrapped up the final playoff series, four games to one against the Red Wings, who had won the cup two years running.

Plante, the leading goal-tender of the regular season in the National Hockey league, was superb throughout, but practically broke Detroit's back in the second period when the Red Wings stepped up their attack after a scoreless opening session.

Again and again he turned back Red Wing thrusts with sensational saves before the Montreal offense finally caught fire.

Beliveau, the NHL's leading scorer, got the Canadiens' foot in the door at 14:16 of the second period, going in alone to beat goalie Glenn Hall after taking a neat backhand pass from Floyd Curry. Less than a minute later, Richard made it 2-0, taking Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's short pass from the midst of a scramble and putting a cross-fire shot into the nets.

Moorefield And Keyser Chalk Up Second Wins In P. V. C

Fred Clark's Tossers Beat Southern, 8-3

Jackets Post 2nd Shutout; Franklin, Capon Bridge Win

Moorefield High School's defending champions and Keyser High School posted their second victories of the season yesterday in the Potomac Valley Conference.

Coach Jonathan Paugh's Yellow Jackets blanked Wardensville High's Warriors for the second time by the score 13-0, at Wardensville, while Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser Golden Tornado defeated Southern High School of Oakland by the score of 8-3 at Keyser.

Capon Bridge Wins

Rained out in two previous games, Coach Cliff Towles' Capon Bridge High School tossers finally opened their season with a 15-8 decision over Mathias in a conference tilt at Capon Bridge.

Franklin High School eked out a 3-2 decision over the Petersburg High School Vikings in a game played at Petersburg.

Billy Bauserman and Lester Hyre limited Wardensville to four singles and struck out 15 as Moorefield took the measure of the Warriors. Bauserman hurled the first five frames, yielded two hits and fanned 10 to receive credit for the victory. Hyre twirled two innings and whiffed five. Chester Merriman was nicked for eight hits and nine runs in 5⅓ stanzas and was charged with the defeat.

Jim Barr headed Moorefield's 10-hit attack with a double and two singles. Donnie Schell and Harold Cain obtained two hits each.

Roy Notches 2nd Win

Bill Roy posted his second win in as many days by twirling Keyser to its second conference win over the Highlanders from Garrett county. The Keyser hurler scattered five hits and fanned eight over the seven-inning route.

Southern took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but the Clarkmen racked up all their tallies in the first three frames to put the game on ice early. The big blow during a four-run rally in the opening frame was delivered by Joe Pezzanite—a triple with the bases loaded.

Fred Colaw was the victim of the first inning assault and was charged with the loss. Toby Colaw hurled the last 5⅓ frames and was the only player in the game to obtain two hits. Keyser was limited to four safeties.

Dahmer Beats Vikings

Stan Dahmer kept seven hits well spaced and fired the third strike past 10 batsmen in hurling Coach Bob Hartman's Franklin High Panthers to victory over Petersburg.

Bill Reynolds, leadoff man for the Vikings, hit a home run in the first inning but Franklin scored twice in the third and pushed over the deciding tally in the fifth frame.

Gene Turner gave up five hits in five innings and was charged with the defeat. Two of the six hits he gave up were two-baggers by Propst. Reynolds accounted for two of the losers' seven safeties.

Circleville plays at Petersburg Friday at 2:45 p. m.

Capon Tops Mathias

Herman Mason was returned the victor over Charley Combs as Capon Bridge downed Mathias High School but both starting pitchers failed to go the limit.

Three Mathias pitchers issued 12 bases on balls while Mason and John McCauley of Capon Bridge walked six, struck out 16 and hit five batsmen with pitched balls. Leonard Emswiler of Mathias paced the stickers with three singles in five trips to the plate.

Capon Bridge hosts Wardensvills High School Friday.

Chuck Spieser Choice To Beat Rowan Tonight

Light-Heavies Will Collide At Detroit

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Chuck Spieser, fourth-ranking light heavyweight contender, was favored today to gain a decision over aggressive Joey Rowan of Phoenixville, Pa., in their fight at Olympia Stadium tomorrow night.

Both boxers, equally ambitious, contracted to weigh in at under the 175-pound limit at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The 10-round bout will be nationally televised (ABC-TV-radio, 10 p.m.).

A victory for Detroiter Spieser probably would give him his third shot at Willie Pastrano at New Orleans. Spieser lost to Pastrano the first time they met. They fought to a draw in a rematch at Miami in January.

Spieser, a 26-year-old product of Michigan State University has a 17-3-1 record, including 12 knockout victories. Rowan, who is five years younger, has a 27-8-1 record, including 13 kayos.

Venturi Attributes Loss To Lack Of Moral Support

Ken Says He Didn't Have Anyone To Talk To In Closing Round

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10 (AP)—Ken Venturi, who lost the Masters golf tournament Sunday by a single stroke, pictured himself today as a lonesome youngster during his final round at Augusta.

"I didn't have anyone to talk to," he said in an interview at his suburban San Francisco home. "The officials wouldn't let anyone walk with me that I knew. I just wanted to talk to one of my friends and they wouldn't let me talk.

"I was nervous anyway and all the help I could get I could use. I don't mean clubbing help or anything like that, just someone friendly to talk to.

"I don't want people to think I'm peeved at everybody back there because I'm not. I don't have a sour taste in my mouth. But I certainly wasn't getting any of the benefit of the doubt."

Pairings Switched

The 24-year-old amateur, who blew an eight-stroke lead during Sunday's final round when he fired an 80, finished one stroke behind winner Jack Burke's 289.

Venturi said he still was puzzled about the switch in pairings on Sunday which sent him out with Sam Snead rather than Byron Nelson, who is a personal friend of long standing. He said he originally had been paired with Nelson, but at the last minute was sent out with Snead.

"He wasn't going to help," Venturi said, "but it would have been comforting to play with him. Sam was very nice, he tried to be anyway, but he didn't know how to say things that would have made me feel better."

What perturbed Venturi even more, he said, was the fact that Burke played with Mike Souchak on the last day.

"They're real good friends," he said. "I heard from different guys that when Burke made a fantastic putt for a birdie Souchak jumped up in the air and was happy for him.

No Moral Support

"I didn't have anybody to talk to and I was under a strain. This was the biggest thing in my whole career and I couldn't get any moral support.

"I was lonesome. There was a big crowd of people, but I was all alone and when one of my friends came up to talk to me on the 17th tee I suddenly looked around and he was gone. He told me later the officials told him to leave."

The friend was National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward, with whom Venturi works for an automobile agency here.

Venturi said it was unlikely he'd play in any professional tournaments before the National Open at Rochester, N.Y., in June. His plans for the next few months are to practice and play only in amateur meets in this area.

"But I'll be ready for the Open," he said. "I'll show them then."

Trainer Doesn't Think Marciano Will Retire

Figures Rocky Will Fight In September

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP) — Charley Goldman, the tiny trainer who helped harness Rocky Marciano's raw power, said today he doesn't think the heavyweight champion will call it quits.

"From what I know all they have to do is provide an opponent who can draw some dough and Rocky will be in there in September," said Charley.

"If Rocky was going backward I'd advise him to quit myself. But he isn't even standing still. He's getting better with every fight. Just imagine, here's the guy who is king of them all and he's improving right along.

"Rocky's never been hurt. Sure, he's been cut but the cuts heal. Nature has provided him with a strong body and he keeps it strong. I think he's the strongest heavyweight champion of all time.

"The only reason he'd quit would be if he felt he had enough money in the bank and didn't get any kick out of fighting. He won't fight a nobody but maybe someone will develop fast enough for a September fight. It could be Hurricane Jackson or Archie Moore again or maybe Floyd Patterson if he fights a decent opponent soon."

Babe Is Cheerful, Hopes To Get Well

GALVESTON, Tex., April 10 (AP)—Babe Zaharias, a legend of sports, remained cheerful today in the face of a report that the cancer she has been fighting for three years was extending.

"God willing I'll get well and return to golf," said the greatest woman athlete of her time. "I believe I will."

At the same time she called on everyone in America to contribute in some way to the Cancer Fund.

The woman who crowded a fabulous athletic career into 25 years has established a fund to fight cancer—the Babe Zaharias Fund. It has grown into thousands of dollars and contributions continue to flow in with each day.

Action in the Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference is slated to get under way today with two games in Cumberland and other contests at Frostburg and Westernport.

Today's games mark the opening of the 18th consecutive season of the schoolboy circuit and eight of the nine schools represented are scheduled to swing into action.

Fort Hill High School's defending champions, with John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh at the helm, will play host to Coach Ed McVicker's Hyndman High School Hornets at Fort Hill Field at 3:30 o'clock.

Ronnie Winters has been nominated to pitch for the Sentinels who bagged 14 out of 16 games in the conference last year.

The Sentinels kicked off the lid on Monday with a 6-0 decision over the Alumni.

Indians At Allegany

Gene Shaw, whose first year as head basketball coach at Allegany High was successful, will make hs bow as baseball mentor today when the Campers lock horns with Joe Carter's Mt. Savage High Indians on the Sedgwick Street field at 4 o'clock. Allegany hopes to improve the 5-11 record of 1955, Roy Lester's last season as baseball coach at Campobello. Mt. Savage also had a 5-11 record last season.

Beall High School also will be opening its season under a new coach in the person of Melvin Brown, former Kitzmiller High mentor, when the Mountaineers cross bats with "Stony" Jackson's Flintstone High Aggies in the Mountain City this afternoon at 3:30. Beall copped 12 out of 16 games last season while Flintstone, was 3-13, which included wins over Allegany, Fort Hill and Bruce. The Aggies cracked Fort Hill's 11-game winning streak toward the end of the 1955 campaign.

Coach George Geatz's LaSalle High Explorers invade Westernport today to play Bruce High School's Bulldogs at 3:30. Lefty Bill Roberts, who posted a 5-3 record for an Explorer nine that won eight and lost seven last season, may get the pitching assignment for LaSalle.

Donnie Wilkinson, junior, who accounted for five of Bruce's wins last season and wound up with a 5-3 record, will likely work on the firing line for the Bulldogs. Wilkinson, incidentally, has won nine and lost five for Bruce since making his pitching debut as a freshman.

Leonard Ritchie, former Southern High (Oakland) mentor, who took over the basketball reins at Bruce at the start of the 1955-56 season also will be making his bow as baseball coach at the Westernport school. The Bulldogs won six and lost 10 under Augie Eichhorn last season.

Valley High School's Black Knights will open their season on Thursday, playing host to Allegany at Lonaconing.

Romney Nines Clash

Coach Glenn R. Hawkins' West Virginia School for the Deaf nine and Clyde Green's Romney High Pioneers meet at Romney, Elk Garden's Elks test Southern of Oakland at Elk Garden and Keyser winds up its two-game series with Fort Ashby on the Eagles' field.

Romney and West Virginia School for the Deaf will be opening their season. The Pioneers were 5-5 last year and the Deaf School's overall record was 2-11.

Lacrosse and shinny are American Indian games, says the National Geographic Society.

New York State May Revise Racing Rule

NEW YORK, April 10—(INS)—The New York State Racing Commission announced today that it will hold an open hearing at Belmont Park April 19 on a proposal to revise the state's thoroughbred racing disqualification rule.

New York is one of only two racing states that automatically places a horse last if it interferes with another horse. Most states place the offending horse only behind the one interfered with.

Mont Pleased With Showing Of Backfield

Alumni Will Test Terps On Saturday

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 10—(AP)—The crop of backs he inherited gives Maryland football a better offensive outlook than last year, Coach Tommy Mont said today.

"The overall backfield will have more speed, particularly to the outside," said Mont who stepped up to the head job upon the departure of Coach Jim Tatum to North Carolina.

Mont added that depends on the development of "third stringers, since you know at Maryland we use three sets of backs."

Play Grads Saturday

He also pointed out he still is thinking offensively since he didn't get down to defense until this third week of spring practice. He expects to see more in a game with the Alumni Saturday (2:30 p.m.).

Last year's freshmen in particular are making Mont's eyes sparkle. One of them, Fred Kershner of Martinsburg, W. Va., he compared with Ronnie Waller and Chet Hanulak, two of Maryland's best running backs in the last 10 years. Waller was fourth leading pro ground gainer with the Los Angeles Rams last season while Hanulak played for the Cleveland Browns before going into military service.

Don Soberdash of Dunbar, Pa., also was picked out by Mont as a sophomore to bear watching next season.

However, Mont doesn't have to bank on the sophomores. He has such letter winners as Fred Hamilton, Howie Dare, Jack Healy and John McVicker at the halfback positions.

The same is true at quarterback where Frank Tamburello again is No. 1 backed up by John Fritsch. But Dickie Lewis, also a freshman from Martinsburg, is labeled a "hot" article.

Selep Tries Again

At fullback, Tom Selep is ready to try again. He was supposed to be the starter last season and hurt his knee the opening day of fall practice to be lost for the season.

"If he continues the way he has started," Mont said, "I don't see how there will be a faster starter or harder hitting college fullback in the country."

First life saving stations for distressed mariners in the U. S. were established in 1787.

Podres To Receive Babe Ruth Award

BROOKLYN, April 10 (AP)—Johnny Podres, star of Brooklyn's victory in the 1955 World Series, will be on hand when the Dodgers open their baseball season against the Philadelphia Phillies at Ebbets Field next Tuesday. But he won't be pitching.

The young lefthander has been given a 24-hour leave from the Bainbridge, Md., Naval Base in order that he may receive the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1955 World Series.

The award will be made in pregame ceremonies. Podres, who beat the New York Yankees twice in the series, was inducted into military service March 19.

"I like it because it's different. Different in a way that's satisfying and refreshing. And it is a beer you can depend on. You know 'what's inside' when you buy it. You know you're getting the same fine quality and flavor you got the last time you bought it. Other beers change a lot. Or at least they say they do. Old Export doesn't have to. It's got everything a real beer should have. It's ALL beer!"

We think that you, too, will get more satisfaction and pleasure out of a bottle of Old Export beer. And the best way to prove this, is to try it. We're pretty sure that you'll agree right along with a lot of other folks that Old Export is beer the way real beer should be.

"While on vacation over a thousand miles from home, another driver smashed into our car. My wife and children were nearly in tears as our vacation seemed hopelessly ruined. But a phone call to a nearby Allstate representative brightened things up. He arranged for our overnight stay, and in the morning there was our car—completely repaired and raring to go. We went merrily on our way singing the praises of Allstate. It's a wonderful experience we'll never forget!"

Hamilton, Pirates' Southpaw, Fans 18

PAW PAW, W. VA., April 10—Phil Hamilton, sophomore left-hander, yielded only two hits in a 6⅔ innings and struck out 18 as Coach Bob Wolford's Paw Paw High School Pirates turned back Fort Ashby High School here today by the score of 5-4.

Hamilton got credit for the win but was rescued by Eugene Jamison who came on with two out in the final frame and halted a Fort Ashby uprising.

A four-run rally in the third inning decided the contest. Chase was the losing pitcher.

Linn obtained both of the hits given up by Hamilton. Hamilton and Raymond Largent shared four of Paw Paw's seven safeties.

Stair Rejects Pact Downs Gets Quiniela

12-Foot Lane Voting Two Past Champs Vie

By C. V. BURNS

GENE STAIR, hard-hitting outfielder from Ellerslie, has decided to stay out of organized baseball this year after being instructed by the Pittsburgh Pirates to go to Brunswick, Ga., for spring training with Class B, C and D teams.

Stair got as high as "A" ball with Lincoln, Neb., last season and he feels there is no sense in going down to leagues of lower classification.

His contract was made out for Waco, Texas, this season and Waco trains with A and B teams at Huntsville, Texas.

When the Buccos pulled a switch and told him to go to Brunswick, Stair decided to pass up playing in the minors this year.

QUINIELA, a popular form of betting in Mexico, Cuba, Florida and Arizona, will be an innovation at the 31-day spring meeting which opens April 21 at Wheeling Downs. It's pronounced quin-ella.

Wagering on the quiniela pool is confined to the last race of the day with the bettors selecting the numbers of two horses which he feels will finish first and second in the race.

In other words, regardless of whether the players' two horses run one-two or two-one, he will have a winning ticket.

The pool then will be distributed to holders of these tickets.

The daily double gets the fans to the track early and quiniela keeps them there until the last race.

A CLOTHING STORE in Memphis, Tenn., has offered $100,000 to the first baseball player who knocks a home run through a hole four inches in diameter 335 feet from home plate.

Which reminds us of the time a Clarksburg player hit a ball through a hole in the fence at old Mid City Park and his home run beat the Colts. However, there was no prize offered.

IF YOU FOLLOW horse racing you've certainly seen the name C. O. Dorsett in the entries.

C. O. Dorsett, a six-year-old son of Polynesian, is truly a "comeback horse."

Two years ago he was injured and it was expected he would be destroyed.

His owners at the time decided to operate. A bone was removed from his sesamoid and the gelding bounced back by winning five races in 1955.

Last week C. O. Dorsett scored his third win of the current season at New York.

MARYLAND high school coaches will vote on whether they want to adopt the 12-foot lane in basketball for the 1956-57 season or wait another year until the change becomes compulsory.

If the majority vote "yes" for next season the painters will have to go to work on the gym floors next fall.

A NEW RULE of the NCAA will prevent West Virginia University staff members from serving on All-State selection boards, coaching all-star teams, and like high school activities.

Another change in the NCAA regulations permits basketball practice to begin October 15 instead of Nov. 1 and abolishes spring practice in that sport.

WHEN Bill Dudley was appointed backfield coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers the other day he was asked:

"Do you want your quarterbacks to run a little bit?"

And Bill replied:

"If they don't run a little bit they're gonna get killed."

ONLY TWO PAST champions are among the four survivors battling it out in the playoffs for the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League title.

They are the Cumberland K. of C. and the Purple Heart Club.

This is the ninth season for the league which has grown to 20 teams and now operates in two divisions.

The past winners:

1948—Cumberland K. of C. 1949—Cumberland K. of C. 1950—Cumberland K. of C. 1951—Stadium Inn, Frostburg. 1952—Cumberland Amvets. 1953—Stadium Inn, Frostburg. 1954—Cumberland Amvets. 1955—Purple Heart Club.

TOURING in South America, Rocky Marciano, the world's heavyweight champion, gives two youngsters a big thrill as he poses with them after refereeing a bout in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Racing Solons Probe Laming Of One Throw

Feltner Believes Act "Intentional"

BOWIE, Md., April 10 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission today investigated the reported "intentional laming" of a thoroughbred stabled at nearby Laurel Race Course.

It was the second apparent tampering incident in a month of a horse entered in the current Bowie meeting and stabled at Laurel.

D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the commission, said the investigation had been in progress since Trainer Claude Feltner reported last Friday that One Throw, 7-year-old favorite for the seventh race that day was lame.

Rinehart said Feltner reported he believed the horse had been "intentionally lamed."

Struck On Forelegs

Snowden Carter, racing writer for the Baltimore Evening Sun, quoted Feltner that One Throw "was struck by a hard object on one of his forelegs sometime between the hours of midnight and 4 a.m. last Friday."

The laming occurred in Barn 17 at nearby Laurel Race Course where Henry H. Hecht's One Throw was quartered for the Bowie meet.

Feltner said he discovered when he arrived at his barn Friday morning that his watchdog, described as a "fierce pit bulldog" had been locked in a feed room, that One Throw's stall had been entered, and that a bandage and a protective boot had been removed from the horse's right foreleg.

The veteran trainer told the racing commission there was a swelling on the horse's right leg and it appeared he had been struck or bumped with a hard object.

The bandage, which had been fastened to the horse's leg by two safety pins, and the boot, fastened by a buckle, were found in the stall.

One Throw was scratched from the race, a $10,000-8,000 claiming feature after Feltner discovered the injury. The horse had been picked on top by most of the country's handicappers and was expected to be the short-priced favorite. One Throw won a $7,500-6,500 claiming race at Bowie last March 26.

Montreal Cops Hockey Trophy

Beats Detroit, 3-1, Wins Stanley Cup

MONTREAL, April 10 (AP)—The magnificent Montreal Canadians, with Jean Beliveau and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard leading a relentless attack and Jacques Plante a tower of strength in the nets, won the coveted Stanley Cup tonight with a hustling 3-1 victory over the defending champion Detroit Red Wings.

The flashy Frenchmen, who last won the cup symbolizing hockey supremacy in 1953, wrapped up the final playoff series, four games to one against the Red Wings, who had won the cup two years running.

Plante, the leading goal-tender of the regular season in the National Hockey league, was superb throughout, but practically broke Detroit's back in the second period when the Red Wings stepped up their attack after a scoreless opening session.

Again and again he turned back Red Wing thrusts with sensational saves before the Montreal offense finally caught fire.

Beliveau, the NHL's leading scorer, got the Canadiens' foot in the door at 14:16 of the second period, going in alone to beat goalie Glenn Hall after taking a neat backhand pass from Floyd Curry. Less than a minute later, Richard made it 2-0, taking Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's short pass from the midst of a scramble and putting a cross-fire shot into the nets.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

This Year Of Grace

A young lady I know who shall be nameless was wandering down the corridor of an enormous television network which shall be nameless and encountered the secretary of one of the most famous news commentators who shall be nameless and she said:

"That %//$%''$ Grace Kelly." Or words to that effect. "Everyone has been pulled off everything else to cover that girl's wedding. The Middle East could explode and we'd have no one there." And the girl vanished down the hall in high dudgeon.

This note of wild exasperation is characteristic of all the news organizations — press, radio, television — about an event that the press created to start out with and which has now gone hopelessly out of control. Probably the classic remark of this historic event was uttered by Jinx Falkenburg on the "Today" show the day the ship sailed. (Don't ask what ship — the ship, you fool.) NBC, she said, had six reporters covering D-Day — but they were sending nine to cover Miss Kelly's wedding.

Romance can extend only so far and after that, naturally, comes sponsorship. Prince Rainier has complained that he doesn't want any commercialization of his wedding and everyone laughed heartily. Sponsors—in case you want to go buy the stuff right now—for the nuptials — if that's a word anyone uses any more — will be Peter Pan Foundations (bras, girdles), Maybelline (eye-makeup), Bourjois (perfumes), Lanvin (same thing), Lettuce, Inc. (you eat it in salads), Slenderella (reducing), Coty, Inc. (more perfume), Purex Corp. (cleanser).

I kept waiting for the first note of exasperation, which has been widely expressed privately, to be expressed publicly, and finally it came from Mr. Edward P. Morgan on his news show on ABC.

"To tell you the truth, I feel like the little boy who has been forced to accept the fact that his Easter rabbit doesn't lay eggs. What finally brought me down to earth was the announcement of the Associated Press today that it, alone, will have seven correspondents, five photographers, and technical assistants too numerous to mention in Monaco for the wedding. There was an air of finality about that. The AP says it is already pulling its correspondents from such lesser capitals as London, Paris and Rome and setting up a bureau overlooking the very courtyard where — according to the society editors — Grace and Prince Rainier are going to live happily ever after.

"The AP warns its clients to get ready for a quickening of the tempo of coverage. In fact its announcement leaves the distant impression that news in the rest of the world will be stopped dead in its tracks from now until the honeymoon. It was announced at the White House today that President Eisenhower in all probability will designate a personal ambassador to represent him. I'd kind of like to suggest that Mr. Eisenhower designate Walt Disney. In one gracious gesture that would confirm what so many people suspect, that we Americans — the public in general and the administration in particular — prefer fairy tales to the stark non-fiction of everyday life.

"Just a word of caution to the AP, though: I'd leave a skeleton staff in London and waypoints. You never know when that Dick Tracy of the Internal Revenue Staff, Donald R. Moysey, will strike again at the enemy."

I can't remember anything so rich in comic possibilities since the sailing of the Ford Peace Ship during World War I. The press releases alone are full of wonderfully unexpected sentences. Says the United Press (which is opening a bureau in Monaco): "UP columnist Gloria Swanson already has checked in at Monaco to cover the modern fairy tale against the backdrop of her Riviera memories."

If you think you're going to avoid the Grace Kelly wedding on radio and TV, you're crazy unless you pull the covers over your head. CBS has assigned Malcolm Johnson, news editor of the Washington bureau, Don Hewitt, director, and Dave Schoenbrun and Blair Clark, of their Paris bureau, plus five cameramen, and three special assistants. From NBC, Jinx Falkenburg and Arlene Francis and practically everyone else except the telephone girls are going.

Well, I always said the second World War would blow over eventually, and it did, and this thing will, too.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Moorefield And Keyser Chalk Up Second Wins In P. V. C

Fred Clark's Tossers Beat Southern, 8-3

Jackets Post 2nd Shutout; Franklin, Capon Bridge Win

Moorefield High School's defending champions and Keyser High School posted their second victories of the season yesterday in the Potomac Valley Conference.

Coach Jonathan Paugh's Yellow Jackets blanked Wardensville High's Warriors for the second time by the score 13-0, at Wardensville, while Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser Golden Tornado defeated Southern High School of Oakland by the score of 8-3 at Keyser.

Capon Bridge Wins

Rained out in two previous games, Coach Cliff Towles' Capon Bridge High School tossers finally opened their season with a 15-8 decision over Mathias in a conference tilt at Capon Bridge.

Franklin High School eked out a 3-2 decision over the Petersburg High School Vikings in a game played at Petersburg.

Billy Bauserman and Lester Hyre limited Wardensville to four singles and struck out 15 as Moorefield took the measure of the Warriors. Bauserman hurled the first five frames, yielded two hits and fanned 10 to receive credit for the victory. Hyre twirled two innings and whiffed five. Chester Merriman was nicked for eight hits and nine runs in 5⅓ stanzas and was charged with the defeat.

Jim Barr headed Moorefield's 10-hit attack with a double and two singles. Donnie Schell and Harold Cain obtained two hits each.

Roy Notches 2nd Win

Bill Roy posted his second win in as many days by twirling Keyser to its second conference win over the Highlanders from Garrett county. The Keyser hurler scattered five hits and fanned eight over the seven-inning route.

Southern took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but the Clarkmen racked up all their tallies in the first three frames to put the game on ice early. The big blow during a four-run rally in the opening frame was delivered by Joe Pezzanite—a triple with the bases loaded.

Fred Colaw was the victim of the first inning assault and was charged with the loss. Toby Colaw hurled the last 5⅓ frames and was the only player in the game to obtain two hits. Keyser was limited to four safeties.

Dahmer Beats Vikings

Stan Dahmer kept seven hits well spaced and fired the third strike past 10 batsmen in hurling Coach Bob Hartman's Franklin High Panthers to victory over Petersburg.

Bill Reynolds, leadoff man for the Vikings, hit a home run in the first inning but Franklin scored twice in the third and pushed over the deciding tally in the fifth frame.

Gene Turner gave up five hits in five innings and was charged with the defeat. Two of the six hits he gave up were two-baggers by Propst. Reynolds accounted for two of the losers' seven safeties.

Circleville plays at Petersburg Friday at 2:45 p. m.

Capon Tops Mathias

Herman Mason was returned the victor over Charley Combs as Capon Bridge downed Mathias High School but both starting pitchers failed to go the limit.

Three Mathias pitchers issued 12 bases on balls while Mason and John McCauley of Capon Bridge walked six, struck out 16 and hit five batsmen with pitched balls. Leonard Emswiler of Mathias paced the stickers with three singles in five trips to the plate.

Capon Bridge hosts Wardensvills High School Friday.

Senators Nose Out Redlegs In Ninth

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators scored two runs today in the ninth inning on a pinch single by Lou Berberet to defeat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 9-8.

Berberet put his single into right field and scored Karl Olson and Pedro Ramos, who was running for Clint Courtney. Olson and Courtney opened the ninth inning with singles off losing pitcher Bud Podbielan.

The Senators had a 6-3 lead until the eighth inning when the Reds pushed across five runs, including a three-run homer by Smoky Burgess.

Chuck Spieser Choice To Beat Rowan Tonight

Light-Heavies Will Collide At Detroit

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Chuck Spieser, fourth-ranking light heavyweight contender, was favored today to gain a decision over aggressive Joey Rowan of Phoenixville, Pa., in their fight at Olympia Stadium tomorrow night.

Both boxers, equally ambitious, contracted to weigh in at under the 175-pound limit at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The 10-round bout will be nationally televised (ABC-TV-radio, 10 p.m.).

A victory for Detroiter Spieser probably would give him his third shot at Willie Pastrano at New Orleans. Spieser lost to Pastrano the first time they met. They fought to a draw in a rematch at Miami in January.

Spieser, a 26-year-old product of Michigan State University has a 17-3-1 record, including 12 knockout victories. Rowan, who is five years younger, has a 27-8-1 record, including 13 kayos.

Venturi Attributes Loss To Lack Of Moral Support

Ken Says He Didn't Have Anyone To Talk To In Closing Round

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10 (AP)—Ken Venturi, who lost the Masters golf tournament Sunday by a single stroke, pictured himself today as a lonesome youngster during his final round at Augusta.

"I didn't have anyone to talk to," he said in an interview at his suburban San Francisco home. "The officials wouldn't let anyone walk with me that I knew. I just wanted to talk to one of my friends and they wouldn't let me talk.

"I was nervous anyway and all the help I could get I could use. I don't mean clubbing help or anything like that, just someone friendly to talk to.

"I don't want people to think I'm peeved at everybody back there because I'm not. I don't have a sour taste in my mouth. But I certainly wasn't getting any of the benefit of the doubt."

Pairings Switched

The 24-year-old amateur, who blew an eight-stroke lead during Sunday's final round when he fired an 80, finished one stroke behind winner Jack Burke's 289.

Venturi said he still was puzzled about the switch in pairings on Sunday which sent him out with Sam Snead rather than Byron Nelson, who is a personal friend of long standing. He said he originally had been paired with Nelson, but at the last minute was sent out with Snead.

"He wasn't going to help," Venturi said, "but it would have been comforting to play with him. Sam was very nice, he tried to be anyway, but he didn't know how to say things that would have made me feel better."

What perturbed Venturi even more, he said, was the fact that Burke played with Mike Souchak on the last day.

"They're real good friends," he said. "I heard from different guys that when Burke made a fantastic putt for a birdie Souchak jumped up in the air and was happy for him.

No Moral Support

"I didn't have anybody to talk to and I was under a strain. This was the biggest thing in my whole career and I couldn't get any moral support.

"I was lonesome. There was a big crowd of people, but I was all alone and when one of my friends came up to talk to me on the 17th tee I suddenly looked around and he was gone. He told me later the officials told him to leave."

The friend was National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward, with whom Venturi works for an automobile agency here.

Venturi said it was unlikely he'd play in any professional tournaments before the National Open at Rochester, N.Y., in June. His plans for the next few months are to practice and play only in amateur meets in this area.

"But I'll be ready for the Open," he said. "I'll show them then."

New York Yankees Trim Dallas, 6-3

DALLAS, April 10 (AP) — Elston Howard's home run and triple powered the New York Yankees to a 6-3 victory over the Dallas Eagles of the Texas League today.

The Yankees racked up 15 hits against the only minor league opposition they are scheduled to face during their spring exhibition campaign.

White Ford, who sprained his left ankle in practice last Saturday, went six innings and surrendered seven hits. Bob Grim finished up, making his fourth appearance in five games.

Mickey Mantle got into the starting lineup for the first time since he injured a hamstring muscle behind his right knee March 28. The Yankees' star centerfielder played five innings and came up with a single in three trips.

Rogovin Yields 13 Hits And 15 Runs

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 10 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox landed on Saul Rogovin for 15 runs, including three homers, to humilate the Phillies by a 21-1 score before 4,974 fans here today.

Rogovin lasted only 2 1-3 innings and yielded 13 hits to the Hose before being replaced by Marino Pieretti.

Jimmy Piersall started the parade with his second homer of the spring in the second inning. Ted Williams followed with his first of the year with two men on and Jackie Jensen dittoed with the bases empty for the seventh Hose run of the frame.

In the third, the Red Sox rolled up their highest single inning total of eight runs.

Pinch Homer Defeats Bucs

Ginsberg's Clout Wins For K.C., 4-2

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10 (AP)—Pinch hitter Joe Ginsberg hit a home run with one man on and one out in the top of the ninth inning today to break up a 2-2 tie and give the Kansas City Athletics a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The blow came off relief pitcher Red Munger who had retired one batter, then given up a single to Joe DeMaestri.

The victory was credited to little Bobby Shantz who gave up one hit in the final two innings after reliving Troy Herriage, who allowed seven hits in as many innings. Dick Littlefield hurled the first eight innings for the Pirates.

Vic Power and DeMaestri each collected three hits for A's while Dick Groat and Dale Long had two hits apiece for the Pirates.

Trainer Doesn't Think Marciano Will Retire

Figures Rocky Will Fight In September

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP) — Charley Goldman, the tiny trainer who helped harness Rocky Marciano's raw power, said today he doesn't think the heavyweight champion will call it quits.

"From what I know all they have to do is provide an opponent who can draw some dough and Rocky will be in there in September," said Charley.

"If Rocky was going backward I'd advise him to quit myself. But he isn't even standing still. He's getting better with every fight. Just imagine, here's the guy who is king of them all and he's improving right along.

"Rocky's never been hurt. Sure, he's been cut but the cuts heal. Nature has provided him with a strong body and he keeps it strong. I think he's the strongest heavyweight champion of all time.

"The only reason he'd quit would be if he felt he had enough money in the bank and didn't get any kick out of fighting. He won't fight a nobody but maybe someone will develop fast enough for a September fight. It could be Hurricane Jackson or Archie Moore again or maybe Floyd Patterson if he fights a decent opponent soon."

Babe Is Cheerful, Hopes To Get Well

GALVESTON, Tex., April 10 (AP)—Babe Zaharias, a legend of sports, remained cheerful today in the face of a report that the cancer she has been fighting for three years was extending.

"God willing I'll get well and return to golf," said the greatest woman athlete of her time. "I believe I will."

At the same time she called on everyone in America to contribute in some way to the Cancer Fund.

The woman who crowded a fabulous athletic career into 25 years has established a fund to fight cancer—the Babe Zaharias Fund. It has grown into thousands of dollars and contributions continue to flow in with each day.

Injury Keeps Sailor Idle For Six Months

BOWIE, Md., April 10 (AP) — Brookmeade Stable's Sailor, injured Saturday while winning the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Memorial Handicap at Bowie, will be unable to race for six months, Trainer Preston M. Burch said today.

Burch notified John Turner Jr., Bowie racing secretary, that x-rays had revealed Sailor suffered a small fracture of the left foreleg. The x-rays were made this morning by Dr. F. A. Howard, Brookmeade Stable veterinarian.

In Memoriam

In memory of my dear son, James Floyd Boone, who passed away suddenly, April 11, 1943.
I really miss you, Jimmie, dear,
Since God took you away.
And this day, more than ever,
This is my sad day.
With a broken heart, I watched you,
Saw you pass away,
And though I loved you dearly,
I could not make you stay.
I was standing at your bedside
And saw your life depart,
And when my heart knew you were gone,
It almost broke my heart.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But no, it isn't true,
For many long months have passed away,
And my heart still aches for you.
Loving Mother, NELLIE BOONE

Bi - State Conference Will Launch 18th Season Today

Campers Open Schedule Here With Indians

Sentinels To Host Hornets; LaSalle To Visit Bruce

Action in the Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference is slated to get under way today with two games in Cumberland and other contests at Frostburg and Westernport.

Today's games mark the opening of the 18th consecutive season of the schoolboy circuit and eight of the nine schools represented are scheduled to swing into action.

Fort Hill High School's defending champions, with John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh at the helm, will play host to Coach Ed McVicker's Hyndman High School Hornets at Fort Hill Field at 3:30 o'clock.

Ronnie Winters has been nominated to pitch for the Sentinels who bagged 14 out of 16 games in the conference last year.

The Sentinels kicked off the lid on Monday with a 6-0 decision over the Alumni.

Indians At Allegany

Gene Shaw, whose first year as head basketball coach at Allegany High was successful, will make hs bow as baseball mentor today when the Campers lock horns with Joe Carter's Mt. Savage High Indians on the Sedgwick Street field at 4 o'clock. Allegany hopes to improve the 5-11 record of 1955, Roy Lester's last season as baseball coach at Campobello. Mt. Savage also had a 5-11 record last season.

Beall High School also will be opening its season under a new coach in the person of Melvin Brown, former Kitzmiller High mentor, when the Mountaineers cross bats with "Stony" Jackson's Flintstone High Aggies in the Mountain City this afternoon at 3:30. Beall copped 12 out of 16 games last season while Flintstone, was 3-13, which included wins over Allegany, Fort Hill and Bruce. The Aggies cracked Fort Hill's 11-game winning streak toward the end of the 1955 campaign.

Coach George Geatz's LaSalle High Explorers invade Westernport today to play Bruce High School's Bulldogs at 3:30. Lefty Bill Roberts, who posted a 5-3 record for an Explorer nine that won eight and lost seven last season, may get the pitching assignment for LaSalle.

Donnie Wilkinson, junior, who accounted for five of Bruce's wins last season and wound up with a 5-3 record, will likely work on the firing line for the Bulldogs. Wilkinson, incidentally, has won nine and lost five for Bruce since making his pitching debut as a freshman.

Leonard Ritchie, former Southern High (Oakland) mentor, who took over the basketball reins at Bruce at the start of the 1955-56 season also will be making his bow as baseball coach at the Westernport school. The Bulldogs won six and lost 10 under Augie Eichhorn last season.

Valley High School's Black Knights will open their season on Thursday, playing host to Allegany at Lonaconing.

Romney Nines Clash

Coach Glenn R. Hawkins' West Virginia School for the Deaf nine and Clyde Green's Romney High Pioneers meet at Romney, Elk Garden's Elks test Southern of Oakland at Elk Garden and Keyser winds up its two-game series with Fort Ashby on the Eagles' field.

Romney and West Virginia School for the Deaf will be opening their season. The Pioneers were 5-5 last year and the Deaf School's overall record was 2-11.

Lacrosse and shinny are American Indian games, says the National Geographic Society.

New York State May Revise Racing Rule

NEW YORK, April 10—(INS)—The New York State Racing Commission announced today that it will hold an open hearing at Belmont Park April 19 on a proposal to revise the state's thoroughbred racing disqualification rule.

New York is one of only two racing states that automatically places a horse last if it interferes with another horse. Most states place the offending horse only behind the one interfered with.

Mont Pleased With Showing Of Backfield

Alumni Will Test Terps On Saturday

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 10—(AP)—The crop of backs he inherited gives Maryland football a better offensive outlook than last year, Coach Tommy Mont said today.

"The overall backfield will have more speed, particularly to the outside," said Mont who stepped up to the head job upon the departure of Coach Jim Tatum to North Carolina.

Mont added that depends on the development of "third stringers, since you know at Maryland we use three sets of backs."

Play Grads Saturday

He also pointed out he still is thinking offensively since he didn't get down to defense until this third week of spring practice. He expects to see more in a game with the Alumni Saturday (2:30 p.m.).

Last year's freshmen in particular are making Mont's eyes sparkle. One of them, Fred Kershner of Martinsburg, W. Va., he compared with Ronnie Waller and Chet Hanulak, two of Maryland's best running backs in the last 10 years. Waller was fourth leading pro ground gainer with the Los Angeles Rams last season while Hanulak played for the Cleveland Browns before going into military service.

Don Soberdash of Dunbar, Pa., also was picked out by Mont as a sophomore to bear watching next season.

However, Mont doesn't have to bank on the sophomores. He has such letter winners as Fred Hamilton, Howie Dare, Jack Healy and John McVicker at the halfback positions.

The same is true at quarterback where Frank Tamburello again is No. 1 backed up by John Fritsch. But Dickie Lewis, also a freshman from Martinsburg, is labeled a "hot" article.

Selep Tries Again

At fullback, Tom Selep is ready to try again. He was supposed to be the starter last season and hurt his knee the opening day of fall practice to be lost for the season.

"If he continues the way he has started," Mont said, "I don't see how there will be a faster starter or harder hitting college fullback in the country."

First life saving stations for distressed mariners in the U. S. were established in 1787.

Podres To Receive Babe Ruth Award

BROOKLYN, April 10 (AP)—Johnny Podres, star of Brooklyn's victory in the 1955 World Series, will be on hand when the Dodgers open their baseball season against the Philadelphia Phillies at Ebbets Field next Tuesday. But he won't be pitching.

The young lefthander has been given a 24-hour leave from the Bainbridge, Md., Naval Base in order that he may receive the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1955 World Series.

The award will be made in pregame ceremonies. Podres, who beat the New York Yankees twice in the series, was inducted into military service March 19.

THAT'S RIGHT! MY BEER IS Old Export
IT'S ALL* BEER!
. . . says
ANDREW J. HARGOSH
Wright's Crossing
Frostburg, Md.

"I like it because it's different. Different in a way that's satisfying and refreshing. And it is a beer you can depend on. You know 'what's inside' when you buy it. You know you're getting the same fine quality and flavor you got the last time you bought it. Other beers change a lot. Or at least they say they do. Old Export doesn't have to. It's got everything a real beer should have. It's ALL beer!"

We think that you, too, will get more satisfaction and pleasure out of a bottle of Old Export beer. And the best way to prove this, is to try it. We're pretty sure that you'll agree right along with a lot of other folks that Old Export is beer the way real beer should be.

* ALL (ôl), adj.—means everything. ALL-beer—means beer that has everything it takes to make it a real beer. Nothing left out or substituted for. Syn. Old Export.

IT'S ALL BEER—ALL-WAYS!

JOHN E. HUTTON
San Antonio, Texas

"While on vacation over a thousand miles from home, another driver smashed into our car. My wife and children were nearly in tears as our vacation seemed hopelessly ruined. But a phone call to a nearby Allstate representative brightened things up. He arranged for our overnight stay, and in the morning there was our car—completely repaired and raring to go. We went merrily on our way singing the praises of Allstate. It's a wonderful experience we'll never forget!"

Just one more example of the friendly, fast, dependable service that makes it great to be with Allstate!

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

This Year Of Grace

A young lady I know who shall be nameless was wandering down the corridor of an enormous television network which shall be nameless and encountered the secretary of one of the most famous news commentators who shall be nameless and she said:

"That %//$%"$ Grace Kelly." Or words to that effect. "Everyone has been pulled off everything else to cover that girl's wedding. The Middle East could explode and we'd have no one there." And the girl vanished down the hall in high dudgeon.

This note of wild exasperation is characteristic of all the news organizations — press, radio, television — about an event that the press created to start out with and which has now gone hopelessly out of control. Probably the classic remark of this historic event was uttered by Jinx Falkenburg on the "Today" show the day the ship sailed. (Don't ask what ship — the ship, you fool.) NBC, she said, had six reporters covering D-Day — but they were sending nine to cover Miss Kelly's wedding.

Romance can extend only so far and after that, naturally, comes sponsorship. Prince Rainier has complained that he doesn't want any commercialization of his wedding and everyone laughed heartily. Sponsors—in case you want to go buy the stuff right now—for the nuptials — if that's a word anyone uses any more — will be Peter Pan Foundations (bras, girdles), Maybelline (eye-makeup), Bourjois (perfumes), Lanvin (same thing), Lettuce, Inc. (you eat it in salads), Slenderella (reducing), Coty, Inc. (more perfume), Purex Corp. (cleanser).

I kept waiting for the first note of exasperation, which has been widely expressed privately, to be expressed publicly, and finally it came from Mr. Edward P. Morgan on his news show on ABC.

"To tell you the truth, I feel like the little boy who has been forced to accept the fact that his Easter rabbit doesn't lay eggs. What finally brought me down to earth was the announcement of the Associated Press today that it, alone, will have seven correspondents, five photographers, and technical assistants too numerous to mention in Monaco for the wedding. There was an air of finality about that. The AP says it is already pulling its correspondents from such lesser capitals as London, Paris and Rome and setting up a bureau overlooking the very courtyard where — according to the society editors — Grace and Prince Rainier are going to live happily ever after.

"The AP warns its clients to get ready for a quickening of the tempo of coverage. In fact its announcement leaves the distant impression that news in the rest of the world will be stopped dead in its tracks from now until the honeymoon. It was announced at the White House today that President Eisenhower in all probability will designate a personal ambassador to represent him. I'd kind of like to suggest that Mr. Eisenhower designate Walt Disney. In one gracious gesture that would confirm what so many people suspect, that we Americans — the public in general and the administration in particular — prefer fairy tales to the stark non-fiction of everyday life.

"Just a word of caution to the AP, though: I'd leave a skeleton staff in London and waypoints. You never know when that Dick Tracy of the Internal Revenue Staff, Donald R. Moysey, will strike again at the enemy."

I can't remember anything so rich in comic possibilities since the sailing of the Ford Peace Ship during World War I. The press releases alone are full of wonderfully unexpected sentences. Says the United Press (which is opening a bureau in Monaco): "UP columnist Gloria Swanson already has checked in at Monaco to cover the modern fairy tale against the backdrop of her Riviera memories."

If you think you're going to avoid the Grace Kelly wedding on radio and TV, you're crazy unless you pull the covers over your head. CBS has assigned Malcolm Johnson, news editor of the Washington bureau, Don Hewitt, director, and Dave Schoenbrun and Blair Clark, of their Paris bureau, plus five cameramen, and three special assistants. From NBC, Jinx Falkenburg and Arlene Francis and practically everyone else except the telephone girls are going.

Well, I always said the second World War would blow over eventually, and it did, and this thing will, too.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Area Towns Tell Of Needs For Taming River

Ask Flood Control, Regulation Of Flow

Officials of the Tri-Towns area yesterday testified to the need of taming the North Branch of the Potomac River in that area.

Needs of the area which suffered extensive damage during hurricane floods in 1954 and 1955 were related at a hearing conducted in Westernport by the Corps of Engineers, which is embarking on a comprehensive study leading to the development of the water resources of the entire Potomac River Basin.

The hearing was conducted by Col. Ray Adams, district engineer of the Washington District, Army Corps of Engineers.

Full backing of the study was pledged by Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W. Va. 2d), who has proposed that a series of dams be built to control floods and spread the flow of the river over the entire year.

More dams are needed, according to J. B. Dowling, chief of the Sanitation Section of the Allegany County Health Department.

Need Dams, Water

Suitable locations are available for the dams, he said, and more water is needed, both for industrial domestic supplies in the Cumberland area.

Control of pollution should be included in the plan, Dowling said in recounting the effect of sewage from communities of Western Maryland.

The West Virginia State Road Commission is interested in the program, reported C. L. Bowers, Charleston, since floods cause considerable damage to roads of the state.

Westernport is vitally interested in flood control, reported Westernport Mayor Okey Michael. Dikes built along the stream in WPA days, he said, have been beneficial but expensive to maintain.

John Luke III, manager of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, said the greatest needs are more flood protection and regulation of the flow of the river.

Reduced Damage

The Savage River Dam, he said, has helped considerably. During Hurricane Hazel, he said, the plant suffered $62,000 damage.

Without the dam, the river would have been 2½ feet higher and damage, direct and indirect, would have been over $2,000,000, he reported.

Further regulation by small and large dams is needed, said J. G. Patrick, supervisory engineer for the Savage River Dam.

Piedmont needs adequate flood protection, said Mayor Rodney Baker after recounting how that town last fall cleared the channel of the river through a $3,000 fund contributed by citizens.

Hearings Set Today

The Corps of Engineers study will include a thorough engineering, economic and social survey of the basin region and will consider water supply for domestic, agricultural and industrial purposes, flood control, soil conservation, pollution abatement, hydroelectric power, fish and wild life and recreation.

The survey was initiated with four public hearings on the North Branch of the Potomac River above Cumberland and Ridgeley.

Hearings were held yesterday at Westernport and Keyser, W.Va., and continue today at Bayard, W.Va., and Kitzmiller, providing individuals and organizations in the affected area an opportunity to present pertinent information and data and to make known their desires and problems for consideration in the study.

Col. Adams explained that the hearings on the North Branch are being held first because of the urgent requirements for flood control in that area which suffered extensive damage during the hurricane floods of October 1954 and August 1955.

Papers Seek Old Photos For Local Use

The Cumberland News and the Cumberland Evening Times will publish "old fashioned" editions April 26 and want an "assist" from their readers.

Last year after similar editions were printed many photographs of old time scenes were offered for publication. Now is the time to bring these photographs again to the Times-News office. The older the photograph, the better. The pictures should be of subjects in the greater Cumberland area.

The name and address of the owner should be printed in ink on the back of the photographs which will be returned to the owners.

This is an opportunity to let your neighbors share something of the past from Cumberland. Bring or send your old photographs to the Times-News editorial office not later than April 18.

Local Methodist Minister Is Named Pastor Emeritus

DR. CRATES S. JOHNSON

Rev. Dr. Crates S. Johnson will be honored by members of Central Methodist Church during the worship service Sunday when he will be officially installed as pastor emeritus of the church.

The award will be presented by Ernest R. Spriggs, church lay leader. Dr. Johnson served as a supply pastor of the local church from September 15, 1948, to June 8, 1952.

While serving in this capacity, he was instrumental in building an addition to the church for use by the children's division of the church school and as a fellowship hall.

Born in Morristown, Ind., he was graduated from Moores Hill College, Evansville, Ind. Entering the ministry in 1903, he served pastorates in Indianapolis, Ind., Tiffen and Columbus, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Johnson was editor of the church school literature of the Methodist Protestant Church from 1924 to 1939. He was a delegate to the Uniting Conference in 1939, when the Methodist Episcopal, the Methodist Episcopal South, and the Methodist Protestant churches were united. Later he went to Nashville, Tenn., as a member of the editorial staff of the church school literature of the Methodist Church, continuing in that relation until his official retirement in 1945.

Dr. Johnson was a trustee of Adrian (Mich.) College, and received his D.D. degree from that institution. He is now serving his third term as president of the Retired Ministers Association of the North East Ohio Annual Conference, of which he is a member.

Dr. Johnson maintains a study at 128 Union Street and does freelance writing. For the past three years he has written a weekly column for The Cumberland News, under the pen name of Brother Barnabas. He resides with his daughter, Mrs. Norman O. Scribner, 107 Luteman Road.

Keegan Keeps George Mahoney On Run Here

Stop Fire Chief While Shaving

CUMBERLAND, April 10 (AP) — William V. Keegan, jovial police commissioner of this Western Maryland city, kept George P. Mahoney on the run today in his Allegany County vote tour for the Democratic Senate nomination.

"Come on, George," Keegan would say, "don't stand so long with one vote. We have a lot of territory to cover."

So the Mahoney entourage swept quickly through Cumberland before moving on to a long list of outlying towns in the George's Creek Valley.

"If you're a friend of Bill Keegan's, that makes it official," said a pretty brunette as she shook hands with the candidate.

Mahoney and Keegan interrupted Fire Chief V. A. Parker in the middle of shaving in his quarters above the fire house.

On Liberty Street, Mahoney stopped to direct a truck backing into an alley. "Come on back, come on back, you have plenty of room," Mahoney called to the driver. And when the truck was safely in the alley with its load of frozen meat, Mahoney introduced himself to the driver.

There was one potential voter who didn't have a smile for Mahoney.

"Excuse me," she said, "I just got back from the dentist. He gave me a shot of novocaine and I can't smile."

Mahoney started the day by breakfasting with Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Committee and one of Mahoney's supporters. Two other supporters at the breakfast were Peter J. Carpenti, a lawyer, and William C. Burns, vice president of the Cumberland Young Democrats.

Tomorrow, Mahoney heads farther west into Garrett County.

In Baltimore today, Paul J. Reed, manager of Mahoney's city campaign, issued a statement in which he noted that Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, who is backing Millard E. Tydings for the Senate nomination, once found Tydings' record "very poor, indeed."

He said D'Alesandro, as a congressman in 1938, "found himself on the opposite side from Senator Tydings on almost every important issue. That was very comendable of Mr. D'Alesandro then," Reed said. "He shouldn't undo his good work now by identifying himself with a man who voted consistently against the interests of the 'little man' D'Alesandro always says he champions."

After leaving Cumberland, Mahoney was accompanied by Finan and Keegan on a "shoe-leather" campaign along the main street of every town from Frostburg to Westernport.

More Power Asked For River Group

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Power to regulate pollution control is proposed for the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin by Rep. Hyde (R-Md).

Hyde offered today a measure to permit the states in the Potomac River Basin compact to extend to the commission the power to regulate.

Anti-pollution measures now pending fail to provide the commission with authority to make surveys effective, Hyde said.

The compact, among Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, must be enlarged to include regulatory powers, Hyde said.

"Unless this is done," he added, "the Congress is placed in the position of invading the contract between the states and of attempting to impose on the commission specific duties not now in the compact.

"Concurrence of the parties to the agreement must be obtained. My legislation removes any doubt about congressional consent to enlarging the scope of the compact."

Baptists Schedule Clinic Tomorrow

Tydings Says US Must Be Strong Without Waste

Calls War Threat Greatest Problem

BALTIMORE, April 10 (AP)—Millard E. Tydings said tonight the United States must "stay strong without waste" until "the futility of whole world as an armed camp will dawn upon our potential enemies."

In a speech prepared for television, the former Maryland senator and candidate for Democratic nomination to his old post said continued strength and constant work for a "gangster-proof peace" are the answer to "the greatest single problem before all of civilized man."

Discussing the international picture over a three-station hook-up from Baltimore (WBAL-TV), Salisbury (WBOC-TV) and Washington (WTTG), Tydings reviewed tensions in the Far East, Middle East, and Mediterranean.

"In the meantime, such countries as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia struggle behind the Iron Curtain for freedom," he added.

"When the present administration took over in January, 1953, it stated it was going to do everything it could to liberate these countries whose people are virtually dominated from Moscow.

Threat Of War

Tydings suggested an annual review of "our military commitments so as not to subject our people to taxes which are unnecessarily burdensome and at the same time keep our essential strength."

Then, he added, he believes that "as time unfolds the futility of the whole world as an armed camp will dawn upon our potential enemies (and) they will come to know that the money now being poured out by them in military purposes could, if used to further the welfare of their own people, raise the standard of living, education, religion and all the other attributes of civilization to a plane somewhat comparable to that enjoyed by the free world."

Earlier in his speech Tydings noted that of 66 billion dollars President Eisenhower asked Congress to appropriate for the coming year, nearly 37 billion was requested for national defense.

The former senator also compared reports of United States and Soviet armed strength and advances in nuclear weapons.

Could Cripple Nation

"It has been stated that one modern hydrogen bomb dropped in the center of any great city would wipe out most of the population and leave countless thousands wounded and injured, to say nothing of the destruction of property," he said.

"Therefore, as one who served for 24 years on the Armed Services Committee of the Senate, it has always been something of a puzzle to me why certain groups of our population give to this, the gravest of all national problems, a degree of relative thought far less than they give to other problems before our government."

If elected Tydings said, he would devote himself to "the keeping of the peace, God willing, to keep of our nation strong to continue negotiations with our potential enemies, to lessen the threat of war, and to doing it with the least possible financial burden upon our people which the stark naked facts of life will justify."

Lucky Bucks

The "buck" you mail for Easter Seals will be lucky for some crippled child in Allegany County.

Thousands of Allegany countians received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and so far approximately $7,000 has been realized from the distribution. Much more is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section.

Don't hold back if you have not yet mailed your money for the seals. It's possible that the buck you haven't returned is the dollar that will be needed to reach the goal.

Historical Exhibit Opens

Mrs. Margaret Rice of Bedford Road and Mrs. Robert M. Bruce of 223 Washington Street were among scores of visitors to the Allegany County Historical Society's exhibition who stopped to admire this table setting of old cut glass. The society's exhibit of historical items opened yesterday afternoon and will continue through Sunday, from 1 to 9 p. m. each day.

$7,026 Reported In Easter Seal Campaign Here

Percentage Leader Now Is Ellerslie

Some $7,026.30 already has been reported in the 12th annual Easter Seal campaign in behalf of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the league, announced yesterday that additional funds are coming in each day as a result of the daily reminders in the Cumberland newspapers.

Mrs. Annan said that of the more than 23,000 letters with seals mailed out to Allegany County residents in March, some 2,800 were returned by the Post Office Department because the addressee had moved or was not known.

The $7,026.30 reported does not include some $747.98 obtained by the Cumberland Eagles and Moose, the Frostburg Moose and the Lonaconing VFW through sale of paper lilies.

William R. Carscaden, again serving as chairman of the campaign, said that about 25 per cent of the letters have brought in contributions to the League for Crippled Children. Ten per cent is considered good in most mail campaigns.

Among the 12 communities which have made the largest contributions in the Easter Seal drive, Ellerslie has the best percentage of contributors, 43.9 per cent. Some 76 out of the 173 Ellerslie residents mailed Easter Seals have sent in contributions.

Contributions from the 12 leading communities:

Cumberland, $4,529.50 from 3,567 contributions, 25.2 per cent of 14,135 mailed; Frostburg, $849.50 from 765 contributions, 25.6 per cent of 2,993 mailed; Westernport, $364 from 246 contributions, 18.9 per cent of 1,300 mailed; Lonaconing, $276.50 from 245 contributions, 24 per cent of 1,022 mailed; Mt. Savage, $129.85 from 119 contributions, 18.4 per cent of 646 mailed; Barton, $124.75 from 100 contributions, 24.7 per cent of 405 mailed; Keyser (McCoole to Rawlings area), $87 from 81 contributions, 20.6 per cent of 394 mailed; Luke, $85 from 63 contributions, 29 per cent of 217 mailed; Ellerslie, $76 from 76 contributions, 43.9 per cent of 173 mailed; Midland, $69 from 60 contributions, 22.4 per cent of 268 mailed; LaVale (just those handled by the Post Office there), $67.25 from 52 contributions, 31.7 per cent of 164 mailed; Cresaptown, $62.75 from 66 contributions, 17.2 per cent of 384 mailed.

Workshop Takes 'Charity' Out Of Red Feather Unit

BY C. WESLEY BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

They're taking the "charity" out of the Associated Charities, one of Cumberland's Red Feather agencies, and everybody's happy about it.

The agency's workshop, located opposite City Hall, is providing work for the temporarily unemployed and a lot of usable furniture for the needy.

Since Christmas, the Associated Charities has supplied furniture for six families who lost all their belongings when their homes were destroyed by fire.

Smaller allotments of home furniture have been supplied to many other needy families.

All of the furnishings come from the workshop where it is taken for repair or storage after it is picked up by members of the agency.

In one case, according to Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary, the furniturue made the difference of getting along or asking charity.

Such was the case when the Associated Charities furnished the basic furniture for several needy couples who found they could finance an unfurnished but not a furnished apartment.

Miss Bonig said the nine or 10-man crew at the workshop is kept busy repairing and painting furniture and toys which has been donated to the agency.

Unemployed men, she said, are no longer asking for money for food orders or rent, but instead ask for as many days work, at $5 a day, as they need.

The cost in money is the same, she said, but it goes three or four times as far when it is paid to help tide over those in need of assistance.

On hand, and in usable condition, are some 15 beds, about a dozen tables, dozens of chairs and at least a dozen rugs.

There are even a number of refrigerators and iceboxes, several washers, a few stoves, a sewing machine or two, and several sofas.

Miss Bonig reports that some furniture, which looks hopeless when it arrives, ends up ready for years of service after the men use a little ingenuity and whatever kind of paint is available at the time.

Many of the things, she said, would have ended up at the city dump had they not been collected and repaired.

In between furniture jobs, the men repair toys which will be used by the agency this Christmas. Some 2,000 toys have already been repaired and packed, ready for distribution.

Plow Hitching Demonstration Set

Plow hitching demonstrations will be held on Thursday in this area, according to County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

They will be held at 10 a. m. at the farm of J. S. Teter, on Route 40 at the foot of Martin Mountain and at 2:30 p. m. at the Charles S. Harvey farm in Shaft.

Steger said that Guy Gienger, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, will put on the demonstrations, and has given such demonstrations all over the state on the proper adjustment of tractor plows for a more efficient and better job of plowing.

Frostburg Man Is Held Here In Forgery

A 29-year-old Frostburg man is being held in Allegany County Jail on a charge of forgery, officials at the State's Attorney's office said yesterday.

James Albert Krouse allegedly forged the name of his employer, Kenneth McLaughlin of Flintstone, to a check which he cashed April 6 in the amount of $79.92, County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said.

Krouse was questioned extensively in the State's Attorney's office yesterday in the case which also involves the loss of considerable additional money by McLaughlin.

Lilya said Krouse was hired as a trucker for McLaughlin and was sent to pick up a truckload of stee in Indiana.

According to the authorities Krouse was given $50 expense money for the trip. When the defendant picked up his load he allegedly borrowed an advance of $60 against the delivery payment from the company.

Upon delivery of the load of steel at its destination payment of $79.92 was made to McLaughlin by check and given to Krouse to deliver to the Flintstone trucker. Instead, Lilya said, Krouse forged McLaughlin's name and cashed the check at a service station.

In addition to being unable to explain to his employer the use of the money, Krouse also is accused of purchasing more than 300 gallons of gasoline at a local service station and charging it to McLaughlin's account while in his employ.

Lilya said Krouse will be given a preliminary hearing in the matter after local authorities check the man's record with the FBI.

Alfalfa Weevil May Miss This Section

Allegany and Garrett are the only ones among Maryland's 23 counties which are not expected to suffer extensive damage from the alfalfa weevil.

Theodore Bissell, University of Maryland extension entomologist, says farmers should get their spray equipment in order. The first cutting of alfalfa may also be damaged by the meadow spittlebug and the pea aphid. The potato leafhopper causes damage to later cuttings of the crop.

All of these insects may be controlled by timely spraying with insecticides, Bissell says. He recommends using heptachlor, malathion, lindane, methoxychlor, toxophene or dieldrin for the various insects and crops.

Five Area High School Seniors To Get National Certificate Of Merit Honors

Five boys and girls from the Tri-State area are among more than 4,300 topnotch high school seniors from every state in the nation who have just been awarded Certificates of Merit by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

These students are all estimated to be in the top one half of one per cent in ability of all high school seniors. The NMSC has been conducting a nationwide hunt for students best able to benefit from a college education.

Names of the certificate winners are being circulated among colleges, universities and other scholarship granting agencies in the United States. This list of talented students is the most comprehensive ever distributed in this country.

The 4,300 were screened from 60,000 seniors, nominated by their high school principals to take the first NMSC test last October, when more than $1 million in scholarships was announced as available.

Since then 16 leading U. S. corporations have joined in the merit scholarship program, adding $1 million to the total. This million dollars has been matched by the NMSC so that three million dollars' worth of scholarships are now available for the coming school year. The merit scholar program is thus the largest private scholarship program in American history.

The 504 students who have been offered four-year merit scholarships will be named in a list to be made available after May 15. They are not among the certificate winners.

Certificate winners from this area include Betty Joan Beck, 812 Edgewood Drive, an Allegany High School senior, who would like a career in nursing or education. She is one of 47 Marylanders on the list.

The 321 Pennsylvanians who are getting certificates include Helen K. Davis, Railroad Avenue, Saxton, in Bedford County, a student at Saxton-Liberty High School, who plans to major in English, and Frederick B. Shaffer Jr., 463 West Union Street, Somerset, Somerset County, a Somerset Joint High School senior, whose college major will be physics.

Among the 55 West Virginia certificate winners are Rebecca E. Green, 53 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, a Piedmont High School senior who plans a pre-medical course, and John L. Gainer of Tunnelton, Preston County, a Tunnelton High School student who plans to major in chemical engineering in college.

Music Student To Present Organ Recital At College

Miss Shirley Brinkman, 1005 Virginia Avenue, a junior music major at West Virginia Wesleyan College, will be presented in her junior organ recital tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Atkinson chapel at the Buckhannon, W. Va., school.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert E. Brinkman and is a student of Prof. Robert E. Shafer of the Wesleyan music faculty.

While at Wesleyan, she has been active for the past three years as a member of the choir and she has acted as organist during the choir tours.

Miss Brinkman is second vice president of Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta national social sorority, chairman of the Cultural Enrichment Committee, a member of the Canterbury Club, and organist and choir director at the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration.

Her recital program will include "Herr Gott, dich loben alle wir," by Pachelbel; "Fantasia" and "Fugue in G Minor," by Bach; "Prelude and Fugue," by Liszt; "Claire de Lune," Karg-Elert; and "Les Cloches De Hinckley," Vierne.

Chamber Wants Area Included In Roads Plan

Protests Omission Of Routes 40, 220

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has asked federal and state officials to include Route 40 and Route 220 in the proposed national system of interstate highways.

The request was made by C. William Gilchrist, president, in letters to Sen. Dennis Chavez, chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Works; Rep. George H. Fallon, chairman of the House Committee on Public Works; the director of the Bureau of Public Roads and to Russell H. McCain, chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission.

Gilchrist said the Chamber has checked the map of general location of the proposed highways and is deeply concerned about the failure of planners to include either Route 40 or 220 in the system in this area.

Rt. 40 Shorter

From the map, he said, it appears the only east-west route between the far northern section of Pennsylvania and the far southern section of Virginia and West Virginia, an airline distance of some 350 miles, is one which parallels, or will in fact be, the Pennsylvania Turnpike, a toll road.

There is no north-south route shown, the Camber said, between a route passing through Scranton and Harrisburg, Pa., Hagerstown and Lexington, Va., and one running from Cleveland through Columbus to Cincinnati.

Route 40, linking Ohio, the Great Lakes area and the Ohio River Valley with Baltimore, Washington and the South, he pointed out, would be a more practical and shorter route.

If the interstate road is to be new construction, Gilchrist said, the right of way cost would be far less through this area than it could be through the area to the north.

In the entire Appalachian area, Route 220 is the only direct north-south route, all the way from New York State to the Tennessee-Virginia section, Gilchrist said.

Automobile and truck routes are of unusual importance, it was pointed out, since north-south rail facilities in this area are very limited.

Ask Federal Report

The Chamber official asked federal authorities to forward a copy of the interstate highway report in order to get more information than was included in a map showing the general route of the highway plan.

He said the Chamber is disturbed by the omission of a large section of Western Maryland and the eastern inter-mountain area from the benefits of the program.

Many of the labor-surplus areas of the nation, he said, are located in this general region, and to ignore them would further complicate the problems they are trying to solve.

He asked the planners of the program to see if something can be done to protect the portions of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia which are omitted from the program.

Church Planned On Mountain

Another church will be constructed near the crest of Martin Mountain to replace the basement-only church which has been bought by the State Roads Commission because part of the land is needed for construction of the new U. S. Route 40 over the mountain.

Rev. Bernard M. Roof, pastor of the Evangelical Methodist Church, Monday got a permit at the Court House to build a 36 by 56 foot concrete block church on the north side of U. S. Route 40 near Elliott's Motel.

Construction of the $6,000 church is scheduled for completion by October 1. The congregation had been worshiping in a church only the basement of which had been completed.

G. William Dayton, RFD 3, Keyser, obtained a permit from the County Assessing Department to build a 20 by 30 foot cement block warehouse on Maryland Avenue in McCoole. Estimated cost is $1,500.

Three Local Women Injured In Mishap

Three local women were injured, two of them being hospitalized, yesterday morning in a highway crash east of Hancock involving two vehicles.

Reported in good condition at Memorial Hospital are Mrs. Thomas Richards, 843 Mt. Royal Avenue, and Mrs. William Britt, 147½ Bedford Street.

Mrs. Edward Athey, 838 Gephart Drive, was injured and later treated at the hospital. X-rays were taken of Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Britt, attaches said.

The three women were traveling toward Baltimore, according to attaches, when the car driven by Mrs. Britt collided with a truck a few miles east of Hancock.

Rec Board To Meet

The City Recreation Board will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

In Memoriam

In memory of my dear son, James Floyd Boone, who passed away suddenly, April 11, 1943.
I really miss you, Jimmie, dear,
Since God took you away.
And this day, more than ever,
This is my sad day.
With a broken heart, I watched you,
Saw you pass away,
And though I loved you dearly,
I could not make you stay.
I was standing at your bedside
And saw your life depart.
And when my heart knew you were gone,
It almost broke my heart.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But no, it isn't true,
For many long months have passed away,
And my heart still aches for you.
Loving Mother, NELLIE BOONE

Area Towns Tell Of Needs For Taming River

Ask Flood Control, Regulation Of Flow

Officials of the Tri-Towns area yesterday testified to the need of taming the North Branch of the Potomac River in that area.

Needs of the area which suffered extensive damage during hurricane floods in 1954 and 1955 were related at a hearing conducted in Westernport by the Corps of Engineers, which is embarking on a comprehensive study leading to the development of the water resources of the entire Potomac River Basin.

The hearing was conducted by Col. Ray Adams, district engineer of the Washington District, Army Corps of Engineers.

Full backing of the study was pledged by Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W. Va. 2d), who has proposed that a series of dams be built to control floods and spread the flow of the river over the entire year.

More dams are needed, according to J. B. Dowling, chief of the Sanitation Section of the Allegany County Health Department.

Need Dams, Water

Suitable locations are available for the dams, he said, and more water is needed, both for industrial domestic supplies in the Cumberland area.

Control of pollution should be included in the plan, Dowling said in recounting the effect of sewage from communities of Western Maryland.

The West Virginia State Road Commission is interested in the program, reported C. L. Bowers, Charleston, since floods cause considerable damage to roads of the state.

Westernport is vitally interested in flood control, reported Westernport Mayor Okey Michael. Dikes built along the stream in WPA days, he said, have been beneficial but expensive to maintain.

John Luke III, manager of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, said the greatest needs are more flood protection and regulation of the flow of the river.

Reduced Damage

The Savage River Dam, he said, has helped considerably. During Hurricane Hazel, he said, the plant suffered $62,000 damage.

Without the dam, the river would have been 2½ feet higher and damage, direct and indirect, would have been over $2,000,000, he reported.

Further regulation by small and large dams is needed, said J. G. Patrick, supervisory engineer for the Savage River Dam.

Piedmont needs adequate flood protection, said Mayor Rodney Baker after recounting how that town last fall cleared the channel of the river through a $3,000 fund contributed by citizens.

Hearings Set Today

The Corps of Engineers study will include a thorough engineering, economic and social survey of the basin region and will consider water supply for domestic, agricultural and industrial purposes, flood control, soil conservation, pollution abatement, hydroelectric power, fish and wild life and recreation.

The survey was initiated with four public hearings on the North Branch of the Potomac River above Cumberland and Ridgeley.

Hearings were held yesterday at Westernport and Keyser, W.Va., and continue today at Bayard, W.Va., and Kitzmiller, providing individuals and organizations in the affected area an opportunity to present pertinent information and data and to make known their desires and problems for consideration in the study.

Col. Adams explained that the hearings on the North Branch are being held first because of the urgent requirements for flood control in that area which suffered extensive damage during the hurricane floods of October 1954 and August 1955.

Papers Seek Old Photos For Local Use

The Cumberland News and the Cumberland Evening Times will publish "old fashioned" editions April 26 and want an "assist" from their readers.

Last year after similar editions were printed many photographs of old time scenes were offered for publication. Now is the time to bring these photographs again to the Times-News office. The older the photograph, the better. The pictures should be of subjects in the greater Cumberland area.

The name and address of the owner should be printed in ink on the back of the photographs which will be returned to the owners.

This is an opportunity to let your neighbors share something of the past from Cumberland. Bring or send your old photographs to the Times-News editorial office not later than April 18.

Local Methodist Minister Is Named Pastor Emeritus

DR. CRATES S. JOHNSON

Rev. Dr. Crates S. Johnson will be honored by members of Central Methodist Church during the worship service Sunday when he will be officially installed as pastor emeritus of the church.

The Quarterly Conference selected Dr. Johnson for his "outstanding service, unselfish devotion, and untiring efforts toward the advancement of Central Methodist Church."

The award will be presented by Ernest R. Spriggs, church lay leader. Dr. Johnson served as a supply pastor of the local church from September 15, 1948, to June 8, 1952.

While serving in this capacity, he was instrumental in building an addition to the church for use by the children's division of the church school and as a fellowship hall.

Born in Morristown, Ind., he was graduated from Moores Hill College, Evansville, Ind. Entering the ministry in 1903, he served pastorates in Indianapolis, Ind., Tiffen and Columbus, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Johnson was editor of the church school literature of the Methodist Protestant Church from 1924 to 1939. He was a delegate to the Uniting Conference in 1939, when the Methodist Episcopal, the Methodist Episcopal South, and the Methodist Protestant churches were united. Later he went to Nashville, Tenn., as a member of the editorial staff of the church school literature of the Methodist Church, continuing in that relation until his official retirement in 1945.

Dr. Johnson was a trustee of Adrian (Mich.) College, and received his D.D. degree from that institution. He is now serving his third term as president of the Retired Ministers Association of the North East Ohio Annual Conference, of which he is a member.

Dr. Johnson maintains a study at 128 Union Street and does freelance writing. For the past three years he has written a weekly column for The Cumberland News, under the pen name of Brother Barnabas. He resides with his daughter, Mrs. Norman O. Scribner, 107 Luteman Road.

Keegan Keeps George Mahoney On Run Here

Stop Fire Chief While Shaving

CUMBERLAND, April 10 (AP) — William V. Keegan, jovial police commissioner of this Western Maryland city, kept George P. Mahoney on the run today in his Allegany County vote tour for the Democratic Senate nomination.

"Come on, George," Keegan would say, "don't stand so long with one vote. We have a lot of territory to cover."

So the Mahoney entourage swept quickly through Cumberland before moving on to a long list of outlying towns in the George's Creek Valley.

"If you're a friend of Bill Keegan's, that makes it official," said a pretty brunette as she shook hands with the candidate.

Mahoney and Keegan interrupted Fire Chief V. A. Parker in the middle of shaving in his quarters above the fire house.

On Liberty Street, Mahoney stopped to direct a truck backing into an alley. "Come on back, come on back, you have plenty of room," Mahoney called to the driver. And when the truck was safely in the alley with its load of frozen meat, Mahoney introduced himself to the driver.

There was one potential voter who didn't have a smile for Mahoney.

"Excuse me," she said, "I just got back from the dentist. He gave me a shot of novocaine and I can't smile."

Mahoney started the day by breakfasting with Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Committee and one of Mahoney's supporters. Two other supporters at the breakfast were Peter J. Carpenti, a lawyer, and William C. Burns, vice president of the Cumberland Young Democrats.

All but one of the county committeemen are backing Mahoney.

Tomorrow, Mahoney heads farther west into Garrett County.

In Baltimore today, Paul J. Reed, manager of Mahoney's city campaign, issued a statement in which he noted that Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, who is backing Millard E. Tydings for the Senate nomination, once found Tydings' record "very poor, indeed."

He said D'Alesandro, as a congressman in 1938, "found himself on the opposite side from Senator Tydings on almost every important issue. That was very comendable of Mr. D'Alesandro then," Reed said. "He shouldn't undo his good work now by identifying himself with a man who voted consistently against the interests of the 'little man' D'Alesandro always says he champions."

After leaving Cumberland, Mahoney was accompanied by Finan and Keegan on a "shoe-leather" campaign along the main street of every town from Frostburg to Westernport.

More Power Asked For River Group

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Power to regulate pollution control is proposed for the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin by Rep. Hyde (R-Md).

Hyde offered today a measure to permit the states in the Potomac River Basin compact to extend to the commission the power to regulate.

Anti-pollution measures now pending fail to provide the commission with authority to make surveys effective, Hyde said.

The compact, among Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, must be enlarged to include regulatory powers, Hyde said.

"Unless this is done," he added, "the Congress is placed in the position of invading the contract between the states and of attempting to impose on the commission specific duties not now in the compact.

"Concurrence of the parties to the agreement must be obtained. My legislation removes any doubt about congressional consent to enlarging the scope of the compact."

Baptists Schedule Clinic Tomorrow

Tydings Says US Must Be Strong Without Waste

Calls War Threat Greatest Problem

BALTIMORE, April 10 (AP)—Millard E. Tydings said tonight the United States must "stay strong without waste" until "the futility of whole world as an armed camp will dawn upon our potential enemies."

In a speech prepared for television, the former Maryland senator and candidate for Democratic nomination to his old post said continued strength and constant work for a "gangster-proof peace" are the answer to "the greatest single problem before all of civilized man."

Discussing the international picture over a three-station hook-up from Baltimore (WBAL-TV), Salisbury (WBOC-TV) and Washington (WTTG), Tydings reviewed tensions in the Far East, Middle East, and Mediterranean.

"In the meantime, such countries as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia struggle behind the Iron Curtain for freedom," he added.

"When the present administration took over in January, 1953, it stated it was going to do everything it could to liberate these countries whose people are virtually dominated from Moscow.

Threat Of War

"The world is pretty well divided in two hostile camps, and while war does not at the moment seem imminent on a worldwide scale, the threat continually hangs over all Christendom."

Tydings suggested an annual review of "our military commitments so as not to subject our people to taxes which are unnecessarily burdensome and at the same time keep our essential strength."

Then, he added, he believes that "as time unfolds the futility of the whole world as an armed camp will dawn upon our potential enemies (and) they will come to know that the money now being poured out by them in military purposes could, if used to further the welfare of their own people, raise the standard of living, education, religion and all the other attributes of civilization to a plane somewhat comparable to that enjoyed by the free world."

Earlier in his speech Tydings noted that of 66 billion dollars President Eisenhower asked Congress to appropriate for the coming year, nearly 37 billion was requested for national defense.

The former senator also compared reports of United States and Soviet armed strength and advances in nuclear weapons.

Could Cripple Nation

"It has been stated that one modern hydrogen bomb dropped in the center of any great city would wipe out most of the population and leave countless thousands wounded and injured, to say nothing of the destruction of property," he said.

"Therefore, as one who served for 24 years on the Armed Services Committee of the Senate, it has always been something of a puzzle to me why certain groups of our population give to this, the gravest of all national problems, a degree of relative thought far less than they give to other problems before our government."

If elected Tydings said, he would devote himself to "the keeping of the peace, God willing, to keep of our nation strong to continue negotiations with our potential enemies, to lessen the threat of war, and to doing it with the least possible financial burden upon our people which the stark naked facts of life will justify."

Lucky Bucks

The "buck" you mail for Easter Seals will be lucky for some crippled child in Allegany County.

Thousands of Allegany countians received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and so far approximately $7,000 has been realized from the distribution. Much more is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section.

Don't hold back if you have not yet mailed your money for the seals. It's possible that the buck you haven't returned is the dollar that will be needed to reach the goal.

Historical Exhibit Opens

Mrs. Margaret Rice of Bedford Road and Mrs. Robert M. Bruce of 223 Washington Street were among scores of visitors to the Allegany County Historical Society's exhibition who stopped to admire this table setting of old cut glass. The society's exhibit of historical items opened yesterday afternoon and will continue through Sunday, from 1 to 9 p. m. each day.

$7,026 Reported In Easter Seal Campaign Here

Percentage Leader Now Is Ellerslie

Some $7,026.30 already has been reported in the 12th annual Easter Seal campaign in behalf of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the league, announced yesterday that additional funds are coming in each day as a result of the daily reminders in the Cumberland newspapers.

Mrs. Annan said that of the more than 23,000 letters with seals mailed out to Allegany County residents in March, some 2,800 were returned by the Post Office Department because the addressee had moved or was not known.

The $7,026.30 reported does not include some $747.98 obtained by the Cumberland Eagles and Moose, the Frostburg Moose and the Lonaconing VFW through sale of paper lilies.

William R. Carscaden, again serving as chairman of the campaign, said that about 25 per cent of the letters have brought in contributions to the League for Crippled Children. Ten per cent is considered good in most mail campaigns.

Among the 12 communities which have made the largest contributions in the Easter Seal drive, Ellerslie has the best percentage of contributors, 43.9 per cent. Some 76 out of the 173 Ellerslie residents mailed Easter Seals have sent in contributions.

Next after Ellerslie percentagewise are LaVale, with 31.7 per cent, and Luke, with 29 per cent.

Contributions from the 12 leading communities:

Cumberland, $4,529.50 from 3,567 contributions, 25.2 per cent of 14,135 mailed; Frostburg, $849.50 from 765 contributions, 25.6 per cent of 2,993 mailed; Westernport, $364 from 246 contributions, 18.9 per cent of 1,300 mailed; Lonaconing, $276.50 from 245 contributions, 24 per cent of 1,022 mailed; Mt. Savage, $129.85 from 119 contributions, 18.4 per cent of 646 mailed; Barton, $124.75 from 100 contributions, 24.7 per cent of 405 mailed; Keyser (McCoole to Rawlings area), $87 from 81 contributions, 20.6 per cent of 394 mailed; Luke, $85 from 63 contributions, 29 per cent of 217 mailed; Ellerslie, $76 from 76 contributions, 43.9 per cent of 173 mailed; Midland, $69 from 60 contributions, 22.4 per cent of 268 mailed; LaVale (just those handled by the Post Office there), $67.25 from 52 contributions, 31.7 per cent of 164 mailed; Cresaptown, $62.75 from 66 contributions, 17.2 per cent of 384 mailed.

Workshop Takes 'Charity' Out Of Red Feather Unit

BY C. WESLEY BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

They're taking the "charity" out of the Associated Charities, one of Cumberland's Red Feather agencies, and everybody's happy about it.

The agency's workshop, located opposite City Hall, is providing work for the temporarily unemployed and a lot of usable furniture for the needy.

Since Christmas, the Associated Charities has supplied furniture for six families who lost all their belongings when their homes were destroyed by fire.

Smaller allotments of home furniture have been supplied to many other needy families.

All of the furnishings come from the workshop where it is taken for repair or storage after it is picked up by members of the agency.

In one case, according to Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary, the furniturue made the difference of getting along or asking charity.

Such was the case when the Associated Charities furnished the basic furniture for several needy couples who found they could finance an unfurnished but not a furnished apartment.

Miss Bonig said the nine or 10-man crew at the workshop is kept busy repairing and painting furniture and toys which has been donated to the agency.

Unemployed men, she said, are no longer asking for money for food orders or rent, but instead ask for as many days work, at $5 a day, as they need.

The cost in money is the same, she said, but it goes three or four times as far when it is paid to help tide over those in need of assistance.

On hand, and in usable condition, are some 15 beds, about a dozen tables, dozens of chairs and at least a dozen rugs.

There are even a number of refrigerators and iceboxes, several washers, a few stoves, a sewing machine or two, and several sofas.

Miss Bonig reports that some furniture, which looks hopeless when it arrives, ends up ready for years of service after the men use a little ingenuity and whatever kind of paint is available at the time.

Many of the things, she said, would have ended up at the city dump had they not been collected and repaired.

In between furniture jobs, the men repair toys which will be used by the agency this Christmas. Some 2,000 toys have already been repaired and packed, ready for distribution.

Plow Hitching Demonstration Set

Plow hitching demonstrations will be held on Thursday in this area, according to County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

They will be held at 10 a. m. at the farm of J. S. Teter, on Route 40 at the foot of Martin Mountain and at 2:30 p. m. at the Charles S. Harvey farm in Shaft.

Steger said that Guy Gienger, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, will put on the demonstrations, and has given such demonstrations all over the state on the proper adjustment of tractor plows for a more efficient and better job of plowing.

Frostburg Man Is Held Here In Forgery

A 29-year-old Frostburg man is being held in Allegany County Jail on a charge of forgery, officials at the State's Attorney's office said yesterday.

James Albert Krouse allegedly forged the name of his employer, Kenneth McLaughlin of Flintstone, to a check which he cashed April 6 in the amount of $79.92, County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said.

Krouse was questioned extensively in the State's Attorney's office yesterday in the case which also involves the loss of considerable additional money by McLaughlin.

Lilya said Krouse was hired as a trucker for McLaughlin and was sent to pick up a truckload of steel in Indiana.

According to the authorities Krouse was given $50 expense money for the trip. When the defendant picked up his load he allegedly borrowed an advance of $60 against the delivery payment from the company.

Upon delivery of the load of steel at its destination payment of $79.92 was made to McLaughlin by check and given to Krouse to deliver to the Flintstone trucker. Instead, Lilya said, Krouse forged McLaughlin's name and cashed the check at a service station.

In addition to being unable to explain to his employer the use of the money, Krouse also is accused of purchasing more than 300 gallons of gasoline at a local service station and charging it to McLaughlin's account while in his employ.

Lilya said Krouse will be given a preliminary hearing in the matter after local authorities check the man's record with the FBI.

Alfalfa Weevil May Miss This Section

Allegany and Garrett are the only ones among Maryland's 23 counties which are not expected to suffer extensive damage from the alfalfa weevil.

Theodore Bissell, University of Maryland extension entomologist, says farmers should get their spray equipment in order. The first cutting of alfalfa may also be damaged by the meadow spittlebug and the pea aphid. The potato leafhopper causes damage to later cuttings of the crop.

All of these insects may be controlled by timely spraying with insecticides, Bissell says. He recommends using heptachlor, malathion, lindane, methoxychlor, toxophene or dieldrin for the various insects and crops.

Five Area High School Seniors To Get National Certificate Of Merit Honors

Five boys and girls from the Tri-State area are among more than 4,300 topnotch high school seniors from every state in the nation who have just been awarded Certificates of Merit by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

These students are all estimated to be in the top one half of one per cent in ability of all high school seniors. The NMSC has been conducting a nationwide hunt for students best able to benefit from a college education.

Names of the certificate winners are being circulated among colleges, universities and other scholarship granting agencies in the United States. This list of talented students is the most comprehensive ever distributed in this country.

The 4,300 were screened from 60,000 seniors, nominated by their high school principals to take the first NMSC test last October, when more than $1 million in scholarships was announced as available.

Since then 16 leading U. S. corporations have joined in the merit scholarship program, adding $1 million to the total. This million dollars has been matched by the NMSC so that three million dollars' worth of scholarships are now available for the coming school year. The merit scholar program is thus the largest private scholarship program in American history.

The 504 students who have been offered four-year merit scholarships will be named in a list to be made available after May 15. They are not among the certificate winners.

Certificate winners from this area include Betty Joan Beck, 812 Edgewood Drive, an Allegany High School senior, who would like a career in nursing or education. She is one of 47 Marylanders on the list.

The 321 Pennsylvanians who are getting certificates include Helen K. Davis, Railroad Avenue, Saxton, in Bedford County, a student at Saxton-Liberty High School, who plans to major in English, and Frederick B. Shaffer Jr., 463 West Union Street, Somerset, Somerset County, a Somerset Joint High School senior, whose college major will be physics.

Among the 55 West Virginia certificate winners are Rebecca E. Green, 53 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, a Piedmont High School senior who plans a pre-medical course, and John L. Gainer of Tunnelton, Preston County, a Tunnelton High School student who plans to major in chemical engineering in college.

Chamber Wants Area Included In Roads Plan

Protests Omission Of Routes 40, 220

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has asked federal and state officials to include Route 40 and Route 220 in the proposed national system of interstate highways.

The request was made by C. William Gilchrist, president, in letters to Sen. Dennis Chavez, chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Works; Rep. George H. Fallon, chairman of the House Committee on Public Works; the director of the Bureau of Public Roads and to Russell H. McCain, chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission.

Gilchrist said the Chamber has checked the map of general location of the proposed highways and is deeply concerned about the failure of planners to include either Route 40 or 220 in the system in this area.

Rt. 40 Shorter

From the map, he said, it appears the only east-west route between the far northern section of Pennsylvania and the far southern section of Virginia and West Virginia, an airline distance of some 350 miles, is one which parallels, or will in fact be, the Pennsylvania Turnpike, a toll road.

There is no north-south route shown, the Camber said, between a route passing through Scranton and Harrisburg, Pa., Hagerstown and Lexington, Va., and one running from Cleveland through Columbus to Cincinnati.

Route 40, linking Ohio, the Great Lakes area and the Ohio River Valley with Baltimore, Washington and the South, he pointed out, would be a more practical and shorter route.

If the interstate road is to be new construction, Gilchrist said, the right of way cost would be far less through this area than it could be through the area to the north.

Just as striking an omission, the letter pointed out, is the north-south area served by U. S. 220.

In the entire Appalachian area, Route 220 is the only direct north-south route, all the way from New York State to the Tennessee-Virginia section, Gilchrist said.

Automobile and truck routes are of unusual importance, it was pointed out, since north-south rail facilities in this area are very limited.

Ask Federal Report

The Chamber official asked federal authorities to forward a copy of the interstate highway report in order to get more information than was included in a map showing the general route of the highway plan.

He said the Chamber is disturbed by the omission of a large section of Western Maryland and the eastern inter-mountain area from the benefits of the program.

Many of the labor-surplus areas of the nation, he said, are located in this general region, and to ignore them would further complicate the problems they are trying to solve.

He asked the planners of the program to see if something can be done to protect the portions of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia which are omitted from the program.

Church Planned On Mountain

Another church will be constructed near the crest of Martin Mountain to replace the basement-only church which has been bought by the State Roads Commission because part of the land is needed for construction of the new U. S. Route 40 over the mountain.

Rev. Bernard M. Roof, pastor of the Evangelical Methodist Church, Monday got a permit at the Court House to build a 36 by 56 foot concrete block church on the north side of U. S. Route 40 near Elliott's Motel.

Construction of the $6,000 church is scheduled for completion by October 1. The congregation had been worshiping in a church only the basement of which had been completed.

G. William Dayton, RFD 3, Keyser, obtained a permit from the County Assessing Department to build a 20 by 30 foot cement block warehouse on Maryland Avenue in McCoole. Estimated cost is $1,500.
